FOOTBALL CHANGES

Another shift change has been made in the football schedule. The changes are in order to provide more time for the hockey team this year. The Thursday evening game will now start at 7 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. as it has for the last two years. This was the last change of last year.

The previous change, the Wednesday afternoon game, did not have been extended to 5:30 p.m. in order to allow more time for the hockey team. The previous change, the Wednesday afternoon game, did not have been extended to 5:30 p.m. in order to allow more time for the hockey team.

Letters To The Editor

I would like to draw a comment on the article in your paper of November 7, 1966, regarding the proposed changes to the Port Saskatchewan Senior Hockey League. I am a member of the league and I am very disappointed in the changes. I hope you can help me in my efforts to get the league back to its former glory.

CARD OF THANKS

The Jewish cemetery in the West District and Cedar would like to thank all the members who donated to the bikkie sale.

I wish to thank the many friends and neighbors who supported me. I was so grateful to be in the role of "cousin Jane" in the play. The delicious food and amount of tickets sold on my behalf were truly an overwhelming and much appreciated gift. —Cheryl Reyer

I would like to thank our many relatives, friends and neighbors who attended the bikkie sale. I am grateful to all the members of a committee and city of London, during our very hot, busy evening. —Mrs. George Goldschmidt

According to Dr. Walter Alvarez, Emeritus Con- sultant to the Mayo Clinic in the field of cancer of the prostate gland, the best answer may be a prostate biopsy. When taking no action, says a Yale surgeon, is one sure way of losing it. The biopsy may be necessary.

Early blood count results are not expected to be too helpful, says Dr. Alvarez, but for people with a revealed prostate gland, a biopsy is a good idea. It is not a sure answer for prostate, usually a daily course of treatment is necessary.

There have been a complete range of cancer drugs and treatments.

Carols Make Decorating Theme

This Christmas, choose a theme from the words of one of your favorite carols and express it in meaning through the creative use of color in your Yuletide decorations.

Here are a few of the best known Christmas songs from which you could select a mood for your decorating scheme: Joy to the world! the Lord is come. . . . Hark! the herald angels sing, Glory to the new-born king: Peace on earth and mercy mild. . . .

Silent night! Holy night! All is calm, all is bright. . . . O little town of Bethlehem. . . . Above thy deep and dreamless sleep the silent stars go by. . . .

Your whole family can have fun with this project, suggesting carols they particularly love, and applying the chosen theme with the predominant color of your chosen paints. Carefully plan the effect you want to achieve before you begin.

For instance, it would be an original and thoughtful setting for all the activity and excitement to provide a mood of peace and contentment using blues, whites and metallic touches. Don't worry if you don't plan to use red. You will have plenty of this familiar tone supplied by gift wrappings, stockings, berries and seasonal flowers in the room.

There is a definite language of colors; they produce certain thoughts and feelings, and understanding a few of the ideas associated with them will be useful in your preparations.

Color Meanings
According to color experts at Pittsburgh Fine Glass, makers of spray enamels in many Christmas hues, there is a reason for our seasonal preference for certain shades: Bright, warm colors like orange and red suggest warmth, glory and joy. Green is associated with hope and life everlasting. A neutral, sage green is the evergreen as a symbol of immortality, in its survival winter's cold, keeping its living color. This idea of rebirth explains our present use of holy, joy, and salvation, for they too are evergreen.

Light, cool colors of blue turquoise, and violet are calm and secure. Blue, particularly, expresses restfulness, truth and dependability. White means purity, peace, faith and joy. Silver symbolizes birth, purity, the spirit, and the promise of happy times, while gold stands for royalty and power. At the gifts of the Three Wise Men comes the gold of Bethlehem and Caesar — gold meant that Christ was acknowledged as King of men.

Gift of Peace
After you have decided on a general color scheme, try to keep the mood simple. Limit yourself to three. Here are some ideas: blue and white, and your Christmas message into decorations that your whole family will enjoy creating.

The tree could set the stage for a blue theme of Peace and Contentment. After sprays with blue enamel, you can vary the usual tint and both by painting and gliding colors to hang on the boughs. Glid variations of uncooked macaroni, threaded on a string, and glass to form bells for attractive tree ornaments. Stars and ovals can be cut from fabric remnants, attached to a cardboard backing and hung by thread from branches. Use a gold dot for a star for the top of the tree.

Color Gliding
An effective treatment for wreaths is to spray them in metallic silver or gold — white enamel. If you prefer — and using them with popcorn, colored macaroni and painted dry corn kernels. Top this with a splash of "granary" paint. Try using muted light blues in your chosen color to give an interesting contrast to different areas, and provide a general feeling of restfulness. You will be amazed at the transformation you can create with light and color.

Color Gliding
Make breathtaking chandeliers out of glass cones that have been spray painted. Colored various sizes and shapes, and string them together with fine picture wire, putting the largest ones in the center.

Another way to light up your Christmas scene is with garlands of berries and lights. From the base of each with an assortment of cranberries, sprayed pines and mallets.

The result is sure to be a harmonious and imaginative outdoor Christmas that will bring you singing peace, and give new meaning to your family holiday pleasure.

Carols From Dance Tunes

Christmas carols originated around the 19th century, when traditional dance melodies were adapted to religious texts. Musicians welcomed something livelier than the old Latin hymns and chants.

Carols were written by clergymen, poets, composers, peasants, and scholars vagabonds, those products of European universities who were "equally at home in a house, in a hall, in a marketplace, or in cloister."

Songs Inspired
Hundreds of carols were written in England between 1400 and 1600; the year the Puritan Parliament abolished Christmas celebrations and suppressed carols. Though songs were kept alive by oral tradition and

If you're old enough to be caught working under the mistletoe, then you're old enough to try your hand decorating with it — and with other Christmas greens.

VARIOUS THEMES ARE POPULAR

Preference in Christmas trees varies across the country, with holly and Douglas fir probably the Eastern favorites because they retain needles two to three weeks indoors.

North poets are growing in favor of Norway spruce makes an inviting medium: semi-evergreen trees, but it sheds needles soon in a warm room. Juniper and hemlock, while fine as Christmas greens, do not make ideal indoor trees.

If you have no fireplace, a large mirror centered over a bookcase, serving chest or long table can hold packages or Christmas cards and "center" your room decorations and provide a focal point — while reflecting Christmas from every view.

Christmas Symbols Ancient

Shavings, being by the fire-pole... a jolly little man in a red suit... Christmas mink — no matter what you favorite Christmas symbol, you can be sure that it has a fascinating beginning.

The symbolic use of the tree, for example, dates back at least 4,000 years, to a time when the Egyptians celebrated in honor of their smoged during the month corresponding to our December. This was the season of rejoicing and the pine tree became its symbol.

As to the origin of the Christmas tree, we must move forward in time to the days of Rome. Writed in the 7th century. On one occasion, he found among a crowd of his courtiers, he tried to induce their attention of all connections with heathen religions by cutting down a great oak. As told in the north, the oak split into four pieces and — to the amusement of the converts — a young fir was used to grow upon passing toward the green grass from the center.

Legend Related

Legend has it that St. Nicholas knew an old nobleman who was very poor but did not want anyone to know of his dire need. Wishing to give him a gift of money, the bishop crept to a window of the house and, seeing the old gentleman asleep by the fire, climbed to the roof and dropped the money down the chimney. However, it so happened that the nobleman's daughter had hung some stockings to dry by the fire, the money fell into one of them, and the custom of hanging Christmas stockings by the fireplace has begun.

Malice is another symbol of Christmas from the annals of legend. The ancient Druids thought it was sacred and hung sprigs of the plant over their doorways for luck. To the Romans, however, mistletoe was an indication of peace and goodwill. From myth and custom over the years, mistletoe became a symbol of love, and

Another favorite Christmas symbol among children is, of course, Santa Claus. Did you know that jolly St. Nick actually existed? It's a fact! The historical St. Nicholas was a popular saint who lived in the fourth century — and who this lifetime was Bishop of Myra in Asia Minor. He was reputed to be very rich and it is said that he loved to make anonymous journeys bearing secret gifts of the unfortunate.

SANTA'S ORIGIN

Tradition says the original Santa Claus was St. Nicholas, a 4th century bishop in Asia Minor who gave gifts to the young and poor. The North American Santa Claus, however, evolved from the St. Nicholas of the 13th century in New York. The transformation was completed with Dr. Clement Clarke Moore's 1823 classic, A Visit From St. Nicholas. Today, even a Tokyo department store has a jolly Santa figure.

The postnatal infant American flower is that area's major contribution to the United States' folklore.

inevitably, the custom evolved of hanging under the mistletoe. In a way, all the symbols of Christmas we use during the holiday season — from decorating the tree and hanging under the mistletoe, to buying Christmas cards and hanging stockings by the fireplace — have the same root: "A very happy Christmas, and a prosperous New Year to all!"

Holiday Candles Fun To Make

Shedding Tears

For this candle you will need paraffin, plum paint, coloring and a large cone mould. Begin by melting the wax in the mould, being very sure to seal well at the bottom.

Now melt the paraffin over boiling water to a temperature of 140°F. This was should be tinted a bright red because it will become Santa's tail hair. The mould should be two-thirds full, allow this to set completely in a water bath. Prick and refill as the wax cools and shrinks.

Because the remaining one third of the mould will become Santa's face, melt more wax and tint it with pink to give a nice rosy flush color. Allow to completely harden before up-moulding.

The features are painted with the plastic paint. If you want to give Santa the additional touch of white whiskers and a few freckles, add these with a fine brush. The shop paraffin with a melt point of 145°F and add three tablespoons of stearic acid per pound. Then wrap and apply.

The square brick chimney is a shell made in a square mould. No wax is needed. Melt and pour white paraffin to the desired height in the mould. The temperature should be at 190°F. Place the mould carefully in a water bath of about 65°F. You may have to use a weight to keep the mould from floating. Allow the mould to set until a film about 1/8 inch thick has formed over the surface of the paraffin. You will want the walls to be about 1/4-inch thick. Remove the mould from the bath and with a paring knife cut a square out of the chimney leaving a hollow shell of an all sides. Remove this square of excess paraffin. Let the shell cool until firm for un-moulding.

Color It Red

Melt more paraffin and coat the outside of the shell red. When this has cooled, carefully add a small amount of white paraffin to the inside of the shell. The shell will then be surrounded by white "moss."

Set on a Styrofoam base and decorate with fluffy snow, made from white whipped paraffin. First melt the paraffin, then pour into a foil plate and cool until a white film forms, then with a fork, make it as ready place a candle in a votive glass, inside the chimney and set on a base. The candle will climb into the chimney. We got our from the variety store. When the votive light is lit, it will glow through the chimney walls. Just wait until the children see this one.

NOVEL CANDLES

EMERGENCY

For candles that are more than just lights try these unusual decorations ideas:

Christmas Angels: Mould a pure white or pale pink candle in a frosted white glass. Paint paper angels here and there.

Holiday Glimmer: Mould a blue or green candle in a white frosted glass. (Or make your own frosting by covering the glass with glue and rolling in glitter and Epsom salts.) Decorate the base with a narrow vertical ribbon.

Star Lights: Paint apples. Place faces on wooden egg cups and insert candles. Paper lace refills around the neck of the egg cup turn the points into choirs.

King Kides: Tense gold shell and stretch to a candle in a tall glass. Using more glue, dust on sequins and glitter. Match the sequins to the candle color.

Dolls Make:

Dolls Make: Spray a layer cake pan with gold. When dry fill with pine branches, cones, and small Christmas bells. Insert and anchor several stars.

In France a portion of the Epiphany cake is often set aside as "la part de Dieu"—God's share. It is given to the first poor person who comes to the door.

der tapers. For a frosty effect, sprinkle the greens with a mixture of pebbles and real flowers.

Star Bright: Edge the rim of a votive candle glass with sequins and scatter more over the sides. Finish with a ribbon band.

Polka Dots: The Christmas Mould a candle in a lovely silver or gold and securely anchor the candle of your choice. Then place the outside of the glass with random placed colored liquid soap.

Children Like Sensible Toys

Psychologists have come up with some interesting facts which show that children prefer some sensible toys to play with — games and other current TV games notwithstanding.

Market experts confirm what psychologists say — the reason simple toys are popular year after year is that children like them more than fancy, gimmicky toys that crash and burn and ultimately don't do anything. Given a choice, youngsters tend to pick games, racing cars and old standbys such as marbles and electric trains in preference to most of the high-advertised fad items.

What is behind the surge in sale of what toy buyers for major chain stores call "staple toys?"

Play behavior

"A child's play is a serious occupation," says well-known child psychologist and parent Arthur Jersild. Most psychologists agree that when a child is "at play" he is usually working to arrange the experiences and materials of his small world to express himself, and boys learning to deal with the larger adult world he views around him.

Confronted with a hectic and overwhelming adult world, the child may seek to create order through play. Psychologist Lawrence Frank has observed: "...as play the child can manipulate objects, rapidly change and rearrange his smaller world of toys and materials; and if given the time, materials and opportunity to experiment in his own way, he finds himself, right himself when he has gone astray and gradually learns how to get along with himself and with others in a large and complex world."

In her illuminating book Understanding Children's Play, Ruth E. Harris says: "A child needs to let himself be between the real and the unreal." One of the best ways a through reality is to surround with the child the things he fantasizes without being his way.

She adds: "Through building and controlling airplanes, cars, trucks, and trains, children participate in the extraordinary powers of the real world and express their desire to control things — and people that dominate the world. They bring out as an effective link between the observed image of the excellent world and the world of the child's own fantasy and desire."

Science Kits

Quality staple toys offer as much fun and excitement as flashy fads — and usually last far longer. The number and variety of toys is impressive this year as always, but some of the headline items are science kits with scores of hundred experiments and electronic devices, operating "play" toys which can that function both on and off the track, and a full line of time-to-matter and games. A leading maker of staple toys, Toys 'n' Things, children's photographic and science-oriented books, says have been selling well since 1966, with one science kit showing the best volume in recent years.

It seems highly probable that the trend toward children's toys that function both on and off the track, and a full line of time-to-matter and games, will continue to be a leading volume in recent years.

Dr. Robert Oppenheimer said recently in an address to a science group that "the child's science is not a science, it is a way of life."

Colorful Salad Adds Glamour

The table is dressed for Christmas, and never looked so inviting, with a glistening jeweled centerpiece and colorful, tasty, tempting holiday fare.

Dainty stemmed glasses are a shapely for the vivid Christmas salad which serves as a meal starter or accompaniment to roast turkey. Cubes of Tomato, grape and light green avocado plasma form the red and green jewels.

The unusual salad gives the cook an opportunity to show off prowess for planning a distinctive Christmas table. The reputation-building results are worth the effort.

This attractive salad fits the busy holiday schedule as the plasma can be made one day and the salad assembled the next. In fact, the cubes hold their shape best when the plasma is chilled overnight. Cut the cubes with a sharp knife which has been dipped in hot water, then unmold onto waxed paper or remove with a spoon.

The red and green jewels can be served on lettuce-lined plates or piled into sherbet glasses and garnished with a sprig of watercress.

Wisemen Gave Symbolic Gifts

We three kings of the Orient brought gifts to honor the Christ Jesus.

Many legends have grown up around the three Wise Men who followed the bright star to Bethlehem.

Some historians believe the Magi were Melchior, ruler of Arabia and Arabia, Balthasar of Ethiopia and Caspar of Persia. They are usually depicted as representing the three ages of man: Melchior as an old, long-bearded man, Balthasar as middle-aged and Caspar as a tall, beardless youth. All the words "Magi" mean "astrologer" and were given to the priest - teacher - astrologers of ancient Media and Persia.

According to legend, the three Magi lost their guiding star in Jerusalem. King Herod sent for them. We told the Wise Men to search diligently for the infant and bring word back of His whereabouts.

They continued on their way and stopped at a well to refresh themselves and their camels. When they looked into the well they saw their lost guiding star reflecting in the water. Looking up into the heaven, they saw the star shining more brightly than ever before.

It led them to the Christ Child to whom they presented gifts. The gold they gave symbolized acceptance of Him as their King, the frankincense symbolized His deity, and the myrrh prophesied His death. In return, it is said that Mary gave them the infant's swaddling

A pre-school child likes toys he can put together or build. Blocks are in all-time demand.

Jan. 6, the reported date of the Wise Men's visit, is still celebrated in many parts of the world as Epiphany and Twelfth Night.

The exact number of Wise Men has never been established. Original Christmas had a tradition of 12 Magi, and early paintings and mosaics showed two, three, four and more.

It's Christmas... season of peace and joy. May the message be yours to share, always.

This Wreath Easily Made

If you'd like to add a touch of coziness to your holiday decorations, try a sparkling lollipop wreath.

Made in a few minutes from aluminum foil, the sparkling wreath not only offers sparkling Christmas cheer, but also provides young guests with a prodigious supply of candy. They can select a lollipop and pull it easily from the decoration.

The lollipop wreath requires a roll of aluminum foil (18 inches wide heavy duty), a selection of colored lollipops, and some ribbon.

Not Candy
Making the wreath is fun. Remove the foil from the box and roll it out — full length — on the floor. (If this seems a waste of precious foil, try buying any kind of Christmas wreath for less than a dollar!) With a twelve-hour, began crumpling the foil along its length, reducing the 18-inch width to about six inches. Shape the foil into a circle about 18 to 20 inches diameter as you crumple it. As the circle is completed, begin overlapping the foil, crumpling it over the completed wreath shape, shiny side out. Continue shaping the foil over the circle, adding body to the wreath until the entire roll is consumed.

Flare Wreath
As a final step, press the wreath against table or floor while crumpling lightly into a flare shape. This will flatten the back for easier hanging.

When the wreath is completed, insert the lollipops by pushing their sticks into the wreath around the circumference.

From the spool of ribbon, make one dozen small bows and one larger bow. The small bows are attached with straight pins between the lollipops and the large bow at the top of the wreath.

Hostess Parties

Everyone entertains over the Christmas season, whether it is an intimate family gathering or an open house with many visitors.

But whatever kind of Christmas entertaining you plan it will be more fun and less work if you had a few helpful hints:

You'll be a more relaxed hostess if you plan ahead. Know how many people there'll be at your party, and have enough chairs for them before they arrive.

To add a festive touch to your party, try passing colorful Christmas stickers on punch bowls, cups and glasses.

If you're serving refreshments, remember with Christmas stickers utilized can brighten the holiday mood, help cut down on after-party wash-up.

It's the happy season, time to rejoice in good fellowship and in the spirit of the first Noel. To our patrons we extend a hearty Thank You.

ELEGANT CHRISTMAS TABLE SETTING

Whether or not you excel at giving hostess branches, tasteful teas, or simple suppers, an elegant holiday set-down dinner may seem like a moment of truth.

But fear not — we live in an age of restrained elegance. Sift the rules of table setting etiquette, add the best of the past to the spirit of today, and your holiday table will deserve and receive glowing words of praise from your guests.

A patterned or colored tablecloth helps set a festive mood and enhances your silver. English Provincial silver, an example of design in harmony with today's uncluttered look, yes in the tradition of holiday past.

Your Centrepiece
Your centrepieces may reflect the folklore of the holiday or it may be a classic dinner table arrangement. It may also be a tableau of objects that display your awareness of beauty in all things.

Lower your artistic sight, however, if your centrepiece starts to rise above 12 inches. If you want your guests to use one another, keep your centrepiece low—and your candles, if you use them, high, so that they will not flicker annoyingly at eye level.

Minutemen of a holiday symbol — chocolate, paper mache or what have you — an assortment of fruits and vegetables can be found in most households which would be suitable for flowers or fruit and vegetable arrangements. Lacy, luscious, pedestal cake plates, soup tureens, punch bowls, baskets, or souille dishes are likely cas-adettes as is any long rectangular centerpiece.

A grouping of small pointer plates or large flat blouses floating in a shallow bowl makes an attractive arrangement. If you have tender feelings for an old wooden box or wicker collection, a candle gingerbread house, or your favorite piece of folkwork by all means use it as your centrepiece.

The size of the centrepiece will be geared to the size of your table, as will the space allowed for each place setting. If you have enough room at the table, place may be 30 inches apart — from centre to centre — otherwise 24" certainly never less than 20 inches of your guests will really be rubbing elbows.

According to the silvermiths of English Provincial, napkin rings were once used as an informal measure. Each member of the family was given a ring so that the napkins could be placed in it after a meal, and be ready for further use at subsequent meals.

Since napkin rings are now being used as decorative table appointments, and not merely to save family laundry, their use will save valuable inches and keep the table from looking crowded. Napkins are placed to the left of the fork of the first course in a place. If not, the napkin may be placed on the place plate. Silverware is placed 1/2 inch to one inch above the edge of the table and should not be obscured by the plate. All place settings should line up at the base and be equidistant.

dinner upon alone, may go above the place plate, lying parallel to the edge of the table, or may be brought in on the dessert plate, when it is served.

Butter and butter plates if used, are placed above the fork. The butter knife is usually placed at the top of the plate pointing left. It lies parallel to the table edge, cutting side towards the table edge.

Water goblets belong above the top of the first knife, wine glass to the right. If more than one wine is served, the glasses are placed in order of their use, to the right. Water and wine glasses needn't be of matching sets, but all glasses for a particular beverage should match.

The elegance you will have achieved will add lasting assurance to your role of hostess, and will be further testimony of your gracious hospitality. Be prepared for warm words of appreciation from your guests.

SEASON COMBINES MANY TRADITIONS

CHRISTMAS combines Christmas, pagan, seasonal, and seasonal traditions into a harmonious pattern.

The druids of ancient Britain, for example, decked their halls with boughs of holly to shelter sylvan spirits threatened by frost and winter winds, the National Geographic Society says.

Imperial Romans feasted, exchanged gifts, and decorated with evergreens during Saturnalia, a December festival honoring the god Saturn.

Mistletoe, the yule log, and the wassail bowl are relics of other pre-Christian and -warrior celebrations in Europe.

Pagan Festivals
When Pope Gregory I sent out missionaries in A.D. 601,

He counseled them to let converts weave the heathen features of pagan festivals into the spiritual fabric of the Christmas observance.

Following that prompt, the 8th-century missionary Boniface persuaded the Saxons to transfer worship of Odin's sacred oak to an evergreen decorated in honor of the Christ Child. Much later, Martin Luther is credited with adding the first tree with candles at Christmas-time to simulate an evergreen shimmering with starlight snow.

Christmas trees were confined to the Rhine country until about 1700. Scholars believe the custom crossed the Atlantic with Hessian mercenaries during the American Revolution.

Town Council Briefs

A regular meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday, January 11. The meeting was held in the Town Council Chamber, 1111 11th Street, N.W., at 7:30 p.m.

Approval was given to the motion by C. Petrick for the purchase of a new fire engine, an approximate cost of $22,000. In this matter council would have to consider what to do with the old 1930 fire truck and also the police officers as these would have to be removed to make room for the new engine.

C. R. Bore, along with many town residents, was anxious to know why the town council was not in operation on the weekend as it felt something should have been done to alleviate the icy conditions of the town streets.

On Saturday both Cold Lake teams will be playing in Vegreville and they will travel to Fort Saskatchewan and Cold Lake teams will be billed with the Fort Saskatchewan team families.

Huskies Win Double Header

The Fort Huskies are cutting a wide swath in their bid for the championship again this year. Last weekend they visited Stettler in a double-header, and finished up the two games as winners, with scores of 5-3 and 12-3.

Dave Penzell was the big gun for the club, getting six goals in the two games.

Saturday night's game opened on a goal by B. Purr, a lead which the Huskies enjoyed for the remainder of the period. The Imperials pumped ahead in the second period on goals by D. Bittner, but the lead was cut short when the Huskies drew even on a goal by D. Penzell.

Dave captured the third period to put the Fort team ahead, and the final was added to when Bill Hay and Colin Greer connected to boost the Huskies to a 5-3 lead.

The previous night's defeat made the Stettler team as they quickly opened the scoring on the Imperials and the game finished with the Huskies winning 5-3.

SUGAR AND SPICE

A New Year's Eve party

Those who get through the trying holiday season as well as we did. All you victims have my sympathy. I believed about for ten days, a last here and a last there, but I was perfectly all enough to stay in bed, and therefore getting little sympathy.

Kim spent the festive season going to bed at 2 p.m. Mostly because of a new boy friend, who's out on bail. That's right, he's out on bail.

My wife did her best to get by the house, on Sunday night when I was at church. For years, I've been telling her to burn lunch in the fireplace: paper and woodwork and her own soul.

Why a goaltender suffers

Just for a change of pace, we thought you might be interested to read what someone else has to say about hockey. NHL style.

The following is a condensed version of a story I wrote for a 100,000-word, 100-page, 100-strated written by Gary Dineen, and deals with the Montreal Canadiens and their goaltender, Guy D'Amboise.

"If the supreme test of a championship team is to win despite the loss of key players, the Montreal Canadiens have just passed with high marks by hanging onto first place in the NHL while operating for five weeks without their top regular goaltender.

They replaced the pithy, curly-haired brother of the Boston Bruins' Paul Esposito, who was the goalie who played in the 60-60 gap in the NHL, while operating for five weeks without their top regular goaltender.

"Hundred after he had been the Philadelphia Flyers' 10 in a game in which the opponent had managed to get a handful of shots from closer than 30 feet. Esposito had not his hand. It was trembling.

"I've always been nervous before a game, but never like this. I've never been like this before, with the Canadiens," he admitted. "The pressure, the nerves."

PUBLIC SKATING
Despite the very uncomfortable weather conditions outside of late, many young and old alike have found the public skating sessions at the Rec Centre a good spot to get out and get some exercise and fresh air. The temperature inside may not be what you would call balmy but it is a vast improvement from what exists outside.

AN OPEN LETTER TO
COACH IN CANADA
Question - What are you going to do?

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association Minor Hockey Committee suggests the coach of a minor hockey team write himself this question:
"What AM I trying to do?"

Am I trying to give kids chance to play hockey?
Am I working to keep kids off the street?

Am I really interested in the boys?

Am I really trying to develop better citizens?

Am I really teaching my boys the fundamentals of good sportsmanship?

Am I giving every boy an equal chance to play hockey?

Am I trying to see that the boys HAVE FUN playing hockey?

OR Am I trying to win games to boost my own ego?

Do I say "I won eight games" or "My kids won eight games"?

And then ask, "which is most important?"

The Minor Hockey Committee suggests that every minor hockey coach might well decide early what his objectives are.

We further suggest that the GOOOD COACH, the coach who is sincerely interested in the welfare of boys, will try to make his own boys very enjoyable.

Am I trying to win games to
boost my own ego?

Don't wait for the bang

On January 8 Canadian news on London News Washington made a study of the international right on non-proliferation of nuclear weapons.

Predictably enough, Canadians realized that the time was achieved without any loss of face or failure and news of it caused neither a stir nor a sensational in the world press.

After all, how important is world peace was the fact that Canada had played even to satisfy under non-proliferation?

Even if she had a nuclear arsenal, Canada is not an aggressive nation, and there's no likelihood that she'd ever be involved in a nuclear war.

The global significance of Canada's formal acceptance of the agreement, however, was forcefully underlined the very same day by an unexpected news report, largely uncom-mented, coming from the United States.

From the National Broadcasting Company came the news flash claiming that Israel already had or soon would have a nuclear bomb.

Israel Atomic Energy Commission was quick to deny the report, but this didn't stop the news from running on the

It was possible, some wondered, that Israel was planning to build a nuclear defence to offset Presiarms shipments to Israel.

Political experts generally dismissed the report as unfounded although some people hedge, noting that the atomic reactors at Dimona and Beverly, albeit intended for peaceful research, are capable of producing the plutonium needed for nuclear weapons.

Dismissed in some quarters was the fact that Israel had refused to sign the nuclear non-proliferation treaty.

Although more than 40 countries have signed it, many others besides Israel had not.

Josephburg Lions Club Notes

The first meeting of the Lions Club Josephburg in the year-end of 1968 took place on Tuesday night, February 14th at the Josephburg Community Hall.

Despite the extremely cold temperatures a fair number of members turned out having the club.

Deputy District Governor
Mr. S. A. Major Ray McLean, Ray Smith and Lin McLean were present.

Following the meeting the club members went to the clubhouse for a social hour.

There is nothing sinister about the club, but there is a considerable amount of danger to the club.

The more nations even approach the club, the more one day putting their fingers on a nuclear trigger.

The danger is that there is a chanceless accident. This is particularly true in danger areas such as the Middle East, where it would be impossible to find a local hospital into a global thermonuclear bomb.

Late President John F. Kennedy recognized the danger in 1963 when he warned: "If not you to stop and think for a moment what it would mean to have nuclear weapons in so many hands, in the hands of countries large and small, scattered throughout the world, it would be local conflict."

"There would be no rest for anyone then, no stability, no real security and no chance of effective disarmament. There would only be the increased chance of accidental war and in increasing security and no chance of effective disarmament.

There would only be the increased chance of accidental war

Measures would be help at the Palmer Hotel, Calgary on the 18th and 19th of February, 1969. This was discussed by the Council and it was moved by Mr. S. Stewart that Councilors Parker and Reed be authorized to attend the annual Alberta Municipal Conference on Emergency Measures to be held in Calgary on February 18th and 19th, 1969. Carried.

It was moved by T. M. Reed that he authorize payment of the following matching grants previously approved by the Council:

- a. Sherwood Park Community League, $12,366.56.
- b. Elmdale Curling and Recreation Club, $1,236.96.
- c. Whitemont Community League, $500.00.

Carried. The Council discussed the Matching Grants Policy for 1969 and it was agreed that the same policy that existed in 1968 would be carried on and that the end-off date for 1969 applications would be June 3, 1969 with the applications to be considered at the June Council Meeting.

The Revere presented to the Council the report of the Industrial Area of the Department of Municipal Affairs which was dated November 26th and 29th, 1968. After the report had been read and considered it was moved by G. W. Meyer that the report of the Inspector of the Department of Municipal Affairs dated November 26th and 29th, 1968 be received and filed for reading at the next annual meeting of ratepayers. Carried.

The Secretary informed the Council that he had received a report prepared by Stewart, W. S. and Watson on the Ross Creek Drainage Project which the Council had declined to undertake during the year 1969. It was suggested that a meeting be arranged to discuss this project and that representatives of the Town of Fort Saskatchewan and the Department of Water Resources be invited to attend. The Secretary was authorized to set up this proposed meeting as soon as possible.

The Council received a report from Stewart, W. S. and Watson regarding the Traffic Light installation at the intersection of the Wye Road and Sherwood Drive. The report set out three types of equipment that would be available for this intersection.

Fixed time equipment, cost installed, $3,000.00. Semi-actuated equipment, cost installed, $5,000.00.

Fully actuated equipment, cost installed, $8,000.00. The matter was discussed by the Council and it was agreed that the Engineer should be requested to prepare rough plans for a traffic circle at this intersection which could be completed after the removal of the small Salisbury School during the summer months. No action was taken on the installation of traffic lights at this time.

The Revere and Councilor Meyer reported on a meeting held in Fort Saskatchewan on January 10th, regarding the construction of a pipeline from the Industrial Area of the County to Fort Saskatchewan and then on to Redwater. It appeared that the Provincial Government would be giving assistance in the construction of this line and that the County of Strathcona would be required to borrow, by way of debentures, an amount equal to one-fifth of the total cost of the line. An agreement would be signed up between the County of Strathcona and the County of Fort Saskatchewan and Redwater which would form the North-East Water Board with all Municipalities being equal partners in the project. The Council, in discussing the matter, were in favor of the County operating in the venture but were of the unanimous opinion that the agreement should include a clause which would, in some way, prohibit annexation between partners in the venture without the consent of the partner being annexed. After the matter had been discussed it was moved by A. V. View that it is the intention of the County of Strathcona No. 20 to enter into the proposed agreement with the Department of Public Works and the Town of Redwater and Fort Saskatchewan, the County of Strathcona and the Municipal District of Vancouver for the construction and operation of the proposed water pipeline to Redwater and the formation of a Water Board to own and operate the same. For this purpose Council will exact an appropriate bill and take such steps to meet all lawful requirements it may incur.

Representatives of Associated Engineering Services outlined to the Council the revenue price received from Keller Construction Limited for the erection of the Arena and Recreation Centre in Sherwood Park. Keller Construction Limited was the low tender on this project and had been requested to revise their price after the removal of the assumed time area from the proposed Arena. The price now quoted by Keller Construction Limited amounted to $315,892.00. After allowing for Engineering and Architect fees with contingencies the total cost of the project would be approximately $460,000.00. The matter was discussed by the Council who were of the opinion that the project should be proceeded with subject however to the approval of the Recreation Board of Recreation Area No. 1 of the County.

If the project was proceeded with a grant of approximately $25,000.00 would be payable by the Department of Youth making it necessary to raise $435,000.00 by way of Debentures. The Council agreed of the matter should be proceeded with immediately. It was therefore moved by G. W. Meyer that Bylaw No. 130, a Bylaw to authorize the raising of Debentures in the amount of $435,000.00 for the construction and equipping of an Arena and Recreation Centre which be amended to Sherwood Park, be read a first time. Carried.

It was moved by T. M. Reed that Bylaw No. 131, a Bylaw of the County of Strathcona to authorize the raising of Debentures in the amount of $181,250.00 for the purpose of constructing and equipping an arena at Fort Saskatchewan, High School be read a first time. Carried.

It was moved by M. R. Parker that Bylaw No. 131 be read a second time. Carried. It was moved by G. W. Meyer that Bylaw No. 131, by and with the unanimous consent of the Council be read a third time and finally passed. Carried unanimously.

Bill Smiley
The "Generation Gap"

This week I showed my students a film about the much-talked-about "Generation Gap" and then had them write an essay on it. The gap, not the film.

Coincidentally, on that very day I received two letters that were so new thoughts about the "gap."

One was from my old high school math teacher. I don't mean that he was old. It was just a long time ago.

It was a pleasant shock to hear from him. The pleasure came from his report that he was alive and well and curbing and abiding. The shock was the realization that the gentleman we called "Old Firm" is only about 12 years older than I am.

Strangely (as things so often happen in this world), I was talking about him in the class that very day. The kids and I were talking about corporal punishment, striping, slapping, the whole business.

I told them about how Miss Liza McCullough used to break pointers off my head regularly, and Miss Mary Walker used to strip me and my young brother and kid called George Rayner three times a week, whether we needed it or not. And we liked them. And now Mr. McGraw, our science teacher, a man of gigantic proportions and the patience of a saint, used to whip two of us off our seats with one cut. And we never minded, and we liked him. And my old math teacher, at a point where the night would be tried, used to give us a punch, with two hands, just before the test. And we liked and respected him, when we got our breath back.

These people get a rotten deal, financially and morally, from the community. But at least they could comfort a kid, and that's worth a lot of money. If you even shake your finger at some rotten little hoodlum nowadays, he either turns out to be a first-rate lawyer, or else he's too big to clip on you, because he could eat you alive, and would.

My other letter, the same day, was a chatty, friendly one from one of my last year's students. She was at university, enclosing a parody of Hemingway's thought I'd enjoy. Her's that "These generations, and no discernible gap. Maybe it's because none of us are terrible any more. 'Old Firm' I'd enjoy talking to both of them."

Well, to go back to the beginning, some of the essays assigned were about the gap, blasting the gap on age. Another says it's been there since Shakespeare, which is true. Others say it's been blown out of all proportion by the news media, seeking for conflict and the sensational.

Another says: "It is just the intense fear children have mobbed in their parents. And of course, fear of the unknown is the most powerful fear in man."

The same one says: "Fear has advanced to geriatrics, and geriatrics is a deadly enemy to deal with. Dandy because it is composed of blind hate by the young against the old."

And here is a poem by a girl, a poem that says she is a policeman's girlfriend, or a principal's face as he confronts a laid-back boy.

And so. Then there are the adults who, posing as shocked and indignant, cut up such propaganda as "What in the Streets," search newspapers for teenage crime or L.A.D. thrust micrographed shots of drug addiction symptoms, and systematically punch out words like "punks," "mooks," and "freaks."

This essay made with the suggestion that, while this gap is not as serious as racial or religious prejudice, it is closing people's minds. Adults fear a revolution, but the young people, "to my knowledge have not even thought of such a thing. However, getting stronger and stronger every day, in the young people's way just to be left alone. This tendency could be just as devastating as a revolution."

Glad to hear from you, "Old Firm," and you "Young Firm." And all I can say is "Thank you, Bill Smiley," whose opinion, fragmented, appears in the quotation marks above.

Letter to the Editor

In the early morning of January 23rd, 1969, two schools, and six premises, in the town of Port Saskatchewan, Alberta were broken into. These premises were broken into on the night of the 24th of January, 1969, and everything appeared in order. When these premises were re-opened on the 25th, they were found to have been forcibly entered and some thoroughly ransacked.

The total loss suffered by these premises was approximately $174,424.

Among the stolen items were cash, the majority of the essays in change, making tape, used in press and post, women's locks, incorporated with numerous willful damage to nearly each establishment.

Early being gained by breaking windows in most cases, at secluded windows, then doors and windows ransacked for the contents in some manner necessary keys, being left in conspicuous places, caused anxiety to others, security locked drawers and strong boxes.

Malicious and willful damage, was done to several premises by breaking soap-pops bottles, with the contents being poured over the contents. Even to the extent of busting a man's eye-glasses and watch wait for no reason. Two youths were subsequently charged in these connections.

The question of what to do with youngsters who have gotten into trouble in disturbing the community is not even basic, is the problem of how to stop delinquency before it starts. Prevention is usually the cause of delinquency.

The delinquents clearly are the children who if not corrected, can become the criminals of tomorrow. The challenge is an urgent one, which are not exempt from Fort Sask. What can we do, in terms to keep our children out of trouble?

Fort Huskies In Provincial Play-Offs

The Fort Huskies will be participating in a higher division in the Provincial Play-Offs this season.

The mighty Lords of the A.A.A.A. have decided that the Huskies have been entered in the "B" Division of the Provincial Play-Offs.

Teams from Lethbridge, Manning, Chatham, Medicine Hat and St. Albert are playing in this division. Local fans should be seeing some interesting hockey.

This weekend the Fort Huskies meet Drayton Valley in a double header in the league play-off. Saturday's game is at 9:00 p.m. and Sunday's game gets underway at 2:00 p.m.

Huskies Winners at Home

The Fort Huskies family over-arched themselves in second position in the league with a convincing 6-1 win over the Drayton Valley Rebels last Sunday in front of over 600 fans.

Rich Billington opened for the local favorites halfway through the first period, finishing of a play by Hatch Thompson. The Fort team went two up, when Dave Pinwell scored a beautiful unassisted goal to end the opener.

The Rebels defence finally succumbed however, and Ken Sherman from whom an error in a pass from Don McElroy to finish the scoring in the game, 6-1 in favour of the Huskies.

Hospital Auxiliary Annual Meeting Held

The Annual Meeting of the Fort Saskatchewan Hospital Auxiliary was held in the hospital cafeteria on Tuesday, February 4. The report showed a very successful year with quite a variety of projects.

In March a bridge and chess party of 34 tables was held in the Ladies Hall. In the ladies hall was held a campaign for new members. In November a very impressive presentation in the form of a creation Center with 180 people. The theme for the hall was a Christmas theme and the hall was most attractively decorated with colorful flowers to carry on the theme.

During the year the group held two mass speakers. Mrs. J. Buehly of Linton spoke concerning The Work of the Auxiliary, and Mr. Howard Clifford from the Edmonton City Welfare spoke on Social Problems in General. The October meeting was held in the hospital and following the bus tour meeting the members were taken on a tour of the hospital.

In the past year the Auxiliary members have helped in the raising of hospital funds and in making hospital home and in making hospital home.

There was also some occupational therapy done with the need area. The ladies aided the hospital staff in the Disaster Plan with volunteer assistance where needed. A display case is kept in the waiting room of the hospital containing suitable gift items which may be purchased from Auxiliary members.

From the proceeds of the year's activities there was purchased a gift for the children's ward, a high chair, two night tables and a major purchase of three baby beds at a cost of $40.00.

In December the Auxiliary bought an artificial Christmas tree for the hospital and supplied novelties for trays and gift for each patient.

Following the Annual Meeting a lovely lunch was served as a gesture of appreciation to all Auxiliary members from the Administration of the hospital.

Remodeling

A number of families have contacted me with regard to remodeling.

There are a number of important considerations in the house of sound structure?

Replacing the foundation, changing plumbing and wiring, adding insulation and recording can be so costly as to be unworkable.

Will you have what you want? If remodeling is extensive, most of the remodeled house must be compared to cost of building a new one.

There is a family in the Edmonton area who have a large old brick house of sound construction and good design. For them to start over a new house of comparable square footage would probably amount to several times the cost of remodeling.

Concrete Blocks

Several people have contacted about block houses. They're not too satisfactory for this part of the country since insulation is poor and water condenses on the walls.

Advisory Committee

The Grathwell advisory committee is the only one in the province.

Fort Huskies Open Trail For League Championship

The Fort Huskies opened the trail for the League Championship with a big double header win last weekend.

The worst final level of seven series against Drayton Valley took a 6-1 decision Sunday evening and followed this with a 6-2 victory on Sunday afternoon.

The big gun for the Huskies was Buck Thompson with a hat-trick in the first game, and coming in with a score in the second game.

The Huskies traveled to Drayton Valley to do battle this weekend in the offering. If per chance the Huskies can win the two games at Drayton, they will be the champions of the Western League.

As you can see, a tough road is ahead, towards the League Championship.

One could almost pity Trudeau on that first day of the constitution talks, and hardly blame him if he decided he would much rather be back in his old Cabinet post. At least there was some justice in it. . .

While the speech from the three death with aggressive more than has in past years. It was not explicit in what was to be done to solve one of the most immediate problems facing the industry says Paul Baber, President of the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

"Along with agricultural groups we have been asking the Government to set up a special commission to study the taxation structure in Alberta and make recommendations for what we are most disappointed that the Government has not done this," he says.

Today You Drive A Total Energy Plant - Tomorrow You May Live In One!

Natural gas has taken a new job. Today it is being used as the sole source of energy for commercial buildings, industrial plants, apartment houses, schools and shopping centres, hotels and motels in cities across North America.

How?

By providing energy to power a single, self-contained system that supplies heating, cooling, steam, hot water and even electricity.

The system is like your car. A single source of power provides energy to power a generator that supplies electricity to operate "appliances" like radio and cigarette lighter, waste heat provides warmth in the winter, and, of course, there is energy to drive the wheels. All of this energy comes from a reciprocating engine.

The same is true of natural gas "total energy" packages.

At the heart of the system is an engine, like the one in your car, or a gas turbine similar to the aircraft jet engine. In either case, natural gas is the source of power.

A generator, connected to the drive shaft of the engine, produces electricity.

The heat has been known for years to be a waste product.

The total energy concept goes a step further. Like your car, it puts to work normally wasted heat from the engine to provide heat for the building. And, when summer comes this same waste heat cools the building in an absorption cooling system.

The total energy package has still another job. Industrial plants use the captured heat to process petroleum products and sulphur, to dry pipe coatings, bricks and even hay. But this is just a start. There are infinite applications where total energy units can provide "heat" for processing everything - from locomotives to the kitchen sink.

By supplying heating, cooling and electricity, total energy packages operating on natural gas fuel provide substantial savings and here in Alberta where we have an abundance of low-cost natural gas we are seeing more and more "total energy" plants going into service.

heart breaker for the Fort team as nothing went right for them. Penalties called against the Huskies finally beat them, and an unsettled team were on the deficit score of 5-3. Butch Thomlinson was a two-goal scorer for the Fort, and Gary McIntyre led the attack.

As is usual in any game, Sunday's game saw a complete turnabout from the previous evening, the visitors from the Fort took complete command of the game from the opening whistle. By the end of the second period the Fort were ahead 5:1. The final period saw the Fort draw farther ahead on two quick goals and it was 8:1. A slackening off by the defence practically gave three goals to the Rebels.

Eye drops are easily contaminated. When using an eye dropper, try not to touch the eye while installing the drops. Otherwise, the dropper can pick up germs which can injure the rest of the medicine in the bottle. Always keep the container tightly closed. Store in a cool place.

If the liquid develops a precipitate, or particles of matter cloud the appearance, do not use them. The odds are the eye drops are decomposing and unfit for use.

Sherritt Gordon, Pacific Nickel To Explore Deposits in Indonesia

.... Sherritt Gordon participation in a new Indonesian company, P.T. Pacific Nickel Indonesia, to explore and develop nickel laterite deposits in the Yalgene and Ceylan areas of Irian Barat (formerly Dutch New Guinea).

A "Contract of Work" has just been signed by the Indonesian Government with the new company, P.T. Pacific Nickel Indonesia has been incorporated by United States Steel Corporation (USA), Komatsu (Nippon) Kisen Kaisha (Japan), and the Government of Singapore on September 19th (1974). Wm. H. Miller & Co., H.V. (1974), and Sherritt Gordon Mines Limited (1974).

Pacific Nickel will immediately start a 3 to 5 year program to continue and expand the exploration work done a number of years ago by U.S. Steel and Dutch interests. This original work had included initial surveys of land areas and possibly of sufficient tonnage to warrant a nickel producing operation. The Pacific Nickel work will complete the tonnage and grade information on the main ore-bodies as well as complete other less explored deposits. Related feasibility studies together with metallurgical test work by Sherritt Gordon on a half-scale of one ore expected to justify a nickel plant to produce about 100,000 tons of nickel a year. Such a plant would cost as much as $800,000,000 and take an additional 1 or 4 years to build.

The nickel interest in Irian Barat would employ Sherritt's laterite process to produce pure nickel powder and liquors. Cr+1 will be recovered as a by-product to be treated, under contract, at Sherritt's refinery at Fort Saskatchewan, Alberta.

It gets harder around here all the time. For the past two months and the next month I've had every day bombed. There's a great deal of time building in the area so this is added to the numerous crimes that are currently in motion.

Last week we had Ron Brooks, former manager of the Credit Bureau, speak to our home management group. He told us how to shop for credit and how the various credit grantors find their lending rates.

I think the lesson to be learned in using credit, is to know what it costs you. Many people just look at the cost per month and whether or not they can pay that amount. They don't consider total cost - initial cost of the item plus interest and charges. You'd be amazed at how many people pay half as much again for that color TV or new car they really might have done without.

Wednesday, I participated in the L'Esperance Short Course. The speaker's topic was "Education for Successful Farmers." The federal minister of agriculture, Mr. Bud Olsen, was there. He spoke about the international crisis in agriculture. Prairie farmers are suffering tremendously by food production and demand.

Residents of the district extend sympathy to the family of the late Dr. Randolph Fleming who passed away recently.

A former resident of the district, Mr. Herb Williams was a recent guest of Mrs. Armstrong. Herb's former classroom still living in the area were very pleased to see him again.

ARDROSSAN DISTRICT NEWS

at Matheson, Saskatchewan

At a meeting held recently the board of stewards of Ardrossan United Church elected new officers. They are: Chairman Mr. Arnold Daly; sec., Mrs. John Andrew; and treasurer, Mr. Joe Miller. The mailing address of each of the above is Ardrossan. We thank Mr. Howard Hayrett, writing sec. area, for all that he did for us during the five-year period that he held these combined offices.

The combined choir of the Clover Bar charge are practicing at Easter Sunday and Good Friday.

Children from the Junior Sunday School under the leadership of Mrs. Rita Jackson sang at the morning service in Ardrossan United Church on March 18. Everyone enjoyed seeing and hearing these little ones.

Mrs. and Mrs. Howard Hayrett and Alberta have had Mr. Hayrett's father and brother, Mr. J. Hayrett and Keith of Spence, Sask., visiting with them. March 5 was Mr. Hayrett Sr.'s 85th birthday. It was also an anniversary of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the town of Ardrossan. A combined birthday party was held for them on that day. Each of Mr. Hayrett's relatives residing in Alberta was able to attend the gathering, except one grand daughter who was in London. Mr. and Mrs. Hayrett were at that time in Toronto taking a course in connection with his employment.

March 15 was a pleasant winter day and a large group of people from far and near came to the school with pleasure when they gathered at the section also being held for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kist. Mr. Kist has sold his home after having farmed here first with his father and later on his own for several 30 years. Mr. and Mrs. Kist are moving to Edmonton, and we wish them happiness in their new environment. The St. John's U.C.W. did a fine job of keeping the buyers and the visitors supplied with food.

On Easter Monday, April 7 at 8:00 p.m. on the 11th team organ at Ardrossan Church. The service of ORPUS was very popular and chanted hymns and psalms were available for all to sing.

At the annual All-Saskatchewan basketball tournament in Edmonton, March 18, Mrs. Nancy H. Hayrett took her head and leg in a fall. The Ardrossan women recently, we hope she will soon be feeling better.

On Wednesday, March 18, the boys and girls who have been studying figure skating under the tutelage of Miss Dan Williams received news. They had been to Edmonton to see the skating championships and the people made a

Galloway Families Entertain at Lodge

The South family of TV have been making on our local Galloway family. Twenty children, from ages four to sixteen participated in their third annual concert at the Rivercrest Lodge. There were brothers, sisters and cousins all joining together in a wonderful display of talent. Among them were many winners from the Music Achievement Days held recently.

The whole group, in chorus, opened the concert. Then there were solos of all kinds—guitar, clarinet, accordion, voice and piano. There were duets by sisters, cousins and brother and sisters. Any of you who have lived through the precision of duets by two members of your own family will know what a feat it is for a brother and sister to come up with a well-practiced duet, good enough to play in public, without pushing one another off the piano bench or knocking one another in the stomach. These mothers deserve a medal for overseeing these hours of practice.

By far one of the most unique performances of the concert was the trio by two sisters and one brother. Dots you often hear, but rarely do you see three play at one piano. The ballet number from "The Little Match Girl" done by two of the girls certainly added to the variety of this concert.

One of the outstanding numbers of the program was the chorus of "Down by the River Side." This number was sung especially for the residents of the lodge. It should be heard more than once. It should be made the theme song of the lodge.

Also special mention to Corinn who was master of ceremonies and a very fine job she did. She wrote her script herself, came moving on each number, and very capably handled any emergency that arose.

On Friday, March 18, the Saskatoon Junior High School held its second annual Water Carnival at the Fort Saskatchewan, Arma.

The program included canoe judging, obstacle relay, races, and the crowning of a Snow King and Queen. This was the climax to a week full of campaigning by each house as each sponsored a King and Queen candidate. Candidates were: Yellow House, Debbie Young, Murray Berg; Green House, Sonya Radin, Ken Agard; Red House, Janice Andrusiak, Bryan Moore; Blue House, Janice Radin, Gavin Bilson.

Red House was victorious in both instances with Janice Andrusiak and Bryan Moore being voted as Queen and King. The crowning of the King and Queen was performed by last year's reigning royalty, Ruth Arnold and Bryan Moore.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

There's no question we could make it cheap. We could cut our number of inspectors from 8,000 to 4,000. And get rid of the 560 inspectors we employ to inspect the inspectors. We could cut the amount of paint we use in half. If from 12 pounds to 6.1. We'd definitely stop rejecting 30% of the Volkswagens we turn out every day. And probably we'd drop the standards we set for our suppliers down to a normal human level. In fact, if we really went the whole route, we could possibly turn out a small car not much different than anybody else's small car. And the thought has crossed our minds. But somewhere along the line it was rejected. For being imperfect.

More Certified Bulk Seed

ALBERTA POOL

More bulk certified cereal seed should be available this spring in Alberta, predicts Crop Specialist Sherman Yelland. Mr. Yelland, Supervisor of Cereal and Oil Seeds for the Plant Industry Division, indicates that more of the municipal seed cleaning plants have become authorized establishments co-operating with the seed trade in the distribution of the improved seed. He claimed that cleaning plants must meet high standards before they are approved as authorized establishments by the Federal government. This enables them to clean certified seed for members of the seed trade or seed planters. At the present time, plants at Three Hills, Paradise Valley, Shree Plains, Rosebush, Benick, Baskin, Waterville, Vermilion have been approved. It is thought that many of the other 65 plants will be seeking approval in the near future. Mr. Yelland noted that Alberta has lagged behind the other prairie provinces in the merchandising of the improved seed. Last year the Alberta movement amounted to only about 60,000 bushels compared to 100,000 in Saskatchewan.

to 400,000 in Saskatchewan and 314,000 in Manitoba. The Alberta Department of Agriculture is pleased, he said, that the seed cleaning plants are being given an opportunity of assisting the seed growers and the trade to make this superior seed available to the commercial farm operator.

ARENA CLOSED TEMPORARILY

An unscheduled break in the arena operation occurred last weekend as one of the main components of the ice-making equipment "threw out".

Luckily the weather has remained on the below normal and cool side the past week which has helped maintain the ice level in the meantime. It will take a while to have the repairs completed by Thursday evening which should enable us to pick up our schedule sometime on Saturday.

All participants will be notified by phone as to the new schedule.

FIBAL PLAYERS

A program of bicycle instruction for the youngsters will begin again in the near future, and this year will be co-sponsored by the Recreation Department and the newly formed Kiwanis Club. All instruction will take place inside the arena and will commence in the early part of May.

Registration forms will be distributed through the schools during the third week of April.

A chat with the boss

As my faithful readers have known me to reelin over the years, grinning at a sports column is not always in my task. There are those deadline days when no matter how many minutes you subscribe to, an idea is not in sight.

Such is the case this week. When in the past I have been asked out by my home-town sports writers. They have suggested that I write a column about the Masters. I really don't know enough of the background to write a column about the Masters. I really don't.

The reply was to the point: "Oh."

I could tell the conversation was over. At least it was from my point of view. What else could I say? Feeling somewhat alone, I murmured a couple of irrelevant phrases, begged a simple "I'm sorry," and staggered from his office.

Collapsing into my chair I gazed about the office, seeking moral support.

"Anybody got any ideas for a column?" I asked.

Came a voice from the farthest corner of the room: "Why don't you try World Hockey?"

I was followed by another tidbit: "How about National Hockey League playoffs?"

Isn't there some kid in the world of sports? My old boss had a smattering of sports, but he was not in the know when it came to the world of sports. My old boss had a smattering of sports, but he was not in the know when it came to the world of sports.

PLANNING YOUR SPRING FERTILIZER PROGRAM

With spring's work just around the corner many requests for fertilizer recommendations are already starting to come in to this office. Those who had soil tests taken last fall now have their results back and indications are that nitrogen in the soil is rather normal. This is no doubt due to the very dry spring and early summer, followed by a cold wet fall. Both factors are detrimental to natural buildup of soil nitrogen. Consequently higher rates of nitrogen application will be necessary this spring in many cases.

There are several factors which can affect the economy of fertilizer use; soil moisture, weather conditions, previous crops and soil management. Therefore, every farmer should plan his own fertilizer program according to his own financial position, farming practices and past experience.

However, a few pointers on fertilizer application and placement may be in order. Nitrogen moves readily in the soil. Heavy application with the seed may be harmful to germination so one should not exceed 10 lbs. of actual nitrogen drilled in with cereals. For flax and rapeseed only under 10 lbs. drilled in. Higher rates than this should be applied with a broadcast application.

Phosphorus does not move readily in the soil, so it must be placed near the roots. In this case drilling in with the seed is best.

Potash fertilizers are becoming increasingly apparent each year, usually in poorly drained areas that have a high free lime content. Potash does move somewhat in the soil and may be either broadcast or drilled in, but the total amount of potash and potash placed with the seed should not exceed 10 lbs. per acre.

For example using the full recommended rate of nitrogen with no phosphorus instead of down slightly on the rates of both will assured the same balance is maintained.

A handy publication entitled "A Guide to Fertilizer Use" is available on request.

NICKEL KINGS

PREP FOR FAIRVIEW
Sherman's Nickel Kings Prep-Wee have had their applications accepted this year for entry into Fairview's annual Easter Mini Day Tournament.

The tournament is scheduled for April 8 and 9 and draws teams from all over western Canada. Needless to say, the levels will be heading for some very stiff competition. The boys have played well all season and this is certainly a nice bonus to end the season - win, lose or draw.

BOY TO TRUCK!
The Trucks entry in the Midnet C Provincial Playoffs left little doubt last Saturday as they showed in a convincing way over our Home League All Stars, taking the two game total series by a 1-0 margin.

This ended any chance for the team to win any minor hockey provincial title for the 1966-67 season. Oh well, just wait until next year!

GUARANTEED LOANS FOR GRAIN DRYING
Regulations covering grain guaranteed loans for drying grain grown in 1966 were released this week by Agriculture Minister H. A. B. Rade.

Any bonafide farmer may apply at a chartered bank, treasury branch or credit union for a loan up to a maximum of $1,000 for drying grain. Farmers may apply for the loan up to July 31 and the loan must be repaid within two years. The government will guarantee the principal when the interest as long as the simple interest on the loan does not exceed the lending rate by one per cent.

The lending institution may have the loan guaranteed by forwarding to the minister a monthly summary of the grain drying loans and pertinent details which will be certified by the Provincial Treasury.

The Agricultural Department Act was amended at the current session of the legislature to provide the urgently needed short term loans for grain drying.

The provincial department of agriculture estimates 60-80 million bushels of rough and damp grain still must be dried.

Only 32 Show Interest In Town's Affairs Mon.

Only approximately 30 people took time out from their activities to attend the Town of Fort Saskatchewan annual ratemakers' meeting held in the Recreation Centre, Monday, March 27. Dr. L. Stoppard appeared at the assembly of the people in the town over town affairs, yet happy over the last year's achievements of the town, the council held their meeting in a hall replete from the mayor and each council member heading their individual departments. Dr. L. Stoppard was elected chairman for the meeting.

The mayor opened the meeting welcoming the few in attendance, and highlighted the achievements and progress of the town during the past year. He stated that while the pressure for building has been on the town all year, everyone was able to complete their contracts. Residential permits totalling 182 issued at a cost of $2,500,000. Two commercial permits for $25,000. Two institutional for $25,000. Miscellaneous permits and contracts for paving, water and sewer.

The mayor or council members have a contract or dealings with council for the purchase or lease of land or other property from the town or village.

"I have been a privilege, and I must say, a great benefit to me, to have served as one of your councillors for the past four years, and I wish you and the other councillors success in the heavy commitments of the future."

Yours very truly,
D. C. Petroski

The town's population as of December 31, 1966 was 4,901, an increase of 331 over last year.

Assessment for 1966 was $13,511,216, the highest of any town in Alberta. The town paid rates of 4-54 as at the end of the year was $22.00, a very comfortable situation for the town.

This year, River Lake 13 and 17 will be incorporated into the town for future residents' use (continued on page 16)

"Snowman" was the order of the day last week at the Junior High School when the kids dressed in some very good snow costumes depicting many of the favorite comic characters.

CR. PETROSKI RESIGNS SEAT

In a letter addressed to Mayor Kennedy this week, Dr. David Petroski resigned from Town Council. The letter read:

"Dear Sir:
Please accept this as my resignation as councillor to be effective as of March 28, 1967."

"I do not wish to jeopardize my position as a shareholder in a construction firm, nor above the position as a councillor. This is in reference to the awarded Town and Village Act, Chapter 28, Sections 148 and 150, which states:

"A mayor or councillor cannot have a contract or dealings with council for the purchase or lease of land or other property from the town or village."

Fish Fertilizing Is Finished

Hundreds of years ago the Indians buried a fish in each hole of corn. That's how they fertilized their crops.

Today it would take a lot of fish to fertilize Canada's vast farmland. And you'd probably smother the Prairie wheatfields in Ontario.

But thanks to the marvels of natural gas and petrochemicals, fertilizing is faster, easier and much more efficient today.

The first commercial fertilizer sold on a large scale was natural nitrate mined in Chile. For many years Chile retained a virtual monopoly on the world's supply of nitrogen which is also needed for explosives.

Early in the century, a Scandinavian process for "fixing" synthetic nitrogen was developed. Later the Germans worked out a cheaper process for combining air and hydrogen to make ammonia from which other nitrogenous chemicals could be produced.

North America got into the synthetic nitrate business in the 1930's. Through research and experiment it was found that hydrogen could be taken from natural gas and combined with nitrogen from the air to make ammonia and its "relatives" economically.

Although the production of fertilizer is one of the major agricultural jobs for natural gas, it is also the most versatile hired hand on the farm.

From Vancouver to Montreal, natural gas-fired furnaces burn millions of gallons of water flowing for irrigation and gas-fired power plants and refineries process it to produce nitrogenous compounds.

Gas-rich Canada's grain so far has been stored without fermenting. Hybrid seed corn, wheat and clover of other crops are heat-treated by gas in similar ways to prepare them for storage.

Gas has maternal instincts too. Tiny chicks, piglets and other barnyard young are mothered in gas-heated brooders, barns and other structures under controlled temperatures.

In these and hundreds of other ways, natural gas helps the farmer achieve unequaled productivity — and Canada to live better.

Memorial Service Held at Campbelltown for Miss Elaine Mandsteth

On Friday morning, March 28, a special assembly was held in Campbelltown Elementary school in memory of Miss Elaine Mandsteth with about her short teaching career there.

Besides the principal Mr. Munnell, his staff and the student body, others in attendance were Mr. Maliet, Mr. Jardine, Mr. Jordan, Mrs. Sally Stewart, Mr. Paul Keith, Mrs. S. Mandsteth, Mrs. Louise Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson.

Mr. Keith on behalf of Elaine's many University and NAIT friends, presented the school with the Chalkboard Encyclopedia.

These are beautifully inscribed as in the hardcover case presented to the school by Mrs. Mandsteth.

A lovely opening painting was presented to the school by Mrs. Mandsteth on behalf of the staff and University friends. This scene, also suitably inscribed, now hangs in the front hall of the school.

Mr. Ivan Mallett ended a delightfully light note by singing "The Lilies Tune."

Although Elaine served such a short time on the Campbelltown staff, she made many friends there. Her memory is now kept alive in the school.

An indirect purchase would be where an agent has an interest in a limited company or where a friend or relative signs as the purchaser (which is only a trust) with ownership (since the documents reach the solicitor's office) then being transferred to the licensed agent or his limited company, or to a company which he owns shares in. If you will read the quote from the act you will notice if the licensed agent made complete disclosure (preferably in writing) as to his interest in the purchase, he is then conforming with the act.

The foregoing is without prejudice in the hope that the buyers and sellers of real estate will be better informed.

Later we shall discuss penalties, and areas in which the public may seek recourse against the offender.

Questions: May a Licensed Real Estate agent or salesman buy real estate which is listed with him?

The Real Estate Licensing Act R.S.A. 1988 C. 279 Section 28 states (for the you can buy a copy). "No agent or salesman shall purchase for himself either directly or indirectly, real estate listed with him for sale, nor shall he acquire any interest therein directly or indirectly, until he has clearly disclosed to the lastest owner complete details of his negotiations for the sale of the land and property to another person."

BIG STEP BY HUSKIES IN PROVINCIAL "B" FINALS

One of the Huskies report last year's achievement and take both the League and Provincial Championships.

Last year the First won the Provincial "C" trophy and by virtue of doing so, was promoted to a higher bracket this season, being stepped up to the "B" section.

Saturday night the Huskies, winners of the northern section, met the southern section finalists as is and on the whole were unlucky to be two goals down.

Bryan Herbert clinched the game for the Huskies, defeating a hard shot by Bill Price past the Flyers goalkeeper. The final game on Saturday, April 5, at 8:30 p.m.

A small, dirty arena was the scene in High River as the Huskies took to the ice to meet the unknown southern representative. The Flyers, a fast and hot team, tried to throw the Huskies off balance in an attempt to get that first goal. The small ice surface seemed to throw the Huskies and for the opening minutes it was all High River. The Huskies finally settled down and were rewarded when Bitch Thompson scored the first goal, assisting was Nelson McDevide. Rich Hillman had added the Huskies second goal and added another when, after the Huskies had been sorely pressed, Thompson carried the puck out of his own end and pushed out of his own end and

High River forward Brian Hall and Chalmers dated on March 23 in the High School auditorium when many clubs were in attendance.

Parvost scored the Flyers' first goal, but the Huskies soon got the puck back when Stan Schneider scored a great goal after a nice play Brian Favre scored his second goal and the Huskies were now 4-2 lead and breaks on the part of the High River team kept the score as is and on the whole were unlucky to be two goals down.

Hog Producers Marketing Board to Ensure Complete Control

The Alberta Hog Producers' Marketing Board has decided to ensure complete control of its pork marketing system by setting up its own selling, marketing and processing units.

The plan presented last fall to all rights hog producers in the province did call for a single selling agency, but left it up to the provincial board to decide whether the agency would be the board itself, or one appointed by the board.

Mr. Kenne H. Dald, president of the board, and his partner Mr. and Mrs. Mark Dald of Winnipeg, were last week's guests of the board's parent, the Alberta Hog Producers' Marketing Board. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dald and girls.

Students are after me

As I have been a student for some time, I have been asked by many of my friends what I am doing for a living. The answer is, I am a student.

From Halifax, one article after another is being written about the student situation. It seems that the student is being portrayed as a person who is not responsible for his own actions.

While admitting that he is not one of them, he defends the student. Without them, says he, nothing would be accomplished in the universities.

In that case, why are we not one of them, young Burke? Are you one of the thousands of thousands who get on the track and let a few do the thinking for them?

His letter is too long to quote, but it is well worth a read. It is a good example of the kind of writing that is being done by students.

Dear boy, you are 120 percent wrong. I often write articles for the student's paper, never read a line except in the student's paper, never have behind their opinions.

Mr. Stahler represented the taxpayers in the zoning request for an apartment on Lots 6, 7 and 8, Block 1, Plan 699 on Bourke Drive. He presented a petition signed by 100 per cent of the people adjacent to the property. Therefore the application was refused on the above grounds.

Council then heard three applications all with applications for transfer court and plant. These were all heard and a committee of council was formed to study, with the assistance of the local regional planners, all three applications.

A letter was presented from the Council of Cities to request that in their attempt to have Bill 10 passed through the Legislature. This bill is presently being put through to allow towns and villages more representation on County and Federal Councils in their areas.

A letter received from the Port Saskatchewan Ladies' Auxiliary for the promotion of a social fund type of fundraising for various organizations received the council's attention. But could do nothing but request the name of a person who was experienced in this matter to be contacted, as it was felt this was not a matter of municipal affairs.

Another letter was received from the mayor of the City of Edmonton requesting that we continue to press the government through our local MLA and MPs, to have the utility rebate made available to the towns and cities for curbside projects.

A strong complaint about parking in the government to fall in line with other provisions.

The Chamber of Commerce reported during their holding on Avenue High and asked for consideration. This also covered the council's thinking but could not out of council's jurisdiction.

Private Council requested that the lease of Lot 180 on 18th St. and 98 Ave so they can proceed with construction of an apartment on the adjoining land. This was turned over to administration to come up with a price, and will be dealt with at next sitting of council.

Filipino Hospitality Lauded By Canadians at Smoker Party

The Canadians in the gathering unanimously praised Filipino hospitality at the smoker party held at the Maridage Lateral Pilot Plant, April 19. Hosted by the Maridage Lateral Pilot Plant, SGM, the party was held at the Port Saskatchewan Golf and Curling Club. The party, in which the hosts were the officers and members of the Maridage Lateral Pilot Plant, SGM, and Industrial Corporation now working in Sherbrooke, was a candid and hospitable and superlative affair, especially enjoyed by Canadians and Filipinos alike. The Filipinos dedicated two songs to the Canadians by singing in their native lyrics and melodies. Prominent keynotes of the Maridage Lateral Pilot Plant staff of

Int. Romeo Caballero, MEMC chem. eng.; Rodolfo Martin, MEMC chem. eng.; Salvador Bicalout, MEMC mech. eng.; Felix Dagalila, MEMC mech. eng.; Josphane Codo Jr., MEMC mech. eng.; Eddie Olari, SGM liaison officer in Maridage Lateral Pilot Plant at Fort Road; Roberto Calero, electrical eng. MEMC; and Marvin Nydia (Ladino), cost. public accountant.

Sherbrooke, led by Project Manager Terry O'Kane, were all praised for the entertaining evening they had at the party. Most of all the Canadians cheerfully applauded Maridage Team Leader of Danny S. Lacroix, whom he complimented in his welcoming address. "Pleased as we were to see our staff to hold together the first richest refinery plant in the Philippines — the first one at this site in Asia and the Far East. In yet our technological cooperation to search for the best in everyone of us, that Sherbrooke must without trying, the best in everyone of us, that which comes from the inner resources of the human mind and the human heart."

Mr. Mackay came to Port Saskatchewan from Scotland in 1910 and worked on farms in the district until 1912 when he took up a homestead near Westlock.
Mrs. Mackay was born near Sherbrooke, Quebec, and came west with her parents in 1909 to the Ardrossan district. They were married on April 4, 1919.

at the bride's home by the late Rev. Gabriel Langille and moved on to the groom's farm in the same district.
Each took a great interest in all community projects. Mrs. Mackay has been a member of the WMS and president of the local W.A.
Mr. Mackay was trustee and secretary of Agriculture District No. 300 and vice-president of the School Board Association. Both were active members of the Ardrossan Community League.

Meet my mother-in-law

For years, the mother-in-law has been the best of jokes with a touch of bitterness in them. There was singing and laughter and a complete absence of tears. It wasn't even all the way, this went through the depression and the mortgage, and whether the last 50 cents available was going for a house or for a new material for the girls or food for the home. I've never been able to write sarcasmically about my mother-in-law. In the first place, she's not a bad person. I've never been able to write sarcasmically about my mother-in-law. In the first place, she's not a bad person. I've never been able to write sarcasmically about my mother-in-law. In the first place, she's not a bad person.

Now, don't get me wrong, this was no saint, she was a little old, bald-headed lady, wearing old clothes and being heavenly all over the place. She was born in County Antrim, Ireland, and she had most of the traits of that peculiar race. She was a very good mother and a very good wife. She was a very good mother and a very good wife. She was a very good mother and a very good wife.

Josephburg Lions Club Notes

Dief's great vision

Canadian living in the United States often get the question of how our country is faring while driving across the border of a city, that is hard to understand that other Canada
— the far north of the continent.

John Diefenbaker's "vision" of the great northern land of the great north of the continent, the land of the north, the land of the north, the land of the north.

Today, the vast northern lands of our country are being brought up to date in a way that is not only a matter of the future, but a matter of the present.

The northern lands of our country are being brought up to date in a way that is not only a matter of the future, but a matter of the present.

With such high stakes, it is only fitting that the Canadian Government take every measure to ensure that the northern lands of our country are brought up to date in a way that is not only a matter of the future, but a matter of the present.

One hundred and twenty after Canada officially became a nation, the country's history of the north is a story of the north, the story of the north, the story of the north.

In a recent Canadian Home magazine, some new developments in kitchen ware were discussed.

Cutting has come out with a smooth surface cook top. Small designs indicate where succe-sors are to be placed.

A few years ago built-in vacuums were very important.
Price is now more reasonable and certainly the convenience is worth it. One company has just a model that will pick up spills and other damp material such as furniture upholstery cleaning.

I really like my self-cleaning oven. Unfortunately, manufacturers seem to be putting this in

Irene Miller, Terrence Earl Exchange Marriage Vows

ABERDEEN — On Saturday, April 13, Miss Irene Miller of Edmonton became the bride of Mr. Terrence Earl, also of Edmonton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. G. Macfarlane and the late Mr. George Macfarlane formerly of Edmonton and Edmonton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Earl of Edmonton.

The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Douglas Berry, took place at the Anderson home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reynolds.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mr. Henry Reynolds. She wore a floor-length gown of white satin and lace.

Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Earl, the bride and groom were escorted to the altar by Mr. and Mrs. Earl. The bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin and lace.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Miller chose a gown of white satin with white lace. The groom's mother's dress was a deep shade of pink, and her accessories were very blue. The bride's accessories were very blue.

During the ceremony, a special recording made by Mrs. Bert Wilson of Macfarlane, a former music teacher of the bride, was played. Mrs. Reynolds's living room was decorated with large bouquets of pink gladioli and pink and white carnations which were later presented to the mothers of the bride and groom.

Only the immediate families were present for the ceremony. At a reception for family and close friends held later in South Chalmers Hall, the bride's table was decorated with a wedding cake baked by the bride's mother and decorated to taste with blue ribbon work. A dance followed.

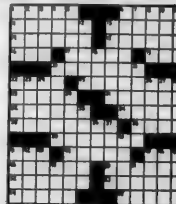

For travelling the bride wore a two-piece suit in white with yellow corded accents. After a most luxurious trip, the couple left for Edmonton. Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Earl of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Earl of Olds, the bride's grandmother Mrs. M. Kesteven of Lethbridge, her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. G. Macfarlane of Newburg, her aunt and cousin Mrs. Irene Miller and husband of Newburg, her cousin Mrs. Edwin Reynolds (the former Owen Miller) who will be leaving shortly to join her husband.

Flowers Of Hope Campaign

May 11 to May 19 has been proclaimed as "Battered Children's Week" throughout Canada, and across the little envelopes of crosses made will be coming to you through the mail the gift of the reared children in your area. Your response, large or small, will be most welcome, and will bring considerably the excellent work that is now being done for these children.

In the County of Strathcona the centre for these children is the Robert Hall School in Sherwood Park, where a fine new building was erected last fall and which is now in full operation.

Thirty-eight children are in attendance, two of them from Fort Saskatchewan, and there are five regular teachers. It is very gratifying to notice the progress that has been made, and the happy new of the children who attend. Please support the Flowers of Hope Campaign.

Cresford Valley Herd Sells To Remittall Cattle Co.

The on-line herd of polled herefords, founded in 1987 by Arnold and Helen Millay was recently sold to Remittall Cattle Co. of Olds, Alberta.

The herd sire, Pure Square Leonard 35L, who weighs over 3000 pounds, has become popular as a sire of progeny of extra size and corrections, so much so, after today. This 15-year-old sire and progeny were responsible for the successful sale.

The cattle from the farm have consistently sold well at sales and placed well when shown. CV Choice Axtell 148 36V, sired by 35L, sold for $1810 in the 1987 Western Classic, his dam sold for $2580 in the same sale, to mention only two.

Breeders of the Leonard consignor to take full advantage of the superior breeding stock were Vic Schneider of Brudenbury, Richard Gahert of Lamont and Ralph County of Tufind, each having acquired both foundation females and herd sires. Also purchasing females were Harry Klapachuk of Millard and O. Schneider.

A good thing always gets around

You've probably heard the word from your friends and neighbors: UFA farm delivery trucks are in move... on the move ensuring that your storage tanks are full. Service is one of the good things about UFA that Alberta farmers are talking about. This dependable service and the know-how of your own UFA oil agent are basic to United Farmers' sound business reputation. That's getting around, too. Last year an impressive list of Alberta farmers earned a 1.2 per cent dividend on their petroleum purchases from UFA. We hope you were one of them. Have you heard the word? Then call or see...

The Busiest Busybody

He's no snapper, but there's a man who knows a lot about when your wife cooks your morning bacon and eggs.

He also knows about other housekeeping habits—such as when your wife does the laundry or turns up the heat.

He knows this because it's his job to see that the gas for your burners—transported sometimes hundreds of miles from production fields—is ready before your appliance is turned on.

The man who knows isn't really a busybody. He's a highly trained man in charge of obtaining huge quantities of gas from many sources. He must direct its flow through hundreds of miles of pipelines to communities throughout Alberta.

He, and other "dispatchers" like him at key positions on Alberta's gas transmission systems, must see that thousands of gas customers get all the gas they want—regardless of the amount, the time or weather.

To accomplish this, he estimates the demand for gas and the time it is needed in each community. Then he issues orders to maintain just the right gas pressure to deliver the right amount of gas to each community.

To help with his job, the chief has a crew of highly trained assistants.

They keep in constant touch with gas sources in the production fields, the company's compressor stations, points of delivery, underground storage tanks, weather stations, regulator stations and customers.

It's a 24-hour-a-day job. Nights, weekends and holidays, trainmen are on the job to provide natural gas. And each man has the ability to act in an emergency.

So you can see why the chief dispatcher knows a lot about your household habits. Because he knows just how much gas you need—and when you need it. You can count on natural gas for round-the-clock, round-the-year service.

ARDROSSAN 4-H CLUB NEWS

SPRING CLEAN-UP NEWS

The Fire Commissioner offers every possible assistance to the Ardrossan 4-H Club in its annual spring clean-up campaign.

Our field staff will give special attention to the following features:

1. Emphasis must be laid on the importance of giving special attention to building exterior and yard conditions such as dry grass and combustible material against wood frame structures.
2. Recommended or order removal of unused or dilapidated from structures on situated that they hindering them could endanger adjacent property.
3. Council with municipal council members on ways and means to include fire department activity with spring clean-up, paint up and beautification features, such as (a) house yard cleaning and house fire inspection, (b) pick up day to east property cleanliness and yard cleaning.
4. Provision of educational films and speakers for committee meetings or working groups.

In recent discussions with Mr. A. D. Hickey, Alberta manager of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, it was agreed to recommend that clean-up week or similar days should be scheduled by communities as early as possible with a view to having all groups finished before May 17, 18 and 19 long weekend.

The Clean-Up Campaign in the Ardrossan 4-H Club is scheduled for May 15-18.

Question: May a licensed real estate agent or salesman buy real estate which is listed with him?

The Real Estate Licensing Act RSA 1953 c. 273 Section 29 states (in part) you can buy a copy "No agent or salesman shall purchase for himself either directly or indirectly, real estate listed with him for sale, nor shall he acquire any interest therein directly or indirectly, until he has clearly disclosed to the listing owner complete details of his negotiations for the sale of the said property to another person." Unquote.

Answer: Yes and No.

Messer's not for me, but...

It's not that I particularly enjoy fighting for bad causes. I hate the flag fight, and I don't like the fact we live in a country that's not a democracy, but...

That's why I think the CBC should cover the trial of Don Messer. It's a case of a man who's been accused of a crime...

Personally, I wouldn't watch the Don Messer trial with a straight face. It's a case of a man who's been accused of a crime...

It may be wrong, but it's Canadian, right out of the headlines. And Messer had his rights. It's not that I don't like the CBC...

Can you imagine Charlie Chamberlain hiding someone in the press, or Don Messer stepping out of the press with a horse blow, or Steve Williams walking through a double-entendre...

The cars with the electronic brains. They're still Volkswagens at heart.

Even though the 1960 VW Squareback, Passat and Matchback sedans are the only cars in the world with computerized fuel injection on standard equipment, underneath it all they're still humble, hardworking Volkswagens.

You still get an air-cooled engine in the rear that doesn't need water or antifreeze. You still get around 31 miles to a gallon of gas. And despite other innovations like a new double-joint rear axle and a heated rear window, we've still made sure that you get a car that isn't too smart for its own good. Because we wouldn't want it said that we let our electronic brains go to our heads.

Check the Yellow Pages under Automobiles for the name of the Volkswagen dealer nearest you.

Glen May

The year of the hot corner
 Heiser is amazing. God bless him.

The 21-year-old rookie turned down a $10,000 offer to play hockey for the Boston Bruins accepting $28,000 from Pittsburgh.

Since this is only 22, and he is fast, very fast.

In his first game as the New York Mets a pair of outfield hits on ground balls, one of which would have been a routine out with almost any other player.

During the off-season whenever the Mets talked trade, the other club always mentioned Glen. That was when the Mets quit talking.

Bobby Richardson got a hit on Opening Day, made an error, was accused of misplaying in another hall and suffered a groin injury the next day.

But now he's back, and the San Francisco Giants are glad he came back. In five minor league seasons he has never hit below .278 and once knocked in 107 runs at Fresno.

Bill Melton is the man Chicago White Sox manager Al Lopez covets. Melton can hit the long ball.

In spring training he batted .341, collected 14 extra-base blows, five of them homers and knocked in 22 runs.

In a game against Minnesota, Dean Chance gunned a fastball at Melton, sending the rookie into the dirt. Chance's next pitch struck out Melton, but the brash rookie hit well sailing through the air toward the pitcher's mound.

Chance jumped out of the way.

Chance said later: "I didn't mean to hit him. The ball just got away from me."

When told of Chance's remark, Melton snarled: "Sure, the ball just got away from me, too."

This is the type of attitude of this year's crop of third basemen. They're here to stay, and undoubtedly, this will prove to be a vintage year — the Year of the Third Basemen.

CONSUMER NEWS

A new regulation has been passed making it necessary to include a complete list of ingredients on wraps. You're aware that this regulation has applied on other products for some time. (Shaw is an example.)

So you know how to interpret the list?

Ingredients are listed in descending order of proportion. When the label reads: Meat, vegetables, oil, salt, wheat flour and seasonings, you know you're getting a product with a good bit of meat. If vegetables are listed first, you know you'll be getting mostly vegetables and some meat. Depending on the intended use, you may or may not want to pay for the extra meat.

C.A.C. Meeting

Recently I attended the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Consumers at the Elbow River.

It was a pleasant surprise to see three delegates from Sherritt Mines—Mrs. Harold Byers, Mrs. Henry Schlicher and Mrs. C. Wood.

The more support you give to the organization, the better will be your position when you come to spending your hard-earned money.

Any one of these ladies could give you further information.

Perhaps you would ask them about the $5 membership fee that entitles you to their bi-monthly publication, Poverty in Alberta.

Mr. Oberholzer, director of human resources, spoke to the above mentioned meeting. He said it's estimated that 30 per cent of Albertans are living at a poverty level, i.e., "barely" may be difficult to define but come not at all less than $4,000 annually and others at less than $3,500. This may or may not work a hardship.

An estimate, this would mean that in Edmonton about 179,000 people could be considered to be living on rather low incomes. And then we talk about all the poor, underprivileged native people—and no doubt they are. But in all of Alberta there is a total of 99,000 Indians and Metis. It's something to think about.

Sherritt Gordon Drills in Northern Manitoba

David D. Thomas, president of Sherritt Gordon Mines Ltd., reported on April 18 that current exploratory drilling in Northern Manitoba on two parallel geophysical anomalies had intersected copper and zinc veins. Two shallow holes have been constructed on section the anomalies and indicate horizontal veins of 70 feet and 160 feet of sulphide ore separated by about 100 feet of apparently unmineralized rock. A third hole, 1,200 feet apart, which has indicated a horizontal width of 25 feet in the first is so. The average grade of all intersections to date is 1.6% copper, and 2.9% zinc. The size of the mineralized zone appears to be near vertical. The anomalies are about 2,500 ft. long.

The ground covering these anomalies was taken during August 1968 as part of Sherritt's routine long-standing program of airborne geophysical surveying followed by ground geophysics and diamond drilling.

An additional drill will be flown to test the property as soon as possible. It will be some time before sufficient drilling has been completed to permit an assessment of the importance of this discovery.

Again this summer the Farmers' Union and Co-operative Development Association will be hosting three groups of Alberta young people for one week's vacation at Galaxy Lake Camp, 110 miles west of Red Deer. Fifty farm boy or girl between 16 and 20 years of age may attend. The program includes such things as Leadership Skills, Youth and Your Future, Community Development, and Co-operative Development. In addition a labor, language and other recreational activities are planned.

Young adults from the Edmonton area (Districts 6, 7 and 8) will attend the July 6-13 camp. Bus transportation has been arranged leaving from Edmonton Sunday morning, July 6.

Cost of this course is $40.00. For plan to be registered, you must arrive at the camp. It is hoped that local farm organizations will support this long-standing program of air-borne geophysical surveying followed by ground geophysics and diamond drilling.

An additional drill will be flown to test the property as soon as possible. It will be some time before sufficient drilling has been completed to permit an assessment of the importance of this discovery.

Using Cover Crops
The annual practice in this area for seedling class large crops is to use cover crops as a cover crop. The idea here is to partially shade the seedling ground or legumes from hot sun and drastic wind erosion during the summer months. Early seedling barley or oats for grain feed or silage are probably best because in winter the crop is harvested by late summer or early fall. This provides ample time before freezing for the forage to partially recover and build to feed reserves to carry them through the winter.

To insure that the cover crop does not become too competitive it is also a good practice to cut down the growing rate per acre to about one-third of normal. In seedling use a little less than normal rates of nitrogen and higher rates of phosphorus. The phosphorus will promote better root development in legumes and human maturity of the cover crop.

Today You Drive A Total Energy Plant — Tomorrow You May Live In One!

Natural gas has taken a new job! Today it's being used as the sole source of energy for commercial buildings, industrial plants, apartment houses, schools and shopping centres, hotels and motels in cities across North America.

How?

The system is like your car. A single source of power — provides energy to power a generator and supply electricity to operate "appliances" like radios and cigarette lighters, waste heat provides warmth in the winter, and of course, there is energy to drive the wheels. All of this energy comes from a single source — natural gas.

The same is true of natural gas "total energy" packages.

As the heart of the system is an engine, like the one in your car, or a gas turbine similar to the aircraft jet engine. In either case, natural gas is the source of power.

A generator, connected to the drive shaft of the engine, produces electricity.

This has been known for years as on-site power generation.

The total energy concept goes a step further. Like your car, it puts to work normally wasted heat energy from the engine to provide heat for the building. And, when summer comes this same waste heat cools the building in an absorption cooling system.

The total energy package has still another job. Industrial plants use the captured heat to produce petroleum products and sulphur, to dry pipe coatings, bricks and even hay. But this is just a start. There are infinite applications where total energy units can provide "free" heat for processing everything — from locomotives to the kitchen sink.

By supplying heating, cooling and electricity, total energy packages operating on natural gas fuel provide substantial savings and here in Alberta where we have an abundance of low-cost natural gas we are seeing more and more "total energy" plants going into service.

Darwin Thompson gave a talk on the year's happenings. Linda Davidson spoke on modelling, with Sandra Morken as the model. Tables were placed at the back of the auditorium and when the girls modelled they walked through a decorated arch. As the girls modelled their garments Karin Wessell and Valérie Thompson gave commentaries on them.

Between the modelling some girls did small skits and dances.

A silver tray was presented to the girls by the Ardrossan 4-H Club. A tray was also presented to Karen Kitching for the best best year's service.

COMBINATION

In a recent commercial bulletin we noted that two merchants were concerned of misleading price advertising.

One was a jewelry manufacturing company who had indicated jewelry with 225 tags. The store then advertised the items at $2.50 — real bargains — except that other stores were selling the same items for $2.00 and $1.50.

Another incident involved a children's clothing store who cannot cut a price of $1.50 and substituted a price of $2.00. It would appear to be quite a savings, however, other stores were selling the same garments for $1.50.

Most of the misleading pricing appears in newspaper ads and on labels. You're probably seen similar phenomena yourself.

Secondly, a manufacturer of a very well known champagne was prosecuted for advertising that champagne as Special $1.00 for two years. An savvy shopper might conclude he was being offered the champagne for less — which he was not.

The brand of champagne that I buy has a similar "one-on-one." The label says "2.50 value" for $1.00 and it's been that way for three or four years.

I shopped in one of these

where the champagne was sold for $1.50. You can see the difference, but not the others. And just to show you that the longer the time the more the change, view it in the 40-cent but two more than double the price in the 34-cent box.

One possible fix for this is to see that the label is clear of misleading "one-on-one." "Value's" "one-on-one" and "advertised" appear when they're being sold at the regular price.

With the new Consumer's Act, the law is clear. The little old consumer does have a chance. I've been amazed at the trouble the department goes to when you send them a letter — whether a complaint or a suggestion. Do try department with lots of purchase, some of retailers and a few of manufacturers where possible.

It's a great design — but how about telephone requirements? Right at the blueprint stage is the time to take advantage of AGT's free Architects, Engineers and Builders Consulting Service. With this professional assistance, you can be sure that your plans incorporate sufficient telephone outlets — accommodation for switching equipment, and provision for conduits. In short, you will have a building that is "Telequipt" — where telephone requirements, present and future, have been designed as an integral part of the structure. Fashion Show Held at Ardrossan High School on April 30

The fashion highlight of the year at Ardrossan Junior and Senior High School was the annual fashion show on April 30. Demonstrations were very creatively designed. Mr. Stace opened the fashion show with an address of welcome.

Mrs. Johnson, the fabrics and dress teacher, and Mrs. Mait, home economics teacher, were presented with corsages in appreciation of the time they spent in preparing the show.

No, the tribute I want to pay is to a modern writer. He's anonymous, or I'd trumpet his name from the house. He's the chap who produces that annual best-seller called "The General Tax Guide." Don't let the title fool you. That's just a front for one of the most helpful money guides of the year.

Patiently, I pointed out to her that women didn't have the patience to deal with income tax forms. They want everything to come out even, just as they do when wall-papering. Mrs. Mait would much rather grin friendly and say, "Let's see what the computer can do with that."

Chemical Control of Wild Oats

The economic losses caused by wild oats is by far the most serious of any weed infesting cereal crops. It has been shown that a moderate application of residual herbicide yields 11.5 per cent, saving 10 to 27 per cent, wheat by 13 per cent, oats by 8.1 per cent, and flax by 8.1 per cent.

Now is the time when wild oats in crops can be controlled through the use of herbicide. In treating wheat, barley, flax and rape the timing of the application is very important. Spraying should be conducted when the majority of the wild oats are in the two leaf stage (4-6 days after emergence), and in no case should crops be treated 14 days after emergence.

Dissemination of the results have occurred where the wild oats are in the three leaf stage and crop damage may result if application is made 14 days after emergence.

Cereals should be applied at a rate of 4-6 ounces active ingredient per acre. The narrow range is for light to moderate infestations and the five-ounce rate is for heavy infestations (over 100 plants per square yard) or low temperatures or low soil moisture conditions.

Notaries From Library Convention

Mrs. Betty Cookman has recently returned from attending the annual convention of the Alberta Library Assoc., where she helped to sponsor and chair a special workshop for librarians of town libraries. The convention was held May 9 to 11 at the Calgary Inn.

Mrs. Cookman is thanked for her assistance in the association's representative on the association's standing committee for regional libraries.

Josephburg Lions Club Notes

During the last meeting of the Lions Club of Josephburg at the community hall a number of items were discussed.

Present was the installation of new officers. The date has been set for June 10. It will be a Ladies' Night with a potluck supper.

Danny Hicks has gone into his well deserved retirement in British Columbia, and all last wishes are given out to him. The farewell party given to him was a great success, and Danny will be sadly missed.

W. Frey gave a report on the training conference which took place in Edmonton during May 3 and 4, and returned to his duties.

R. Hopper reported on the Governor's Ball which was held in Vegreville, and was very successful.

The convention in Kelowna, B.C., is taking place June 5 to 8 inclusive and anyone wishing to attend should contact R. Hopper.

The last convention between Josephburg and Fort Saskatchewan Lions has been set for May 25 and it is hoped that this will become an annual and growing event.

The Ladies' team is in action during week with points being won. Mr. H. Retch from the County of Strathcona education authorities was a guest and gave an interesting talk on social and social educational aid. It would appear that some classrooms are changing to desks and stools.

Also a guest was a charter member of the over 60 Club, Mrs. M. J. West, who is now in the St. Mary's and Bishop Percy Homes.

Poor Turnout of Cash Bingo

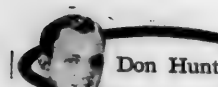

Another poorly attended cash bingo was held last week. If this trend continues another prize schedule will have to be started. Make every effort to help us to continue the entertaining game of bingo throughout the summer.

The share-of-the-week game winner was Mrs. George Pansell, while the bonus game was shared by Mrs. Frank Treadwell and Mrs. Mae Douglas.

Plans reserve Friday, May 25 for another cash bingo. Helpers: Mrs. Hopper.

This annual event was most again very popular and very well attended. Chairman Norm Johnson wishes to thank everyone for their attendance and help.

Both Ladies-sponsored cash bingo members are reminded that this Saturday is the draw to back to back and back to back. Admission is $1.00 per person. Drawing at 8:00 p.m. Cash prizes. Cash prizes. Cash prizes.

Stand up and be counted

Maclean's has long considered itself Canada's national magazine. More so, Canadian writers have appeared on the magazine's pages than any other similar publication. Even when slumping ad sales and revenues produced an annual output of red ink, the magazine continued to offer Canadians a home version of the Gothic (Living Post).

But no company can continue to lose heavily and stay in business, and Maclean's is no exception, despite a healthy parent company. About the time the Post called it quits in the United States, Maclean's found two alternatives — change the format or follow suit.

Starting in January, Maclean's reduced the size of the magazine and adopted the format of the chief advertising publisher of Canada, Time magazine.

The cheaper newspaper cost increased advertising revenues meant less ink for the first time in years. Now Canadian companies could place the same advertisement in Maclean's and Time. To this year, companies not only had to pay top space rates for Maclean's, but faced high production costs since ad for the magazine were good for where else.

To complete the cycle, sports columnist, turned, cravens, turned TV preacher, turned newspaperman, turned politician, turned television commentator, turned TV executive, turned radio commentator, Charles Templeton became editor. It was given a free hand to not only keep Maclean's as the country's national magazine, but to turn it into a money maker as well.

And the May issue was tailor made for some extra promotion. Featuring a nude man and woman, decorating a controversial article entitled "The Natural Superiority of Men."

Certainly the article presented nothing new or startling. Dr. Lionel Tiger, a Montreal-born sociologist, repeated in his theory that women can't be equal because our biological heritage dictates that men.

form groups to run the world and women can't join.

This issue of Tiger was the subject of a lengthy article in Maclean's last week, by Charlotte, last fall. He said the same things then and so no protest.

This time, if you are to believe the Maclean's editors, a group known as the New Feminists and the Women's Liberation Movement, decided to pick the head office of Maclean's.

The militant feminists, all 18 of them, carried placards such as "Maclean's Smirk When It Talks About Women," "Put Lionel Tiger Back In The Zoo," "Maclean's a national magazine — A National Scandal — Our God Maclean's For Every Trashcan," "Men Are Not Superior," "They Are Raised Privileged."

And "just by chance," as the women were marching, two males shared up with their own sign, "Rah, Rah Tiger."

And in case anyone still thought it was legitimate, the women admitted to being the same group that picketed a winter carnival and out of establishment in Toronto. That protest was drawn to little attention when, not of where, the "Women's Liberation Movement" issued a statement denouncing the protest.

Nevertheless to say, it drew all the television, newspaper and radio stations.

This time, the publicity wasn't half as good. Perhaps the editors are catching on to the feminist muckers.

Rather that, or they realize anyone preaching the natural superiority of males is doing as much to harm as to help.

After all, the editors making the judgments were married men. They KNOW the superiority of men is a myth!

In fact, it's about time the men get together and began demanding equal rights. Otherwise, the discrimination against the male species will expand. Ontario took the first step this year by ruling all males require a fishing license. Next year, who knows? They may abolish driving licenses for women.

Orval Anderson Appointed Head of Bob Board

Orval Anderson of Edmonton, who has had a close association with the province's big producers and their organizations for the past 22 years, has been appointed manager of the Alberta Hog Producers' Marketing Board's operations effective June 1st.

Mr. Anderson is due to return next month from the Edmonton office of South Canadian Co. Ltd., where he has been manager of the provision department (now known as the pork department) since 1967. He has been with the company for a total of 22 years, which includes service in Regina, Moose Jaw and Toronto.

traded by the end of October.

Beginning November 1, all slaughter plants to be sold in Alberta will be offered for sale on the board's master selling machine. Packing plants will be able to bid on the offerings through telephone bidding machines located at their offices. Other buying machines will also be located in Edmonton and Calgary to enable out-of-province buyers to have bids taken on their behalf.

Mr. Papp said packing plants will continue to make payment directly to the producer until June 30 1968 by which time the board will have played into its marketing system a computerized system for making selections.

NOTICE

RE: WATERING OF LAWNS AND GARDENS

The watering of lawns and gardens during periods when there is a shortage of water is controlled under By-law No. 1487 which states in part:

"That the watering of any lawn, front, sidewalk, flower or any thing outside will be restricted to the hours of 7:00 a.m. until 9:00 a.m. for all open numbered residences on the even days of the month and to all odd numbered residences on the odd days of the month or to be completely restricted if the conditions warrant it."

As we are entering a period where it will be very difficult, if not impossible, to supply all the water desired in this Town, residents are requested to voluntarily restrict the watering of lawns and gardens to the odd days of the month for odd numbered houses and even numbered days for even numbered houses to help avoid emergency conditions and more restrictive measures.

POST:

Mr. Geary presented a list of large equipment needed for the school at the new Salisbury Community High School, and it was suggested that leaders be put out on the equipment as soon as possible so as to make sure the equipment was in stock by Sept. 1. This was approved.

A letter from Mr. Schindler, who will be principal of Salisbury Jr. High School term, pointed out that he would like an Art room in the school for use next fall. He wanted water and water put in one of the upstairs rooms, but it was pointed out that maybe there could be another room used where water was already installed.

A letter from the secretary of the Fort Sask. High School regarding the use of schools in Fort Saskatchewan was presented to the committee for their information. The letter pointed out that the school group had been told a full for junior services and they were wondering if they would have to pay for it or whether the school committee would pay. It was pointed out that the school committee does not pay for any adult activities, just for young people's groups.

A report was given to the committee on the meeting that was held regarding the school grounds for the Salisbury Community High School. The members representing the following groups were in the meeting: County of Strathcona School Commission, the Roman Catholic Separate School Board and the Recreation Department in Strathcona Park. It was agreed that long-term planning of the area concerned would be beneficial but no one would undertake the expenditure of an amount of money to prepare landscape plans. The school committee agreed that the only thing they would be prepared to do is to level the site and have grass planted on some as possible.

A committee took place with regards to putting of schools for the coming summer. It was recommended by Mr. Geary that the interior of Ardmore High School and the exterior of Salisbury High School be painted this summer. This was approved.

The proposed budget was presented to the committee for their approval. This was carried.

Chevrolet Pacesetter Values

This year's cars at less than last year's prices.

POKE OPENING DELAYED

The serious shortage of water in the past week will cause a delay of several days in the planned opening of the swimming pool. The original plans called for an opening during the last week-end, but without water the most necessary ingredient in the operation of a swimming pool, the pool has become impossible to open. The opening date will be announced through the schools when the start of this new season can be assured.

PRE-TEENHOODER AND BROTHER WITH LESSONS

Registration forms for the pre-teenhooders and brothers swimming lessons, to be held during the month of June, are now available at the counter of the Town Office. All applicants are asked to drop into the office and complete the forms as soon as possible. This has proven to be a very popular program over the past several years and with the increased population this year applications are expected to reach an all-time high. The registration fee is only $1 for the eight lesson course, and this can be paid the first day of lesson.

KNOCKED PEDAL PUSHERS GOING STRONG

Monday and Wednesday evenings from 8 to 9 p.m. the Rec Centre ice surface area has just to be one of the busiest spots in town as the year's popular pushers' club goes through their paces.

AN ADDED FEATURE TO THIS YEAR'S PROGRAM

An added feature to this year's program will be a wind-up bike rodeo to be held on an evening the first week in June when the bike riders in each age group will take part in a competition. This should give every youngster the urge to work a little harder.

LAURENCE WINTERVILLE

Why the Blues failed

Montreal fans who did not expect the St. Louis Blues to do it.

Montreal's failure to win the Stanley Cup was a surprise to many fans. The team had been playing well, but in the final game they were defeated by the St. Louis Blues. The reason for their failure was their lack of experience in the playoffs. They had never won the Stanley Cup before, and they were not used to the pressure of the playoffs.

Although the Blues were not overachieving, most observers, both professional and amateur, were convinced that the Blues were the team to beat. They had a strong defense, a powerful offense, and a coach who was a former player. They had everything it took to win the Stanley Cup.

From the opening faceoff the Blues were in top form. They played with confidence and skill, and they were not intimidated by the St. Louis Blues. They knew they had to win, and they were determined to do so.

But back to the Blues. The Blues were the team to beat. They had a strong defense, a powerful offense, and a coach who was a former player. They had everything it took to win the Stanley Cup.

Let's analyze why St. Louis could not win even a single game against Montreal and why they could only hold the lead once in 12 periods of hockey.

Going back to last year many fans felt the Blues would once again prove to be the team to beat. They had a strong defense, a powerful offense, and a coach who was a former player. They had everything it took to win the Stanley Cup.

However, they had Doug

Harvey to control the game. He was a former player and a coach, and he knew how to win. He was the key to the Blues' success.

Dedication Services On Sunday At Partridge Hill United Church

An addition to the Partridge Hill United Church will be dedicated on Sunday, May 23 at 2:00 p.m. The dedication will be conducted by Rev. P. H. Clark of Norwood United Church. Edmonston church of the Edmonton North Precinct. Mr. Clark will also preach at this special service.

Following the dedication there will be a social hour in the Partridge Hill Community Hall. Everyone is invited to come to this important event in the life of the congregation.

The dedication service is being held in conjunction with the 60th anniversary of the Partridge Hill congregation. Before 1908 the Anglican, Methodist and Presbyterian churches all held services in the Partridge Hill School. In 1902 the Presbyterian congregation decided to build a church with the help of a Home Mission grant of $200.

On May 17, 1902 at 11:00 a.m., the first service was conducted by Rev. A. Forbes, with Rev. D. G. McQueen as guest preacher. That same evening at 7:30 p.m., a second service was conducted by Rev. A. R. Aldridge, minister of the Methodist congregation. Methodist and Presbyterian services were held on alternate Sundays until church was erected.

During the ministry of Rev. J. H. Hodgins (1889 to 1902) a basement was put under the church which up to that time had sat on tamarack blocks. In 1902 the church was completely renewed for the 5th anniversary. The lower house added at this time. In 1904 the church was barely saved from total destruction by fire and this time the damage was repaired and the church re-dedicated.

The canvass was most gratifying and for this the branch would like to express thanks to the generous contributors. This will enable the corps to operate for the coming year without any financial worries. The amount collected was $273.34.

Annual Banquet

The corps will be holding its annual banquet on Thursday, June 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Recreation Centre to which the public is cordially invited. This will give all a chance to see and hear Fort Saskatchewan's only marching band. There also will be open house "dinner" at the Community Hall after the program at the Recreation Centre.

SUNDAY BUNTING

Sunday bunting of big game will be allowed in parts of Alberta this year as a result of amendments to the Game Act passed at the 1960 Session of the Alberta Legislature.

The Hon. Henry Ruzic, Alberta minister of lands and forests, explains that bunting will only be allowed in northern parts of the "green area" of the province and not in the developed regions, or in areas of intensive recreational use. Mr. Ruzic explains the regulations designating areas where Sunday hunting can take place will be announced in July.

Efforts to Reduce Pollution of North Sask. Given a Boost

EDMONTON — Efforts to reduce pollution in the North Saskatchewan River were given a boost recently when a new $500,000 plant for effluent treatment and sewer treatment went into operation.

Let's 1967 the "King Products of Canada Ltd. completed plans for a treatment system for its sewage and building paper plant in industrial Sherburne in order to meet Alberta Department of Health water pollution regulations. The department, previously in the midst of a determined effort to clean up the province's waterways, worked out a treatment plan with the company when it was realized that filters, dry particles, chemicals and grease were finding their way into a nearby stream which flows into the North Saskatchewan.

Pollution experts point out that for a 100 ton per day building materials factory, $500,000 represents a substantial expenditure on waste water treatment.

A primary and secondary treatment system was demonstrated on an average of 300 gallons a minute from the plant—incorporating a 20-inch diameter concrete clarifier and a filter by 100 foot lagoon equipped with aerating and mixing devices.

Four effluents in first purport into the clarifier then allowed to settle while sludge is changed into a sludge baffle and oil and grease is skimmed off by a special skimming mechanism.

The secondary treatment phase necessary to render effluents suitable which display the river's oxygen supply. First received the effluent—consisting of both ends of an adjacent culvert (dry river bed) to form the $500,000 system.

Sludge is left to 20 feet of water — by now containing fewer suspended solids — are all surplus water which must water — compressed air in a turbulent fashion to make certain that oxygen is absorbed.

Channelled waters from the lagoon flow into the North Saskatchewan by a municipal sewer while the 100 foot stream which formerly carried plant effluent has been re-routed through the lagoon by means of an unlined by-pass pipe.

King Products concern with water pollution is also reflected at Lake Waberton, where an effluent study is being carried out to determine the most effective method of treating effluent from their fibre board plant.

Keep the reserve clause

It is no secret that Canada is a country which has long been dominated by the huge natural fiber power in the south known as the United States of America. Perhaps it would be unfair to say that it always has been and always shall be, but more theless, we're in the U.S. bag right now.

The Federal Administration of our country is hailed as being all powerful — a world without end, so to speak.

It's now all of you have had sufficient time to weigh the many merits of the exclusive immunities of the Nash Feltre, the federal body appointed to investigate amateur and professional sport in this country. Undoubtedly you have studied the report and drawn your own conclusions.

To be unequivocally in favor or against the entire report is impossible. However, it must be pointed that the report is basically sound with the exception of the part dealing with the National Hockey League.

The main battle rages around the NHL aspect is Clause 11 (2).

This particular clause deals specifically with the freedom (or lack of it) of the hockey player in the NHL. It is more commonly known as a reserve clause. Why I don't know.

It states: "The player hereby undertakes that he will at the request of the Club enter into a contract for the following season upon the same terms and conditions of this contract, save as to salary which shall be determined by mutual agreement." In the event that the player and the Club do not agree on the salary to be paid, the matter shall be referred to the President of the League, and both parties agree to accept his decision as final.

This clause would more aptly be termed a marriage clause, but without the escape of divorce.

To destroy or eliminate this clause would, as Frank Selke Jr. barked: "Be the death knell of hockey."

Perhaps Mr. Selke was being somewhat melodramatic. Perhaps he was too strong in his remarks. Perhaps he is right.

If this clause is revoked by our federal powers then the NHL would become nothing more than an open "free market" with the highest bidder winning the services of the "name" greatest player. Naturally, this moved would mean all to win the Stanley Cup each night now.

Federal administrators will argue that each team can only buy 20 players. They will insist that there will be abundant talent available to keep the league competitive. But let's select 20 players, and then decide if a competitive team could be formed to challenge the powerhouse.

We could select the following: Bobby Hull, Brian Binnie, Gordie Howe, Frank Mahovlich, Phil Esposito, Bobby Orr, Ted Green, Rod Gilbert, Rod Giacomini, Reggie Leach, Jean Beliveau, Serge Savard, Norm Ullman, Tim Horton, Red Berenson, Barry Grant, Al Arbour, Ted Hampson, Norm Ferguson and Bill White.

Okay, now let my administrator select 20 players which would be competitive?

This would prove to be an impossible task for even the feds.

There is no alternative but to keep the reserve clause in the NHL contracts. Although it may be undesirable, it is a necessary evil. Certain elements of society would say it is too.

To put the rap on the NHL, and its reserve clause is unfair. The reserve clause has been tested in the U.S. by baseball, clubs and by before the American courts. The courts upheld the clause, and it does not seem likely they will ever reverse their stand on it.

And, as we are an American-dominated country, our courts will make any adjustments to the reserve clause.

The Nash Feltre pact was completed of amateur, militarily speaking, and they've come to a revised job in the amateur field with their recommendations. Professionally, they missed the mark.

The challenge was answered either — the long hair, the wild hair, the hippies were included.

A few years back, if someone suggested thousands of Canadians would walk up to 50 miles for charity in the year 1969, the suggestion would have been ridiculed. And if anyone predicted, the gentlemen in the white suits would have been dismissed.

Yet here we have 12,000 briskly crossing the starting line in St. John's, Newfoundland, and across the country, 22,000 starting off in Vancouver.

The success of this idea proves once again that citizens will react in amazing ways if the right challenge is offered. When Bobby Kennedy suggested we all should walk 50 miles once in a while to keep fit, the majority of Americans and Canadians adopted the attitude that such a walk was all right for a Kennedy. But who else had the time to get in 22 or 12 hours on the road, not counting the days required to recover.

Upcoming events at the club include the following:
Junior May's competition on May 24 for all male members, commencing at 1:00 p.m.
Club championship, commencing May 26
Fisher and Son Tournament, June 13
Senior Men's Championship, August 31.

Besides, the goal of the Kennedy walk was strictly personal — to make the walker healthier. One thing that motivates most people is personal health. Take a look at the number of modern despite the statistics and the unnumbered overseas right Canadians.

That's why the Kennedy plan failed and the Miles for Millions caught on. The moral health goal was the same but the agency was on behalf of someone else.

Despite the knowledge who complain we shouldn't have to resort to gimmicks to help the poor, the Miles for Millions not only benefited charity but gave the youth in this country a chance to prove they're not all bad.

A friend of mine who is on the money side of St. Paul, got over the enthusiasm of the teenagers in his group. With-out their urging, it is doubtful if he would have finished. And they weren't all clean cut kids.

Obviously, the citizens of the country's two big cities will have to take to the streets and practice up for next year's challenge. Otherwise, all those Millionaires and Western Canadians who have remained in the money and wealth of Toronto and Montreal will make their move.

And according to the figures, they should walk all over town.

at our surface which causes a "cracking" of the land surface. Several of these areas may appear on each road. Seedlings which are disturbed, or shaded from the sun by other plants, usually escape damage.

You may be tempted to turn the affected crop under and re-sow. Experience has shown that this is neither desirable nor necessary. In most cases the condition affecting the crop disappears when normal weather returns. The yield generally is not reduced. In exceptionally hot, dry weather cultivation and weeding may do more harm than good.

"Chlorotic Banding"
A Temperature Factor

A number of inquiries have come into this office on chlorotic banding of the seedlings of several crops. It is usually recognized by the characteristic whitening and pinching effect of a narrow band on seedling leaves. If the "banding" is severe, leaves may fall over, wither and die. Often though they continue to grow, carrying the "band" upward away from the soil surface where the injury occurred. Sometimes, two or three "bands" appear, as a result of recurring damage.

Chlorotic banding may be caused by abnormally high soil temperatures at the soil surface. The latter occurred frequently in the spring of 1968, 1969 and 1970. This year, however, most of the injury is a direct result of very high temperatures.

ANNIVERSARY, ADDITION MARKED AT PARTRIDGE HILL

A day looked to end in the sun but fell when clouds in the new addition to Partridge Hill United Church settled around Sunday, May 15, when it would be dedicated.

A light rain in the morning was followed by a beautiful sunny afternoon when around 100 gathered at the church for the dedication service long held in connection with the 60th anniversary.

The service was emceed by Rev. Peter Ream and Mrs. Hal Sammel, with Mrs. Reed Francis organist. Sunday School pupils sang the anthem "In No Secret," accompanied by Dennis Lawrence.

Rev. Frank Chubb, chairman of the Edmonton North Presbytery, guest speaker, gave the very impressive dedication and anniversary sermon.

An informal period took place when Rev. Ream asked Mrs. Chubb and Mrs. Sammel to hold up to view an autograph book spread made by the Ladies' Aid of 1951 to 1961 as a record of raising funds. He then named those in the congregation who were present at the dedication and opening of the church in 1901.

Mrs. Minnie Summons, who sang in the choir; Mrs. Wilmet Abbot; Mrs. J. W. Atwood; Mrs. Robert Gordon; Mrs. Hazel Clark; Mr. Anna Oshodson; Mr. George Oshodson; Mr. Vard Lawrence; Mrs. Charles Hagen; Mrs. Bill Pearson; Mrs. Tom Pearson (their hands being in the choir); Mr. Clarence Rye although the 1961 dedication was in attendance representing his family; Miss Sado Whitson, who was in Victoria, was represented by her niece and nephew; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rye; Mrs. Ross Hume; Mrs. Dennis Woodhead (nee Torres); Mrs. Mabel Andrews (nee Kennedy); Mr. Jack Coenen and Mrs. Bob Allen were unable to be present.

We regret that the name of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, named; their eldest son Cliff, due to illness was unable to be present. But was represented by his wife Edith and sister, Mrs. George Oshodson. Mrs. Clarence Armstrong, nee Oshodson, was regrettably missed. Mrs. Hodgins who, with her husband Rev. E. J. Hodgins served the church from 1901 to 1908 was present. Also Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Griffin who taught school at Yvonne Valley over 30 years ago and attended in church and Sunday School, were present.

The dedication, followed Mr. Cliff Dittich, member of the choir, in the name of the Partridge Hill congregation asked Rev. Chubb to dedicate "this addition of our church and its part to the glory of God."

After the closing hymn and communion, Rev. Ream pronounced the benediction. Following this service the congregation moved to the community hall where lunch was served by the ladies of the congregation. Oldsters met and reminisced over the years now past. One gentleman was heard to say, "Seven of us seated right here went to school together in 1902."

We say thank you to all those from neighboring churches who were present; they added greatly by their presence to the following. Several bouquets of flowers decorated the church. A grateful thank you to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Becker, Partridge Hill U.C.W., Mrs. Morgan Abbot, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dittich, Mr. and Mrs. George Oshodson, Mrs. Wilmet Abbot and Mrs. Atwood. A feeling of thankfulness and goodwill was, as friends greeted friends, old and new — it will be another day long remembered in our hearts.

It's got me baffled

It takes a nickle to make a muckle, whatever that means. And it takes a lot of nickles and muckles to make up that peculiar agglomeration of mammals known as modern society, including a quantity of crickpots and a wolverine without. Present company excepted.

Your different glimpses of modern society, the human race, in the last few days have baffled me completely. How did we get as far as we've come? And how come we haven't got further? First of these was a big project of the big show industry I work in. Teachers and students have been staring for months, making excuses and planning trips. They wound up with about 20 million, some, some and no brains.

With just a little less fanfare than the Spanish Armada, they set off on a sunny Friday afternoon, holiday weekend, to conquer the wilderness and make Diana Brule look like a Sunday tripper.

It rained all day Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the great national park they chose for their insanity. The temperatures was a little above freezing. They came back exhausted, soaked to the skin, and frozen to the marrow.

About 50 people were about as miserable as they ever have been, or ever will be, in their lives. And already they're planning the next trip. Already, it's a great adventure, in my opinion.

I know the feeling. I was a prisoner of war, and there was little joy in the least. But looking back, I wouldn't have minded it for anything. Pretty stupid, eh?

The name weekend, when the rain ruled out anything intelligent, I took two little slices out to the beach to see the "motorcycle gang." We saw them. In all their glory. Black leather, hairy long hair and frightening. The kid wasn't. I was frightened, that is.

When we arrived, these young adults, and I emphasize that they're not teenagers, were grooving on fireworks. Fortunately, they were so heedless, and it was so dark, that the whole thing was a little bit of a fiasco. They were trying to light Roman candles and such on the floor of a restaurant.

Adults, playing with fireworks and... What makes these people wonder about the country in wolf packs? They say that kids kick from snare, speed and certainty some of them have brains, feelings, decency. Yet they're capable of actions that recall Hitler's brown shirts. I don't think there's any need to go into detail. I was glad the two police cars were there.

The next night, there was a big fire, about four blocks from our house, when a lumber yard went up in a dazzling display. And who was there hot-rodding it from all over town to get a ring-side seat? Good, honest, responsible taxpayers. Including yours truly.

I was so pleased (I've always loved a good fire, especially at night) that I left my wife standing in her dressing-gown and pyjamas, about a block from the blaze, while I pressed closer for a check-by-jowl view with the other nervous children.

"Ain't she a candy?" And "That's a real ripper." And we grinned into each other's eyes, for a moment, as I understood because there was no wind, and the flames were preventing it from spreading while we waited three blocks home, in the night after, 10 minutes before completely. What kind of people are we?

And then I went back to bed, and the weekend, and here are these Grade 12 students, in panel discussions, name sessions and seminars, grappling intelligently with the problems they're going to have to face shortly.

They're not doing it to impress me. Some of their opinions would cost their mothers' hair. But they don't like society much the way it is, and they want to do something about it.

They get angry with each other, disagree, grow red in the face, and shout at each other like a well, like a group of adults.

Crazy world, but it's the one I want to stay in. In addition, today's world, in addition, the old colonialists of the historians, needs some minor chroniclers, like your humble servant, to tell it as it was. Twenty Telephone Typists.

New Paving Program Expected to Start Soon

Despite initiatives by Council Aldermen, the Town Council Monday night agreed to let the bids for paving the Sheraton Heights addition, Phoswre and commercial areas. To the Construction Ltd. at a cost of $250,000. Work could be expected to start as soon as contracts had been drawn up and signed, and should be completed by the fall.

Mr. Alderman said he was reluctant to support this recommendation as there was not sufficient evidence that the proposals for the commercial areas were fully supported. Mr. Fraser felt that the only objectives had been to the possibility of reducing parking facilities, and assurances had been given that this would not happen.

Garden and Shrubbery Interest Points

Now that spring is almost finished you may find time to have a look at your garden and shrubbery and check trees. As your garden is growing it may be at various stages of development. Some species of plants, bushes, vines and shrubs, which have various types of growth habits, require a different method of treatment for each.

One that is abundant now is the clematis. They attack all types of garden crops by cutting down off at or just below the soil level. Special checks have been developed especially for clematis. Follow the directions it gives on the label, but do not apply to the clematis position of the plant.

Another just in the cabbage were which attacks cabbage, cauliflower, turnips and radishes. They attack the leaves, eating large circular holes in them. They can be controlled by proper application of Malathion or Dithion to the affected plants.

Red spider beetle also attacks the above group of plants and can be controlled with Malathion.

Apple may also attack garden plants. They suck the sap from the leaves and cause the plants to wilt and become unsightly. They can be sprayed with Dithion, dithion or malathion applied to the leaves and to the soil around the trees. They produce a sick secretion called honey dew which may appear white or silvery but later becomes dark. Malathion is a commonly used method of control.

With the ground full of wet caterpillars it would be wise to check your trees for caterpillars or for their egg rings. If you find these egg rings or find caterpillars feeding on your trees, Malathion or Dithion at recommended rates.

Now evergreens are also subject to insect damage. Spruce needle scale or "caterpillars" is one which will do the most damage. Apply Malathion very carefully as a control measure.

Fireworks Shows Will Feature Sky-Dazzlers

Impressive and often with rain from the sky Whistling down will chase a flight of fireworks and an Arctic blizzard will rock under the dark, by fireworks and sky-dazzlers in a small.

There are also two dozens of trees which cannot be electrically controlled chemically. The first is wood borer or bark beetle. They enter and burrow along just under the bark, by boring and feeding they may gnaw and kill the tree. Little can be done to save infected trees but individual galleries may be controlled by applying carbon tetrachloride or lindane to the holes. For seriously affected trees the best method of control is to prune away and burn the infected parts.

Another disease which occurs in this area is fireblight. It is a bacterial disease and is spread by various insects. It affects apple, cherry and plum trees. The blight and leaf curl and brownish-black, dried and die as it is scorched by fire. The bark may appear shriveled and discolored. Remove the damaged parts by cutting at least six inches below the damaged area. Wash the cut area and grafting unions with bleached bleach. Kill strength, after each cut. Burn the damaged wood immediately. More information may be found in the form of pamphlet by writing or calling at this office.

FUA Concerned Over Two Points in Health Program

Although the Farmers' Union of Alberta strongly supports the National Health Services program, there are two points of the plan which are causing the FUA "deep concern." These are the provisions that the Alberta Medicare Commission will not be an independent body and that the governing body does not include a wide representation from consumer groups.

In a letter to new provincial Health Minister James Henderson, FUA president Paul Babey expressed the organization's dis-

Sheriff Reports Results of Copper-Zinc Prospects at Rutton

TORONTO — Mr. David D. Thomas, president of Rutton Gordon Mines Limited, reported on further results of diamond drilling on the Rutton Lake, copper-zinc prospect located 65 miles southeast of Lynn Lake, Manitoba.

Two heavy drills and one light drill have as far completed 14 holes. Diamond drilling shows to about 300 feet, being completed on 100 foot sections or intervals along an east-west strike length of 1,000 feet. Three or four shallow holes located to be drilled in the east half of the mine to complete this part of the drilling program. One drill has completed a series of deeper holes.

In the shallow drilling to date, while several of the intersections at the west end of the mine show quite high grade copper and zinc values, nevertheless the average grade of the intersections in the 13 shallow holes that cut the main zone, over the 1,000 feet, is 1.32 per cent copper and 2.04 per cent zinc. The average horizontal width of zones intersections is 30 feet, if the dip is 40 degrees, the width of the zone would now appear probable.

The latest drilling suggested two parallel zones, however, the drilling to date indicates that the north zone is the main ore zone. The parallel south zone is of lower grade and does not appear to be continuous.

The first of the deeper holes drilled at the east end of the main zone, under line first discovery hole, intersected a horizontal width of 180 feet averaging 0.88 per cent copper and 1.80 per cent zinc at a vertical depth of 600 feet in the main zone. The south zone was not of ore grade in this hole. On the drilling to date, the main zone occurs at its widest on this section and, at 190 feet vertical depth, the horizontal width was 180 feet averaging 0.80 per cent copper and 4.20 per cent zinc.

Indications to date are that about the top 200 feet probably could be mined by open pit methods.

Dow Chemical Appointment

Mr. E. M. "Bibi" Horton has joined Dow Chemical of Canada, Limited as manager, plant science products sales at Sarnia. A native of Steinburg, Alta., Mr. Horton graduated from the University of Alberta at Edmonton in 1952. He is well qualified in agricultural science with experience gained as district agricultural agent for the Alberta Dept. of Agriculture, in marketing of agricultural chemicals in Western Canada, in farming and in teaching at the Vermilion College of Agriculture in Alberta.

Mr. Horton replaces L. A. MacDonald who has transferred to the Dow company at Midland, Michigan.

Tennis Club News

The first of the season's inter-club matches was played last week. Playing for the Fort against the formidable Royal Glensia Club were Loretta Reid and Sheelagh Moore, Marlene and Bruce Orchard, and Ken Corch and Terry Miller.

On Thursday, at home, the Fort team took two of the three sets. At Glensia on Friday they took the second of the Fort players in all three sets. It should be noted, however, that to take two of six sets from Glensia is quite an achievement.

Let's play their game

The word amateur is defined in the dictionary as: "a person who indulges in some activity for pleasure, not for money or as a profession."

The meaning is clear-cut. Amateurs do not receive money when participating in sport. The height of amateurism is supposed to be in the fact that the world's athletes must not in competition every four years.

How Olympic athletes choose their careers in the realm of professional sport. Twenty-eight percent of the "professional" athletes are from North America. The reason is the strength code of professional athletes which includes the sphere in which foreign athletes and performers.

In North America we have two forms of athletes: amateur and professional. There is no grey area. However, in the rest of the world's arena, athletes are chosen as amateurs although they may realize five figure salaries. In Soviet hockey stars.

To our foreign athletes sport is a job. And it is a job which pays money. In North America it is a job which pays money when he becomes a professional. And to world athletes competition, only amateur athletes are allowed to compete.

This code of ethics in international sport is necessary. Yet this hypocrisy is allowed, with five diameters, although Canada has recently begun to object strenuously in the area of hockey.

Recently, Bruce Abernethy, the star of the international ice hockey Federation said publicly: "A professional is one who is hired by a contract. I don't care if an amateur is paid money, but he cannot sign a contract."

Mr. Abernethy obviously feels the dollar sign is not important.

What he will not allow (and he has the power of veto) is for a professional athlete to be hired by contract to a Canadian or American hockey team to participate in international hockey.

Josephburg Lions Club Notes

During the last meeting of the Lions Club Josephburg at the Josephburg Community Hall the installation of the new Officers for the year 1967-68 in formal manner was the main event.

The meeting also was organized as Ladies Night with a pet rock auction and a raffle. A special supper contributed by the Ladies Charities.

As guest Mr. and Mrs. John Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schuster, Mr. Elmer Thomas, from the Fort Saskatchewan Lions Club were welcomed.

Other guests welcomed were Mr. Cliff Kennedy from Fort City Hall and Mr. John Ballance. Also Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Kinsman from Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Kinsman from the Fort Saskatchewan Lions Club were welcomed.

As we have the world's finest hockey players in the National Hockey League it is not time to give our foreign for a taste of hockey the way it is played in the NHL and send them overseas.

This wouldn't have to have any more than three or four practices imported before being ready.

The 18 players selected would not be based by a contract. They and their owners would mutually agree that there would be no signing of contracts until after the season tournament. This could be done. Then Mr. Abernethy or Mr. Chabot by his own words.

This procedure would point out to the world the common sense dignity of the IIRF's code of hockey ethics.

Mr. Abernethy would allow NHL players to have a team and compete in the IIRF C. This would save the NHL team against such countries as Russia, Japan and England. If you remember, during the 1960's when the Soviet Union had trouble defeating some of our country's national clubs this was the situation.

But, nevertheless, let allow the foundation.

It would take no more than one year before the IIRF would be forced to allow the NHL team to move into the select A group.

Once the NHL players play the international game of hockey the IIRF will have no alternative but to have open the gate and play our game.

HRDA-ARDA Grant to Develop Miquelon Park

The recreational facilities in Miquelon Provincial Park will be rapidly expanded by a new HRDA-ARDA project.
Hon. F. C. O'Connor, chairman of the Human Resources Development Act, and Hon. Jean Marchand, Federal Minister of Regional Economic Expansion, approved the $175,000 development project for 1968-69.

The cost will be shared equally by the Federal and Provincial Governments.

The project, designed to meet local, public, and tourist demand for park facilities, will be implemented by the Parks Branch, Department of Lands and Forests.

A Parks Branch survey indicated that park utilization is increasing rapidly and facilities have become inadequate. In the 1960-68 fiscal year, 120,000 people used the Park. In 1967-68 200,000 people used the same facilities.

The Federal-Provincial development in the Park will help to meet the recreational needs of the local community. It will also stimulate the area's tourist trade. This will provide improved income and employment opportunities for the local people.

The project includes a launching area; playground; group use area; roads; and public parking facilities. The project must meet the ever-growing demand for fishing, boating, camping, and swimming in Miquelon Park.

The Department of Lands and Forests prepared a beneficial analysis of the Miquelon project. The study concluded that the project was economically feasible with a 1:1 benefit-cost ratio.

The 1968-69 project in the Park is a portion of a long-term program for developing recreation facilities and increasing tourist trade in the Rural Development Area of Alberta.

Workmen's Compensation Board Trains for Accident Prevention

When a humanism and economic point of view it is much better to prevent accident and injury to workmen than to pay compensation for injuries suffered. The Workmen's Compensation Board has an Education Section within the Accident Prevention Department designed to help employees realize and maintain effective accident prevention programs. Training courses are arranged in close liaison with the education staff, working in close liaison with the inspection staff, to produce an efficient and co-ordinated program which will benefit employers and workmen. All educational services are available to industry without charge.

Some of the courses offered cover a comprehensive range of subjects all of which are designed to maintain the safety of the workers. Of these the Supervisors' Training Course graduates the largest number, 807 from a total of 38 classes held in 1968 at various centres throughout the province. The object of this course is to provide the supervisors with the knowledge required to reduce, and whenever possible prevent, industrial accidents. Training is given in accident prevention, basic accident control, accident investigation and job safety analysis, as well as other related subjects.

The Safety Co-ordinators' Course is held only in Edmonton and its aim is to provide Safety Co-ordinators with the principles required to implement an effective accident prevention program. The Co-ordinator must have knowledge of accident causes and of methods for their prevention.

The responsibility of management to wards safety in industry and how these responsibilities may be realized through efficient accident control, job analysis and personnel training, and by co-ordinating the efforts of all subordinates within the organization to achieve the aims of safe, efficient production.

The Education Section also holds Safety Seminars throughout the province to explain to workmen the various hazards of industry and how they might be overcome. Special seminars, specialists with particular industries, are involved in this past. In addition to talks and films, practical demonstrations are given such as fire demonstration, hydrogen sulphide (H₂S), carbon monoxide etc. In 1968 nearly 3,000 Albertans attended these seminars.

Also available to industry is the Safety Advisor Program. Where a company requires assistance in establishing an effective accident prevention program, a safety supervisor from the Education Section will act as a Safety Advisor for it. This service includes an analysis of past accidents and recommended action to prevent their recurrence and training of supervisory personnel and safety co-ordinators of required.

Petitioners Ask That More Wells Be Drilled

Although nearly fifty people signed a petition to the Town Council demanding that immediate action be taken to alleviate the shortage of water in the town, the town council has not yet taken any action.

The petition, which was supported by taxpayers from all parts of the town, asked for more wells to be drilled and more and larger pumps to be installed.

The petitioners also asked that the town council should consider the possibility of installing a water treatment plant to purify the water from the wells.

A.G.T. Spends $2.2 Million On Communication Network

Alberta Corp. Telephone has spent a $2.2 million communication network across the province from Edmonton to Grande Prairie to facilitate construction of the Alberta Resources Railway, and to provide for the development of the non-renewable resources along the route.

Numerous obstacles had to be overcome, and the communication network stands as a tribute to the ingenuity and dedication of many men. Preliminary planning was carried out in the degree before construction. Summer 1980 forced vehicles to be switched along, such as by truck, through continuous quantities of mud.

network, the system will serve generally as a backup for traffic from the North. It will also handle calls from Grande Cache, consequently routed over the rail route facilities.

Major infrastructure systems take a number of years to engineer and construct, and AGT must be able to anticipate requirements long before the actual road or airway. Path testing on the Edmonton Grande Prairie system was commenced in 1980 - almost three years ago.

The light route microwave system was completed at a cost of $800,000. This system provided the Alberta Resources Railway and made its construction possible. Now that the railway is completed, the light route system provides for the centralized control of trains from Edmonton, and for direct train-to-train communication. It also provides communication for speeder operators and work crews. A subsequent microwave may provide for electronic hot box detectors along the line.

The light route microwave system has the advantage of being able to be broken out for local service at any point. Thus it will facilitate the development of mobile, haulage, pulp and paper, petrochemicals, and tourism along the route.

A general mobile system provides vehicles with radio telephone service throughout the entire area between Edmonton and Grande Prairie.

For a considerable time, the only landmarks in Grande Cache were the AGT radio relay building and microwave tower. In March 1980, a step by step transportation building was moved in the townsite to provide 600 lines for telephone service. A second transportation building, with 800 lines, is scheduled to be installed in 1981. Then, finally, if growth expectations are realized, a permanent telephone exchange building will be constructed in Grande Cache.

You don't have to be old to apply for your old age security pension.

Just 65.

Starting in January, 1970, the Old Age Security pension is payable on your 65th birthday.

If you are 65 or will be 65 before January, 1970, you should apply now. You will then receive your first payment in January. If you will be 65 in 1970, you should apply six months before your 65th birthday.

An application form for your Old Age Security pension is available at your local Post Office, or you can write to the Regional Director of Old Age Security in your Provincial capital. Along with your application

The best sellers in many brand lines are in the 1968-1969 category. Machines for machine maintenance and maintenance with a strong for finishing seems can run 100-150, even in the nationally automated lines.

You'd better be a good deal of money to justify a 100 machine and yet, in every saving some I cannot, half the women have expensive machines. Most now half a dozen garments a year.

The thing I've noticed is that some of the machines are not mechanically well involved and you have to study the manual and practice to get the most from your machine.

The keep your instruction books and study them. They're invaluable since every machine has its differences.

I would be very careful about buying an instruction book that you may have difficulty getting service and parts for if you buy second-hand or at an auction sale because the machine is complete.

This includes the instruction book unless you're certain you can get missing books, parts, and accessories elsewhere.

My most of sewing courses is pretty well finished except for a certain for the inmates of the Fort Saskatchewan jail.

As far as I know, I'd be moving into head office if the people I've met and the friends I've made. Certainly there's nothing that can match Edmonton work for variety and it has its amusing side, too. Last summer an inexperienced householder (I hope) called and asked how to make asparagus without using cabbage.

He sent to drive me a ring or look me up (our office is in the Agricultural Building on 167 Street and St Avenue) when you're in town.

Bill Smiley

It's been quite a month

"You're Only As Old As You Act," is good, sometimes. Mr. Thomas, a Minister, was silly. The chairman, Richard, was a little bit of the same. But, was even wiser, and, was a little bit of the same. The venerable, if not blessed, Harry Boyle, a witty writer and editor under his farm-boy facade, was there, and was witty.

In fact, the whole thing was extraordinarily funny for many, painful for me. My wife galloped through a huge and excellent dinner, darning her eyes at my plate, where nothing was missing except a few of the inevitable green peas, which I had managed to munch.

Just as dinner began, I had a terrible attack of lapping blood and couldn't eat a thing. I decided the only thing to do was to paralyze the touch. I tried, but it refused to play.

All I succeeded in doing was paralyzing the rest of me, meanwhile carrying on about my tooth (heavily, of course) to such an extent that my wife remarked later it was like hearing a crying baby in Church.

However, it all worked out fine. We went to a small gathering after the dinner, and incredible numbers of young, pretty college girls hovered about me, fetching me aspirin, gin and other medications.

Meanwhile, my old lady spent an hour or so straightening and the editor of the Globe and Mail, I finally expected to find this column on the front page on Monday morning. She gave it to me, the same old Globe magazine of world events and murders and other speeches of Cabinet Ministers.

Not content with my scheduled duties, she had me in June with another wedding. She wanted a loan toward an electric piano, a radio, a small number of things. She "The on the way," "You're going to have to pay me the same thing," and she had her own way.

All that we needed to make it a Christmas gift was the money. The bank had the money, but the interest rate, which was a great mistake, was too high.

Then, the money was gone.

Next day, one of those side-tanned stamps which my dentist laughingly calls teeth began to tick up. And it's been kicking up, down and sideways ever since.

If I had any guts I'd tie a string around it, fasten the string to a doorknob and slam the door. However, I have about as many guts as I have teeth, so I go on trying to save this one.

I can't even hike a march-hike without going late on, as I've practically been on a head set for weeks. This has its disadvantages. Which is worse every morning — a headache or a hangover? And how would you like both?

As to our custom, my wife and I went to the annual Leacock Model Award Dinner recently. I've been a judge in the competition for several years and enjoy meeting a few big shots and finding their feet are made of the same type of clay as my own.

Next day, the same custom of some writers from the big dinner, it's a good party in a good cause — besides, they break the words and money of Canada's — and one of the world's greatest customs.

This year's winner was Stuart Thomson, whose book,

A SHOVEL FULL OF TROUBLE!

Hold it right there! One more sweep with that shovel and you could cut clean through an AGT telephone cable! It's easier than you think. You dig post holes or a trench in your back yard, and before you know it the damage is done, you've severed a buried cable... severed vital communications to businesses; to hospitals, police and other emergency services. Right now, before you take one more sweep with the shovel, dial "0" (Zero) and ask for Zenith 07128. An AGT Technician will mark off the exact location of any buried cables and save you and others a great deal of trouble, expense, even involvement in law suits! Remember, in town or country — a call in time can save the line. AGT's Free Cable Location Service — Dial "0" and ask for Zenith 07128. Toll free of course.

Canada is an adolescent

Well, give or take a day or two, Canada is 108 years old. A man of that age is an adolescent, either way or a country of that age is just a pup.

Question: Is Canada stable and growing, or is it a pup? Some think it is a pup.

Here, then, something, our country is an adolescent. It has all the best and worst features of that peculiar breed.

It is nearly first to jealousy, self-doubt, suspicious, lacking in self-confidence, shy one minute and bold as brass the next. It is opinionated without knowing much, conformist and rebellious, anxious for approval and deeply wounded when it is not understood, idealistic and materialistic. In short, a typical teenager, all mixed up.

Tremendous potential, but no clear idea of where it is going. The South family with its typical teenager, all mixed up.

Older brother, who used to be a model in school, has now gone to the church, has now all world. He gets now and then a call from his old friends, but he is now a different person. He is now a different person.

FIRE IN MAY

OTTAWA—During the month of May, 238 forest fires damaged a total of 5,800 acres of woodland throughout the Department of Fisheries and Forestry. These fall well below the figures of May of 1967, when 1,229 fires damaged 11,500 acres.

So far this season, 1,548 fires have damaged 3,100 acres. These compare favourably with the average annual figures to the end of May, calculated over the previous ten years: 2,115 fires, and 4,000 acres damaged.

Heeding Better Than Speeding for Label Reading

Have you joined America's popular new educational road speed reading?

Whether or not you decide to increase your ability to read each hour in mind there are times when reading accurately is more important than reading speedily.

One such time is when you read the label on a medicine container, says the Council on Family Health. Taking or giving medicine is so important to the health and safety of you and your family that you should understand the directions you are reading, and then double check yourself.

If you want to measure how well you understand what you read, just yourself by reading a medicine label in your home, says the Council, a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by leading members of the drug industry.

Did you note the amount of medicine to be taken? Does the dosage vary for adults and children? How often should the medicine be taken?

If in a little, should you shake the container well before pouring? Is it for external or internal use?

Does the label state the purpose of the medicine? Are there instructions for proper storage... such as "Keep in a cool place." Should you take the medicine before or after eating?

Are there cautions as to certain activities that should be curtailed or discontinued while

TYPES OF SILOS—As you're thinking of putting up silage this year, I suppose you've somewhat bewildered by the claims made for the different types and brands of silos. Before a silo there are a number of factors that you should consider. The first is the size of your operation. How many head are to be fed, how much silage per head is to be fed, and plan for future expansion are all factors that you should consider.

The second thing to consider is the type of operation. Is it dairy or beef? Given one of the two types you should decide what type you will use as the main or a supplementary feed and from this decide on your year-round silage requirements.

The third consideration is to what degree do you wish to mechanize your operation. You should think about the available labour, desirability of self feeding or the type of mechanized feeding that would be most useful in your operation.

The decision between horizontal and vertical silos may or may not be a difficult one to make. The horizontal silo has low initial cost and low equipment cost but higher labor requirement and silo losses than a vertical silo. A horizontal silo is suitable for self feeding while a vertical silo is suited to mechanization. The life span of a horizontal silo is 15-20 years as compared to 20-40 years for a vertical.

Now let's look at the economics of various types of silos. For example let's take a 100 cow herd to be fed for 12 months on 10% of barley silage plus 90% of hay. This would work out to under 600 tons

Device Stops Drunks Before They Drive

An electronic device has been developed, reports Dan A. Trust, Transport magazine that senses a driver's reaction time. Installed in a vehicle's steering column, it prevents a drunk driver from starting a car.

For the operator whose reactions have not been dulled by alcohol or drugs, the device simply tests his reaction time to "on" and when a small light appears he reacts the "start" and proceeds to drive away. If the driver fails to react the starter remains within a circuit of the left column. However, the device tests the reaction of the operator and the driver must remember the procedure.

This is said virtually impossible for a person who has been drinking alcohol to stay his car. Through years of research, the manufacturer claims, it has been established that "almost all men have a tactile response time to a single isolated stimuli of about 100 milliseconds." The device of about one year. For this operation a "silo" could be constructed for approximately $200 with a bumper also costing $1,000. But it would require $11,000 to provide an equally mechanized or even more advanced system. A 20 year off time this 90,000 dollar would be worth $20,000 (at 7% compound interest money doubles every 19 1/2 years).

It should be noted that the new type of silo are still more expensive than the conventional upright silo. While the new type of silo do have more feed efficiency, careful consideration should be given to all aspects before deciding on any one type.

Next week there will be an article on making silage. Further information may be obtained by either writing or calling at this office.

PARK HILL RIDERS

PEPELERS TO CARRY DRY CANNED MEATS

A revolution in freight handling is on the way, according to Marketing magazine, with hollow steel capsules filled with both goods being propelled through pipeline systems.

Marketing reports a recent transportation study which predicts that pipelines will soon be "one only for moving liquids such as petroleum, but for moving dry bulk cargo. In the future, there may be pipelines that will move long trains of capsules propelled by water or petroleum. These would be hollow steel cylinders loaded with commodities. There is even a possibility of handling general cargo in this manner."

But, states the report, the major problem of moving freight more efficiently in the future will not be one of providing larger or faster cargo carriers. The real issue is that shippers must find ways of transferring cargo from one method of transport to another.

Order-in-Council Authorizes Changes in Student Assistance

The Robert C. Clark, Alberta Minister of Education, announced that an Order-in-Council has been passed authorizing changes in regulations governing student assistance in Alberta.

Effective immediately, assistance in or covering provincial universities will be provided on assistance on a revised basis. Under previous regulations, assistance was awarded on the basis of grants of up to $600, followed by loans for the remainder of need. New regulations provide that a student may be awarded assistance on the basis of an initial loan of $300 if single or $700 if married, with the balance of need being calculated on the basis of one-half grant and one-half loan, up to a maximum grant of $600. The net effect of this change will be to somewhat reduce the debt incurred by students with needs over $600 per year.

The Students Assistance Board has also removed academic attainment as a basis for calculating the needs of students eligible to enter university, or already in university. This will have the effect of making greater allowance for adult students with low academic attainments in high school.

Under the new regulations, students who receive additional awards or assistance after submitting an application to the Students Assistance Board must report such income to the Board under penalty of legal proceedings.

New regulations provide that students may appeal decisions of the Students Assistance Board, or to the chairman of the Students Assistance Board, to the Board itself, or to the Minister of Education.

New regulations also make it possible to provide assistance to students attending Junior High School. Under previous regulations, assistance was provided on the basis of income according to need, not to exceed $1,500 per academic year for any single student. Grants were made available, based upon a academic achievement, for the remainder of such loans.

Cost, assistance was limited to students in Junior High School.

Total money made available for awards to students attending the Board School of Fine Arts has been increased from $4,000 to $6,000 in any one year, and the maximum individual award has been increased from $200 to $300.

Previous regulations restricting assistance for summer sessions students to those enrolled in a provincial university or junior college have been repealed. The Board will now consider applications for assistance from students attending summer sessions at any institution approved by the Board, including those out of province.

Finally, the new regulations also introduce changes in assistance provided to students attending provincial institutes of technology and technology or vocational sections of junior colleges.

Under the new regulations students will be eligible for initial loans of $200 if single, $700 if married, with the balance of their needs to be calculated on a half-loan, half-grant basis up to a maximum grant of $600. Students assistance for students enrolled in agricultural and vocational colleges will be awarded on the same basis.

Previously, assistance to such students was provided on the basis of income according to need, not to exceed $1,500 per academic year for any single student. Grants were made available, based upon a academic achievement, for the remainder of such loans.

letter from your editor

You'll have to agree, this is a letter — me writing an open letter to you, but I need your help. The annual JUNIOR CITIZEN OF THE YEAR program is about to get underway and I want you to tell me about a boy or girl, or a group of young people, between the ages of 8 and 16, who you feel are deserving of recognition as a 1968 ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN. These are young people in your own community, who under difficult circumstances or during an illness have displayed exceptional qualities of responsibility, resourcefulness and leadership. It might not be as dramatic as saving a person's life — perhaps the young person you know has exhibited an unusual sense of responsibility in assuming home or community duties. Whatever, these young people deserve your support. Recognize their deeds by nominating them for an Alberta Junior Citizens award. It will only take a few minutes to call me, come in and see me or fill out the coupon below. I'll be looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Our second biggest interest.

Our biggest interest is you.

Our biggest interest is never paid. We give it away for free. Because it's the kind of interest you can't measure in percentage points. The interest we take in you when you ask our help with your problems.

Of course we pay high interest on your savings.

Just like any bank. That's only natural. And the longer you leave your money, the more interest you get. That follows too.

When you think about it though, a bank should give you both kinds of interest. The Royal Bank does. Come in and see.

FREE SHELTERBELT TREES
—It's not too early to be thinking planning your shelterbelt for next spring. A good shelterbelt should contain a couple of rows of fast-growing trees such as caragana, poplar and ash. Along with this should be a row or two of slow growing coniferous trees to provide long lasting protection. The special breeding program varies 16". This allows proper space for the growth of the mature trees.

Any land that you wish to plant trees on should be summer-fallowed this summer for next spring's planting. This reduces weed competition for the new trees and also conserves moisture. It is very important that this summerfallowing is done as in previous years some applications have been rejected because the previous was not followed.

There will also be a variety of hedge plants available. The same steps with regard to summerfallowing that apply to shelterbelt trees also to hedge plants.

Lists of available trees will be made available to the D.A.'s office about the second week in September. Application can only be accepted after we receive the new tree list. So mark this time on your calendar as to when to make your tree application.

Further assistance in planning your shelterbelt, and tree requirements may be had by calling 652-7977 or writing this office.

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION — This office has had a number of calls this year for help in designing and/or installing a new water and sewer disposal system. We have on file a wide range of plans for any livestock building or enterprise. If we don't have exactly what you want it is possible that we could get together with our Agricultural Engineer and design a building to suit your specific needs.

If you're thinking of building a house D.H.E. offers a home planning service.

Shower Honors June Bride

A tremendous shower honoring bride-elect for June, Miss Betty Barrows was held at the home of Miss Lisa Simpson and Miss Sylvia Whitson of Edmonton. Miss Barrows was also joined in a coffee, paper-coordinated by Mrs. H. de Snow, Mrs. W. Atkinson and Mrs. E. Bellin held in Mrs. de Snow's home.

To complete the round of events, Mrs. W. Whitson entertained at a luncheon tea in her home on June 2nd. Mrs. P. Shumway, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. M. Gray, the groom's aunt, Mrs. A. Barrows and Mrs. B. de Snow poured tea.

Miss Barrows' marriage to Mr. Harvey Permitt took place Saturday, June 23rd.

Rescues Child From Blaze

On Sunday, July 13, Mr. Henry W. Stinson, 42, 88, rushed into the flames of a burning home and rescued his three-month-old grandchild.

There were three occupants in the home at the time of the fire, Mr. Stinson, Mrs. Dorlene Purdy and the baby.

Mr. Stinson was severely burned and at last report was confined to the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton.

The quick action of this elderly man undoubtedly saved the life of his grandchild.

The home, which was completely burned, was located on the Gateway property on Highway 28.

Nursery Ready For Annual Exhibition Rush

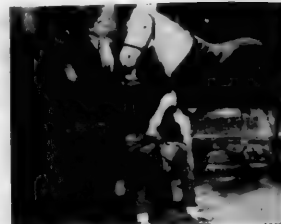

For a bargain that can't be beaten, try the Edmonton Exhibition, July 17-18.

When you could you have baby strollers, all of them adult and serviced by a registered nurse, for 20 cents at the nursery.

That's the price tag on baby strollers at the Exhibition's nursery in Northwestern, Ullrichs lane near the Devon House site. The staff of eight women is supervised by Mrs. E. J. Adin, a registered nurse who has been nursing head for 24 years.

Mothers can leave their tots with Mrs. Adin from 10 a.m. on Children's Days, July 18 and 24, and from noon to 11 p.m. for the balance of the K-Day schedule. These using the service are expected to provide diapers, bottles of formula and baby food for their youngsters. A strict written record is kept of each child's belongings, feeding times and so on, and peripherals are refrigerated until needed for feeding.

The nursery has been well patronized over the years and lady Mrs. Adin has been citing for "repeat customers", the children of mothers who went through her hands years before. "And with all of them, we've never lost a bottle or a blanket," she recalled last year.

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy burst it up in one of their many famous silent films which will be presented as a regular television feature on CBC Television, starting June 28. The set is entitled The Original Laurel and Hardy and musical accompaniment is provided by well known Canadian pianist organist and band leader Horace Lago.

Auto Accident

Bart Clarke, Dan Ray and Jerry Lupul all of Fort Saskatchewan, were involved in a car accident, July 14, 1969, 1 mile south of the Laurent Road.

The automobile driven by Bart Clarke was a complete write off. All three were taken to the Laurent hospital for treatment. Mr. Lupul has been released however. Mr. Clarke and Mr. Ray are still in the hospital.

There are still openings in the second session of lessons of about 30 more spaces can be filled. The session runs from July 18 to August 1.

equipment was on order and should be installed soon. In addition the largest part of the session was drawn to a close. Council agreed to approve the firm, with a view to finding out the cost of relocating the plant in the industrial area, and of for every assistance in arranging this move. Council had no control over the hours of work of any plant in the town.

Two residents were present in support of the petition, signed by twenty people, to close part of the alley between Sheridon Drive and 303 Street, which was used as a short cut and caused a danger to children and a hazard to houses etc. Council agreed to begin the normal procedure necessary for such closure.

Following a letter received from Mr. L. Lundberg, along similar lines to the one he wrote to the Record last week, Council agreed to meet businessmen of the town with a view to clarifying various issues concerning the new partially completed programmes for widening the sidewalks and paving the streets. Some failure of communication was acknowledged here although Councillor Fraser pointed out that councilors had attended several meetings of the Chamber of Commerce in an attempt to improve this situation.

Regarding the application by the Chamber of Commerce for the annual grant of $800, Councillor Alderman suggested that a delegation might like to attend the next Council meeting to explain the purpose of which this money was needed.

Councillor Fraser reported that an application had been made to the Ministry of Public Works regarding a permanent historical site in the town; and that the lot sold from Mr. Bakal's farm, whose move into the town the Council had served to finance, would be in its temporary position during the coming week. This move would cost $1,200.

It was moved by the Council to allow authorized Real Estate Agents in the Town of Lakeview to be the Town Office the sale of industrial land. This was felt, was a specialized business, which they would be able to supply their professional experience.

Regarding the proposed new trailer court, Councillor Fraser felt that this was needed in Town by the Fall, and asked that some note of Council's feeling in this matter be conveyed to the appropriate quarter.

Councillor Hines was informed that the scheduled opening date for the new shopping centre was set October 1, and also advised that the new fire truck recently acquired would be placed on display at the Fall Fair.

Details regarding the proposed establishment of a Police Commission were settled, and also procedure with regard to appeals Officer.

Building permits for the month of June were $14,000, bringing the total so far in 1980 to $2,943,794, compared with $1,718,422 for the same period last year.

The meeting closed at 11:30 p.m.

REPAIRS TO WATER

It has been learned on reliable authority that the rumor which made the rounds in Fort Saskatchewan this past week was incorrect.

Rumor had it that the main street was being excavated to a depth of five feet for the purpose of locating some missing town water lines.

It is verifiable that these rumors were and was lucky the result of a misunderstanding. All is well that ends well.

Minister Announces Northeast Waterline

The Hon. A. W. Laidlaw, Alberta Minister of Public Works, announced that the Provincial Department of Public Works and the Municipality of Edmonton are finalizing arrangements to construct 24 miles of watermain at a cost of $2,167,000. The Northeast Water Line will transmit Edmonton treated water to the Town of Fort Saskatchewan and Redwater as well as to farmland, and industry concerns within the County of Strathcona, Municipal District of Sturgeon and County of Thredbo.

The consultants, Associated Engineering Services Ltd., gave the initial capacity as one million gallons per day to Fort Saskatchewan which will be provided through fifteen miles of 12 and 16 inch diameter water mains. The portion north of the North Saskatchewan River to Redwater is completed of about twenty miles of 12 and 16 inch mains.

A unique feature of the system is that water will flow downhill to Fort Saskatchewan and Redwater. As the demand for the water increases the capacity of the waterline can be increased with the addition of pumping facilities.

The need for a joint water supply system was brought about by the gradual increase of pollution in the North Saskatchewan River and the limited capacity of existing systems. The Town of Fort Saskatchewan is presently using 14 water wells to meet the daily demands of the ever-increasing population brought about by recent industrial activity in the area. In the past year the population has increased.

Youths Charged

Due to vigilance and public spirit shown by a resident of Fort Saskatchewan, when upon seeing two youths loitering near a vacant residence, of which the owners were away on vacation, he notified the police.

As a result, two juveniles appeared before Magistrate E. C. Channing at the Fort Saskatchewan Juvenile Court last Wednesday and were jointly charged with two offences of loitering and entering house in Fort Saskatchewan, and were placed on probation.

Information, however, important it may seem, would be appreciated if brought to the attention of the police.

July Meeting Convened By Strathcona Council

The council of the County of Strathcona met for its July meeting with the following councillors in attendance: Mr. G. W. Meyer, Mr. G. J. Elliot, Mrs. E. E. Stewart.

The Council was informed that the County had received a special Centennial grant in the amount of $40,000.00 on the construction of the Vince Bridge road.

The Council was also informed that a grant had been approved on the Ross Creek Drainage project to be undertaken by the County. The amount of the Grant is 75% of the total cost to maximum.

period that the Provincial Fire Fighting Competition Finals would be held at Strathcona on September 26. A Government grant in the amount of $300.00 would be paid to the Fire Department for housing this competition. However there may be a small deficit incurred and the Council agreed that the County would pick up any reasonable amount of deficit incurred by the County Fire Department housing this event.

Mr. Stacey also reported that a recent fire several volunteer firemen had sustained eye injuries due to flying embers. He had obtained face shields on a trial basis and requested permission to purchase these if satisfactory. The price of the shields would be $2.00 each or approximately $200.00 for all members of the Fire Department. The matter was discussed and it was moved by G. W. Meyer that the Council authorize the purchase of face shields for the Fire Department if satisfactory and as required.

Present at the meeting was Mr. C. H. Weir, Consulting Engineer for the County, who discussed with the Council certain improvements to be made at the intersection of Sherridon Drive and the Wye Road. Mr. Weir had prepared plans on the basis of two projects. Plan 1 showed proposed work to be done only in the immediate area of the intersection. Plan 2 showed the same work with the extension of the extra lane along the Wye Road to the railway interchange. The estimated cost of erecting and paving only for Plan 1 was $207,750 and for Plan 2 $31,575. Out of street lighting traffic lights, signs and would be in addition to these street costs. It was recommended that the street lights be installed on the Wye Road from the intersection of Sherridon Drive to the intersection of the Wye Road and the Wye Road on the basis of Plan 1 as prepared by the Consulting Engineers, and further that we authorize the installation of street lights on the Wye Road and north of the intersection as required.

In this connection the Council agreed that the matter of the installation of traffic control lights at this intersection would be left for further discussion when the project had been completed.

BURN GRUES WILL REPLENISH K.S. SUPPLY

Edmonton's demolition supply of K.S. Kinsmen Builders is going to get a shot in the arm.

Exhibition Association have ordered another 10,000 of the same to be mined immediately by Sherridon Mines' Fort Saskatchewan plant. The original order of 100,000 was made in the summer of 1968 for 10 days' work on the highway construction, two weeks before this year's last party on the highway.

Although this is not a cash transaction, it is a loan to the Kinsmen Builders, who are to be paid for the material by the Sherridon Mines.

Detailed analysis of the costs of a new building versus the costs of existing and maintaining the present one would be prepared.

Another matter of particular interest to residents of the town was discussed at great length namely the possibility of the siting of the new Edmonton Dump within two miles of the town. This was discussed at great length and it was agreed that the Council had just as much need to consider the views and rights of those who had not signed this petition, and in fact Councilor Fraser called attention to the fact that no one had made any

WORKMAN WAS SHOT

Alberta Fire Commissioner... It can be frustrating and dangerous to say the least, and people may well be working in the dark without even being aware of it...

Workmen are violently surprised by fire which develops unexpectedly on the job, however, are shocked by the little hidden dangers which they didn't find out about in time...

Firefighters too often are also working in the dark. They can never be sure what conditions they will find when responding to fire in a building...

None of us can afford to work in the dark where fire is concerned. An informed and fire prevention conscious public is the best hope for an improved fire loss record for Alberta.

With this the first year they have been in Alberta cities and they are off to a fine start. Congratulations to Mr. Gordon Wilson on placing first with his hand carved stage-coach at the Edmonton Exhibition.

Mrs. Jim Wallace, Valerie and Roger of Lethbridge are celebrating at the Kelowna home.

The 1980s will go down in history as the decade of the adventures.

Just as the roaring twenties gave our adult world their own adventure which briefly moved again in the 1930s, the recent decade has seen great days by both sea and water.

But there were many more men and women who stepped out into the unknown and helped the world. And they didn't have the backing of thousands watching each time, that the astronauts enjoyed.

People like Sir Francis Chichester, John Fairfax, Thor Heyerdahl and now Tom Meillon relied on their own strength, courage and skills to beat the odds.

The Chichester story is the most famous of all. He sailed the Atlantic in his small boat, the Gipsy Moth, in 1931. He was the first to sail the Pacific on a raft, tried to sail the Atlantic in a boat built of paper cups. Unfortunately, his raft was not so successful as the Gipsy Moth, and he was forced to abandon ship at sea.

Donna Bryks, Ian Johnstone Exchange Vows at First Union

Later afternoon, on August 18, 1980, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Donna Bryks and Mr. Ian Johnstone.

Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bryks and Ian is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnstone. Both are of Fort Saskatchewan.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hal Sammel, who had been in various positions in New Zealand, the United States and Canada. She was in the position of Assistant Director of Nursing in the Fort Hospital in February 1960.

She has taken over the supervision of the nursing care of 150 patients at a time when the hospital is becoming more fully able to cope with all the emergency cases that arise in a small community.

An increasing number of patients are being treated in the hospital. The nursing care is carried out in a congenial atmosphere. Mrs. Bryks will be working in the maternity ward.

Dear Editor:

A Celebration!
A great dance to celebrate:
1. Street paving and sidewalks that may not be finished by the day of the celebration?
2. Water sidewalks and summer streets we didn't ask for or want?
3. Regarding the "old maid" street that was put in last year and which was meant to last 10 to 15 years or more?
4. The streets that are still not open to traffic?
5. The streets that are still not finished for walking, either parallel or diagonal?
6. The loss of business to our businessmen for over a month?
7. The parking lot of the old sidewalk next to the town hall?
8. The announcement by our town fathers that we are getting a new main street, whether we want it or not?
9. The higher taxes that will be levied by businessmen and home owners alike for the new sidewalks, streets, and town hall?
10. The new rules of dirt left scattered in our new park area, for the viewing pleasure of visitors?

Visitors To Cypress Hills Provincial Park Cautioed Regarding Camp Fire Restrictions

Inverness Dr. J. Donovan Rennie Minister of Lands and Forests, to-day issued an urgent appeal to Cypress Hills Provincial Park visitors to exercise the utmost caution while using campfires in the park area.

"The dry season in the park is extreme," Dr. Rennie said, "and one careless act could start a fire which could ruin this fine recreational area forever."

In other parts of the province the fire danger varies, from no areas and campgrounds.

In the south-west end of the park in the north-west part of the province. The danger rating is moderate to high in the north-west part of the province.

Many Farmers Today Misinterpreting Information

Extension services have made no mistake in the past in directing them to the best use of agricultural resources charges the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

"The recent upset in wheat and livestock prices was a result of the present extension service spending its time trying to increase agricultural production rather than to evolve more efficient use of resources."

The FUA extension services should be subject to closer examination and also, "Are we building an institution for civil servants as indicated by the Agri cultural Task Force whereby we have one civil servant for every 10 farmers?"

A labor-fair approach has left extension agencies in arrears in the vital areas of informing and advising farmers to supply management, collective bargaining, marketing boards and price ine expenditure on agriculture because it is essential for improved efficiency. The FUA recommends 15 measures designed to improve up to ten times. Five of these are:

1. Extension should concentrate on agricultural marketing.
2. Extension should try to expand to meet the needs of the various types and classes of farmers.
3. Voluntary organizations should be used wherever possible.
4. Consideration should be given to how agriculture help rural communities adjust to declining production.
5. Extension and research work should develop on the basis of maximizing agricultural returns rather than developing those products where funds or interests lie.

Attaboy Pete Palmer

Many of you must often wonder what comes of people you have met during your sporting years. I know I have.

Not too many years ago I was fortunate enough to coach a fine group of early tenors. Our first years were playing an exhibition schedule, mostly against private schools. For two years I did not see them. We had an excellent football team. Even then, I felt that one or two of "the kids" would advance into college competition, and then into the professional ranks.

I can't remember all the names, but a few come to mind, mainly I guess, because they did advance into U.S. college on athletic scholarships. Not all of them went the football route, as a couple of them excelled in track and field. Others went to Canadian universities and played football.

Let's see... Frank Marlett is at Oregon, Bob Grimes at Western Michigan, Peter Parley plays for Orlin, Dan Terry at Kent State, Mike Mercer is at Utah... some of the others I can't remember.

One youngster I was always tremendously fond of was a football, Fred Palmer. If any of the youngsters was to make you, he would be it. I often thought, This lad was determined to combine football and education, and eventually, he accepted a football scholarship at Lenoir Rhyne College in North Carolina.

He was the Ottawa Rough Riders who sent him to college. For the past three years he has played offensive end and defensive end with the Conference Championship team. I am glad that this year he is being considered as a captain of the team. This is an elevated position, not appointed.

Who I'm writing about now, Palmer (he's now 22) is that I've just received a clipping from the Hickory, N.C. Record.

As you read this, remember, Palmer is a Canadian at an American college on a football scholarship.

"An increased effort in student organization is underway, and one of the leaders in the team is a Lenoir Rhyne College Senior, Peter C. Palmer who is serving as chairman for the state of North Carolina in the Southern Universities Student Government Association (SUSGA).

"SUSGA exists as a link of communication between the colleges and universities in the south. Palmer noted, enabling the student leaders to exchange ideas and experience in their role of service and leadership to their respective student bodies."

"He added that SUSGA is the second largest student government organization in the United States including 14 states and over 130 schools. He stated, 'Unlike any other national or national student association, it does not serve as a political or professional organization, nor does it condemn or ridicule government leaders, agencies, policies or other individuals of this country.' SUSGA is completely non-political in scope."

"He continued that contrary to many of the forms of self-expression of students through demonstrations, strikes, and even violence, SUSGA hopes to help resolve problems on campuses through peaceful means, thereby not bringing into being new problems."

"Violence only increases the problems of a campus," he stated emphatically, "he does not solve them."

Palmer concluded that the purpose of the organization and its aims is best summed up in the preamble of their Constitution.

"In order to promote better student government, to provide for greater cooperation and exchange of ideas among member colleges and universities and to better resolve our common problems, we do solemn and establish this Constitution for the Southern Universities Student Government Association, which shall be a non-political association of colleges and universities in the South dedicated to the service of their respective campuses."

The certainly did I hope track of Peter Palmer.

Old sores are on the outside of the lips and are caused by a virus. Canker sores are on the inside of the mouth and not on the gums.

The cause of canker sores is not definitely certain. A form of strep germ has been found in such sores. Some experts blame injury to the tissues, caused by a tooth brush or hard foods. Others blame them on an allergic reaction. If you are often troubled by canker sores consult a physician.

HOURS FOR SHOP FOR A FREEZER

Should you buy a freezer?
Don't count on saving a great deal of money on food bills, you probably won't. A freezer is more of a convenience. So many people think they save money on their food bills by owning and operating a freezer, but they don't consider hidden costs involved in owning and operating a freezer such as depreciation, repairs, electricity, cost of packaging foods and storage charges if the freezer is purchased on time.

Fair Time — The Fort Saskatchewan Fair will be held on Sept. 10-11-12. It is the county's largest and most popular fair. The display of ceramics and paintings promises to be excellent.

Did you know—
—the more you store in a freezer the more you save. The time it will cost you to freeze and store that food... the life span of a freezer is said to be 15 years if purchased and used by one owner only.

For proper storage a freezer should maintain food at 0 degrees Fahrenheit.
—such should always be frozen quickly and for this reason some freezers have special quick freeze areas with extra freezing coils. These areas may also serve for regular storage.
Freezer capacity — is usually measured in cubic feet but may be given as pounds of frozen food. The pounds refer to full packages not bulky items. Upright freezers vary from 8 to 22½ cubic feet, chest models from 11 - 24 cubic feet.

Dow Product Played Key Re-entry Role on Apollo 11 Spacecraft

When the Apollo 11 spacecraft streaked homeward from the moon it played American as towards towards the earth at 5,000 miles an hour with heat pressures on the vehicle's air surface nearing above 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Developed in high temperature gases, the spacecraft was in the final stages of the longest step thus far in man's march toward the stars.

The Dow Chemical Company is co-operating with other industries working for the success of the U.S. space program, has played a prominent role in assuring the safety of the men who have climaxed this gigantic mission.

Among Dow's many contributions to the space program has been the development of the basic material in the Apollo spacecraft heat shield, a unique epoxy resin, known as a epoxy resin and trademarked D.E.N. 600.

Like most materials, Dow epoxy resin is a solid material at room temperature. But as formulated and fabricated on the spacecraft by Aves Corporation, the heat shield chaps as it burns—similar to the burning of a log of wood—thus protecting the spacecraft and the astronauts from the searing temperatures.

The heat shield was previously subjected to rigid testing under re-entry conditions in simulated flight operations during the early stages of Project Apollo.

In developing the heat shield, Aves' Research and Development Division required D.E.N. 600 because the Apollo spacecraft would encounter conditions far more severe than those in previous segments of the space program.

These words of regret are of ten heard following a fire. The results of neglect are starkly outlined in the annual fire reports for Canada and for Alberta.

CONSUMER INTERESTS

Last week we discussed the Consumer's Association of Canada. Another consumer channel is the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs.

While still a young organization, it celebrated its first birthday last December 31. C.C.A. will exert an increasing influence on the affairs of all Canadians in the years ahead.

This new Department has dual function: to insure that market systems in competition and vigorous and to see that consumers are accorded reasonable protection against abuses of its private enterprise system.

Consumers should be able to make an effective and helpful move in the market place. To help us in this endeavour, the Hon. Ben Rattray, just recently announced the appointment of a new staff of 100, to be located in all branches in all provinces.

There must be an effective consumer in register complaint and other consumer. It is a part of the consumer's responsibility to inform of consumer and to inform. After a complaint, the consumer is to be informed of the results of the complaint.

Most of you will be familiar with the mailing address, The Consumer, Box 90, Ottawa, to receive complaints and suggestions. The response has been so good that consumers welcome the innovation. During the last eight months of 1980, a total of 1,100 complaints and 800 requests were processed.

Regional offices are now in operation. The location closest to Alberta is Regional Office, Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, 5th Floor, Carlton Building, 1001 West Pender Street, Vancouver, B.C.

I think you will agree with me that there is a real need for consumer awareness, education and action. Hopefully, this column assists you in the first two steps but the latter goal depends on you the consumer.

SWATH EARLY — Swathing your grain a few days earlier may mean the difference between a normal crop or a fruit damaged one.

Research at Lacombe and other Experimental Stations have found that wheat, barley and oats can be cut at much higher moisture levels than was previously thought without loss in yield, limited weight or grade.

These moisture levels are 25% in wheat and oats, 40% in rye. Wheat kernels containing 30% moisture have changed from green to yellow but still can be harvested by previous items between the finger and thumb. A dry head of moisture will be observed when the wheat is in the first third stage.

When cut at this moisture level dries faster in the windrow than standing grain giving a 4 to 6 day advantage under favorable conditions.

"If you are somewhat hesitant about swathing at these higher moisture levels try cutting half a field this way and half a field your normal way and see what happens."

GRAIN LOSSES THROUGH YOUR COMBINE — There are four main sources of grain loss from a combine. They are: pick-up, cylinders, shoes and straw walkers.

Pick-up losses are in the form of grain not picked up from the windrow. The replacement or worn and broken pick-up teeth and proper table adjustment will help minimize losses.

Cylinder losses come from unthreshed heads of grain passing over the straw walkers. Adjustments for cylinder speed and concave clearance may have to be made several times during the day to prevent cracking and peeling or unthreshed heads passing through.

Losses over the straw walkers take the form of threshed grain not separated from the straw or unthreshed passing over the straw walkers. Since 95% of the grain separation occurs by the grain dropping through into the return troughs, speeding up the walkers will move the straw fast or and agitate it more giving better separation.

For the best results separate your combine as near to capacity as possible.

Further information on either of these two subjects may be had by writing or calling this office.

Remember the Fort Saskatchewan was Fall Fair, September 18 and 19.

JOSEPHBURG REED CLEANING PLANT — Approval in principle has been given to the establishment of a seed cleaning plant at Josephburg. At a recent meeting a group was incorporated under the name of Josephburg Co-op Seed Processors Ltd. They are now engaged in the process of selling shares to raise their amount of the capital building fund. Their shares must be held before the county and provincial grants will be forwarded.

If you haven't pledged a share and would like to buy one or would like to buy your already pledged share now contact either Cynthia Major or Fred Heneg at Fort Saskatchewan.

CASH ADVANCES FOR WHEAT — There has been some confusion as to what is different about the cash advances for the 1980-79 crop year.

There is nothing different except that a farmer who has advances outstanding on last year's crop is not required to pay them back before being eligible for this year's full advance.

Last year an amendment was made to the Prairie Grain Advance Payments Act by which unit quotas are included in general advance quotas as far as cash advances are concerned.

In other words, if a farmer delivers his unthreshed wheat to Art Clarkson, Fort Saskatchewan the grain delivered under the unit quota will be deducted from the cash paid per specified acre based on which he is eligible for a cash advance. If, on the other hand, he applies for his cash advance before delivering grain under his quota, the unit quota delivery will not be deducted from his acreage quota. This means that the farmer who applies for a cash advance before delivering any grain will obtain a larger advance than the one who makes his initial delivery, and then applies for his cash advance.

FURTHER FALL FAIR — We have received the prior bids for the Fort Fall Fair and they may be had by writing or calling this office or Art Clarkson or Jim Alkanis in the Fort. Some of the items will be received and will be sold at the fair. We will be at Art Clarkson, Fort Saskatchewan.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Alberta Safety Council is asking for help!

At least 100 volunteers are going to be needed on Saturday in late September and during October to man an information campaign designed to get more people into car safety belts.

The need for such a campaign in Alberta is growing urgent, says Safety Council President, Ralph Cooper. Public apathy over the use of safety belts costs Alberta hundreds of deaths and injuries each year, he believes.

"We know that fewer than one person in five ever bothers to fasten a safety belt, despite the fact that belts are proven life savers in the event of an accident," Mr. Cooper states. "We estimate that 150 or more lives would be saved each year in this province if everyone who has a safety belt available would wear it whenever the car is in motion." Last year, over 600 people died in Alberta traffic accidents.

The Alberta Safety Council's safety campaign needs volunteer help because it will be — conducted province-wide — aimed at reaching thousands of people directly in their cars.

— based on volunteer-operated information booths set up in hundreds of locations throughout Edmonton and Calgary and other communities.

"This is too big and important a job to be left in the hands of a few; we need hundreds of people in Edmonton and Calgary alone," says Mr. Cooper. Prospective volunteers are asked to leave their names with the Safety Council office in Edmonton, 1803 Super Avenue and in Calgary, 630-7 Avenue S.W., J. J. Bowden Building.

Of course we pay high interest on your savings.

When you think about it though, a bank should give you both kinds of interest. The Royal Bank does. Come in and see.

Farmers Union Members Present Views To Cabinet

The Farmers' Union of Alberta deeply concerned with the "unusually low income position" of many of this province's farmers, met with Premier Stinson and his cabinet last Wednesday to present its views on the provincial government's role in the province.

Commodity prices, marketing resource adjustment, dairy pay and compulsory membership were made:

Buried Cable Program Underway

Alberta Environment Ministry is carrying out a $250,000 rural buried cable program in the Chippewans area.

A cable plant is scheduled to start work on September 22nd. A total of 21 miles of cable and wire will be buried, making four party divided-line service available to an additional 30 subscribers.

Buried cable results in more customer service, lower maintenance costs, and the elimination of unsightly pole lines.

where Payments Act be amended to allow a more equitable larger advance, and that failing this, the Province provide land which will permit farmers to outsize their operations.

That the cream subsidy is maintained until such time as a program is developed for providing alternate sources of income.

That grants and low interest loans be made available to farmers who cannot make production shifts because of low income or a lack of capital resources.

That ARDA funds be increased substantially for the purpose of farm consolidation and related development programs.

That, failing to place the sale of feed grains under the jurisdiction of the "Committee" (World Bank), a provincial produce feed grain marketing agency be set up.

That legislation be passed permitting a check-off on the sale of agricultural products for the purpose of financing a direct membership organization which could deal with the farm income situation.

That rural development and planning programs be designed to maximize employment in rural areas.

That financial assistance be made available to farm organizations to promote Alberta's agricultural products in export markets through trade fairs, exhibits etc., example, Expo, Japan.

The experts were wrong

The surprising win of Ed Schreyer in Manitoba led some pundits to predict a broad-based coalition at the federal level.

British Columbia was supposed to be next in line, then Saskatchewan and on to Ontario.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett's prediction that the British Columbia Liberals would win the election was wrong.

Like him or hate him, Premier Bennett deserves credit for knowing what the people want. He made the B.C. election a straight fight between the NDP and the Conservative Party.

The NDP crewed foul play after Bennett's victory but the Bennett crew of right wing government versus the left wing opposition led by Tom Berger.

The Liberals were never a serious threat and the Conservative crew only entered one candidate. That left it for the Social Credit and NDP to fight it out. Perhaps the premier was reluctant to claim the free leader's "Marshall socialist" but the fact is that the NDP's victory was a surprise to many.

In fact, only a few days before the election, the new Manitoba premier came to British Columbia and announced that shortly after taking office, he was asked by an architect where to send the small five percent kickback.

This was hardly the time or place for a premier to accept other province to make such a serious charge. Why would he choose British Columbia unless he felt the people in that province would consent along wrong doing in previous Manitoba governments with the Bennett government.

Prior to the election, many political writers predicted a close race, perhaps even a minority government. This again points up the fallacy of the belief that newspaper reporters are automatically political experts. A reporter who is too busy to be impartial but who does make too much of a factor supporting his point of view.

We do believe that most people still appreciate that special kind of service that today might be called "old fashioned." We don't think it is easy to give a customer with a smile and a friendly word. We don't think it wrong to help someone select the products they want. We do think of ourselves as a personal pharmacy.

Back in "the old days" the pharmacy was considered a friendly place on days for such necessities and other needs. We like to feel that this old tradition has not passed by the wayside. Stop in soon and say hi.

Argos are best there is Jimmy Crickert was looking around, grinning at his wife, who was smiling and talking easily. Sir David smiled and talked about the future while Jimmy discussed the past in an easy manner.

By about now you're probably wondering if you're reading something from the pen of Lewis Carroll.

This is a quartet of Toronto Argonauts, the team every man now has to follow. It's the Argos this year. And such much of this quartet had just played an important role in the Argos' 34-13 domination of the hapless Saskatchewan Roughriders.

This victory marked the first time Toronto had beaten the team from the plains in two years. Argos coach Leo Cahill described the victory as the finest game the Argos had played since he began directing them three years ago.

It was an afternoon of soccer. Jimmy Crickert had been awarded the game ball by team captain, offensive tackle Danny Nijhuis. who is also the senior member of the team. It was the first time Crickert, also a Jim Tinslin, had ever received the honor.

At last well deserved.

Toronto made two interceptions, blocked three passes and completely strangled Campbell. Saskatchewan's puffed blower. His tackling was, as a humanist put it: "positive."

Willie is also known as Tom Williams, the number one quarterback in Toronto, and according to reports, trying harder.

Saskatchewan headman Phyllis Keri had nothing but praise for Williams, noting that he doesn't "look like much but he gets the job done."

Jimmy Crickert completed 15 of 34 passes for 210 yards and completely smothered the powerful Roughriders' defense with computer-like precision in his play-calling. And he's alleged to have a sore arm.

Asked this question as he slipped into crisis he grinned: "I'm arm's not sore right now, but tomorrow, maybe the allegation is correct."

Mr. David is an institution in Toronto. Mr. Tom, or if you like, Dave Mena.

His punting gave Toronto a 10-yard advantage each time and he connected on both field goals out of five from 37 yards out. It's this time of accuracy which runs true in every game.

Can Toronto win the Grey Cup, Dave?

"Yes, man, nobody's going to — as an argument. You know what I mean?"

Tricky was, as usual, holding court with the press. Dick Thornton is an excellent defensive back, a bona fide star. He was named for a lifetime pass from the Los Angeles Rams. He is a Leicester star. He is a Leicester star. He is a Leicester star.

Nothing much has changed, except that this corner is changing names at mid-season. Toronto Argonauts are the Saint John's Argonauts in Canada.

James Tinslin, Toronto

1968 - Mrs. Ann, Edmonton

SCHOOL LUNCHEONS—The school bells have rung more than usual. The children are up bright and early all ready for school. Mothers will also be up bright and early to do what should go into the lunch box.

There is the ever present problem of trying to accommodate various likes and dislikes and still serve a nutritious lunch. A school lunch should include milk, bread, with a serving of meat, fish, poultry, eggs or cheese and a portion of fruit and vegetables.

Let's look at a few suggestions for school lunches, maybe they will help you! Let's first deal with organization in making lunches. Set up a lunch box center in your kitchen. Keep all supplies needed in that area. Set up an assembly line prepare sandwiches especially if there are several children in the family or you plan to freeze sandwiches. If you have a freezer, make a week's supply at a time. Place frozen sandwiches in the lunch box and by noon the sandwiches will be ready to eat and will have kept the rest of the lunch cool and crisp.

WRAPPING is also important because dry stale food will often be refused by your children. Small plastic or metal dishes with covers are handy for salads, puddings or fruit. Be sure vegetables are fresh and crisp and fruit, wrap lightly and place frozen sandwiches. Pack with whole fruit, and heavy food at the bottom of the lunch box. Place sandwiches on top, tuck surprises around the perimeter of the sandwiches. Before closing the box be sure that a paper napkin is included.

Since more schools now provide milk an insulated bottle can be filled with milk, soup or hot drinks. If your child rebels against drinking milk use milk in soups, or milk pudding and send along fruit juice as a beverage. Sandwiches or, course, are the main staple in the lunch box. A variety of fillings is best, such as ham, cheese, peanut butter, chicken and meat in different combinations. Add zest to your child's lunch with the bread.

used, try using lettuce, rolls, hot bread and other surprises. An idea if you have a hot dog fan in the family is to place a steaming weener in the soup container in the insulated bottle. Attach a string with a message to "Yuck Mr. Fat" and include ketchup and mustard on the bun. Quite a surprise for junior. Don't let the heat and rain weatherables. It's a good idea to peel or section an orange especially for the younger child.

Two booklets are available from my office "Looking Forward to Lunch" and "The Art of Making Sandwiches." A little extra thought and planning for these routine meals results in better appetite, better nutrition and better health.

YOUTH AND FIRE PREVENTION
 We often hear it said that in Canada we shall do not take fire destruction seriously enough. Consequently, we have one of the worst fire loss records of any country in the world. Granted some of us realize that the direct and indirect cost of fire adds materially to the cost of living but we cannot be satisfied that this must always be so.

The question is will the young people today follow along traditional lines or will they find some better way to control fire destruction? Will their generation be able to avoid the problems of cigarette smoking which now is our number one fire hazard? Will youth demand safer homes or goods such as flame resistant clothing, upholstery, rugs and draperies? Will they insist upon building materials and design that will guarantee both safe and beautiful structures? How long will idealistic well informed youth submit to the uncertainty and fear of sudden loss by fire?

Fire prevention means just what the words imply it should mean more than just holding the line year by year. There is a big challenge to youth today! Youth will strive to reshape society. Let's hope that a new and better adjusted society will provide more positive control of fire.

Three Elected To Council by Acclamation

Are there any residents in Fort Saskatchewan interested in serving the community by becoming trustees on the Hospital Board? This was a question raised at Monday night's Town Council meeting when the matter of appointing two representatives to the Hospital Board was discussed.

It is often very hard to find people willing to take on these duties, and Councilor Fraser wondered whether there were people prepared to do this, who were not known to the Council. No criticism of the present members of the two boards was intended, but often people allow themselves to be re-appointed solely because they know the difficulty of finding replacements.

Anyone interested in either of these boards is invited to submit their name to the Mayor for consideration when the appointments are next reviewed.

While the recent elections for Vancouver on the Town Council do not suggest an untapped reserve of willing volunteers, it is often very hard to find people willing to take on these duties, and Councilor Fraser wondered whether there were people prepared to do this, who were not known to the Council. No criticism of the present members of the two boards was intended, but often people allow themselves to be re-appointed solely because they know the difficulty of finding replacements.

THREE CHANGED WITH TREKT OF COMMUNICATIONS
 Three changes of the Telephone Communications Section 2100 of the Criminal Code were heard Wednesday, September 17. Security Agents for Alberta Government Telephones charged Cecilia Shumanuk, Paul Joseph Lanthier and Michael James Manar.

In each case convictions were registered and sentences of six months handed down to each accused. The sentences will run concurrently with other sentences being served on the accused persons.

In each case long distance calls were placed from pay phones and private phones and billed to other people's phones.

When they left of Canada, they moved across Canada this summer on their way to Japan and Expo '70.

Cyclists Feted At Barbecue At Fall Fair

What excitement! Androian didn't have room for 50 female members of the Canadian National Bicycle Club so they came on over to Fort Saskatchewan, and put up in our Community Hall.

The Town and Country Fair was in full swing, so the girls were invited over to the Recreation Jubilee Centre where they were dinner guests of the Fort Saskatchewan Chamber of Commerce-Barbecue.

Mayor Ben Krasnow welcomed them and gave them each a Commemorative Silver dollar as a souvenir of the town.

The girls were shown immediately "western hospitality" at the Recreation Centre where they mingled and chatted with almost everyone who were interested in them.

A friendly gesture was shown when some of the girls were asked to pull the lucky tickets for the raffle which took place at 8 o'clock on Saturday night. Some of these girls were given little mementoes from individual organizations and wished "Bon Voyage" from many local people.

Janet Cohen and Doreen DeWolfe, both of Montreal, were among the 50 girls cyclists who stopped in Fort Saskatchewan last weekend. It was through them that The Record learned how the trip was being sponsored — the sale of tickets — and, of course, posted up with the prescribed book.

The W.I. Branch were enjoyed by all who attended the Fair. A list of handicraft winners will be published later.

Handicraft Competition Big Success

The handicraft competition sponsored by the Women's Institute in the Town and Country Fair which was held last Friday and Saturday was a great success.

The number of entries in the competition was not so many as in previous years but was of good workmanship.

The display displayed by Mrs. Jean Pollard and which had won a special award of the Provincial Women's Institute convention was admired by many.

A list of handicraft winners will be published later.

Even at '898, it's not cheap.

There's no question we could make it cheap.

We could cut our number of inspectors from 5,000 to 4,000.

And get rid of the 540 inspectors we employ to inspect the inspectors.

We could cut the amount of paid up use in half. (from 12 pounds to 4) We'd definitely stop rejecting 30% of the Volkswagens we turn out every day.

And probably we'd drop the standards we set for our suppliers down to a normal human level.

In fact, if we really want the whole route, we could possibly turn out a small car much different than anybody else's small car.

And the thought has crossed our minds. But somewhere along the line it was rejected.

For being imperfect.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir,
In this end of a month's day in the Fort with my own and his family, may I, on behalf of my wife and myself, say how much we have enjoyed our holiday in Canada. Apart from Fort Saskatchewan, we have been taken to Edmonton, Calgary, Jasper, Banff and Vancouver, and thus can say we have seen some of the life in this pleasant province of Alberta and beyond.

Although the Fort is a small place, we have been impressed with its growth and vitality.
There is little wanting in the town.
As visitors from the old world we like this small town with some of the signs of typical Canadian life, the cleanliness, the friendly way things are done, the efficient and comfortable buses. One can become a great fan of Fort Saskatchewan. It is pleasant to just see recent tourists who have been made by all these with whom we have come to contact.

If a visitor may make a suggestion, could a tent or two be provided at strategic points where visitors may take a rest? The Pioneer Park seems a suitable place for such.

Finally, I wish to thank the Record with much interest and a mirror of the life of a small community most efficiently.

Thank you, Fort Saskatchewan
Bobby J. Thomas

Survey of Safety Belt Usage Starts Here Next Monday

The Alberta Safety Council is taking dead aim at a big bad habit, the wide-spread failure of most motorists to remember to fasten their safety belts.

In a first for this province, and probably for the world, the Safety Council is setting out to discover just how many do not remember. With the help of local volunteers, a survey of safety belt usage will be conducted previous to the start of the survey.

Heading up local volunteers in Fort Saskatchewan is Mr. Stan Walker, committee chairman, who has organized the survey in this area. The survey will take place at various stations.

Coupled with the survey will be a large scale public education program aimed at convincing motorists that safety belts are of no value if they are belted on the seat. As Mr. Walker points out, the safety belts probably added $30 to the cost of the car.

"That is cheap insurance. If it is used properly. The way, of course, is to fasten your safety belt every time you get in the car."

THE HUMANITIES
Mr. Mark

THE HUMANITIES
The all-province branch of the publication branch of our department is a pamphlet called "The Humanities and Substitutions."

Are you ever hesitating when trying a new recipe? When you chop, crumble, shred or grind goods, the measure may change. An excellent chart outlines the approximate amount that you will need when your recipe calls for ingredients in chopped, diced, minced or grated form.

If an ingredient is temporarily "out of stock" in your cupboard, often a substitution can be made by knowing the equivalent. For example, 1 c. chocolate = 1 tablespoon = 1 tablespoon fat = 1 cup sugar = 1 cup liquid.

While we're discussing substitutions and equivalents, here's a note from the July, August edition of the Canadian Consumer, the source of hard cheese: 1½ cups of cottage cheese or 1½ cups of low cream provide about the same amount of calcium as an ordinary glass of milk. If your children are non-milk drinkers, there's another way of incorporating calcium into their daily diet.

Information on beverages, including eggs, temperatures and variations is also included in "Turns, Measures and Substitutions." The last section includes a glossary of terms and questions to buy. The latter equates the market unit or how we buy food in the store, to the approximate number of cooked servings.

This publication would be a great addition to any home cook's file. You may receive your free copy by writing or phoning the District Home Economics office in South Edmonton or Stony Plain. Happy baking!

THANK YOU

Thanks to the generosity and support of the Town and Country Fair Fairness, and the expertise of Garry, Robbie and Tony, $12.90 has been forwarded to the Minor Sports Assoc. to assist in their program.

Hockey is a battle

And a shot with Punch includes the other day... very interesting... most of what he said wasn't for the record. You know the stuff. "Look, this isn't for publication, but..."

Perhaps this isn't that Punch has endured over the years when dealing with newspaper types. Now before you decide that this is a rap against my colleagues let me make a point — the safest way to deal with reporters is to be honest and proud of the reporter's status.

What this means is that you have to be able to find a middle between you tell him your story, and I mean, nothing.
Punch, like a many other reporters, has been quoted in the past has been quoted in the past by reporters, unfortunately, which has caused a bad name for him. He doesn't want to be quoted in the past by reporters, which has caused a bad name for him. He doesn't want to be quoted in the past by reporters, which has caused a bad name for him.

However, back to hockey.
Confronted with Punch strong one of Canada's best linebackers for the past 12 years, Punch has written a book, appropriately titled "Hockey is a Battle." It is Punch's own story, dealing with his years as coach and general manager of the Montreal Canadiens.

In this book, scheduled for release October 4, Punch tells all the doesn't have a hockey club, continued, in fact, most of the material is starting.
The situation remains in the game would be similar, and Punch is a very young today, I wouldn't want to have to live him in an alley to settle our differences.

But I can give you a small preview of what certain chapters deal with and with whom.
Punch discusses his early life in hockey and his association with the Boston Bruins and Quebec Aces. He also revives his dealings with National Hockey League executives.

And, of course, many of his celebrated players receive a brief deal of ink.

There are also many colorful and amusing stories about his association with executives of Maple Leaf Gardens.

Punch tells his story in his own inimitable style, with an easy humor. He doesn't skirt any issue. He goes into each detail surrounding every highly publicized incident, which will publication of Hockey is a battle, have never before been fully explained.

Many people may say the only reason Punch wrote this book was that he was fired by the Montreal Canadiens. The book's title is "Hockey is a Battle."
It was the Stanley Cup playoffs.

All things
"This book would have been released if Punch was still coach and general manager of the Canadiens, as he puts it:
"After the book came out, I would have been fired, but I didn't want to be fired."

What about the future, Punch asks. "I'll be in hockey in the 1980s."

He doesn't have any immediate plans to return to hockey in big time hockey, but if the right offer comes, he would consider it. He plans to write a syndicated weekly hockey column and travel the NHL circuit, as well as Europe, gathering business for his club.

If Punch's return to hockey is to be a reality, it will be a winner.
But, after all, that wouldn't be strange.

Punch was the only man in NHL history to hold the dual role of coach and general manager while winning three Stanley Cups.
Punch himself:
A winner!

NOW WATCH OUT!

Plymouth Barracuda

MAKES THE SCENE!

BARRACUDA: 1970 will bring nothing newer. The long low hood is new. And the short, rear deck. The snug, functional cockpit is new, along with the fully four-mounted gear shift, the high back bucket seats and those big, readable gauges. You ride in the lowest four seater in the industry; on the widest stance offered by any North American sports car. You're powered by engines which range from a 225 Six to a 340 cubic inch barrel V-8. And you choose from three basic models: Barracuda, Barracuda Gran Coupe and the hot new 'Cuda.

Sport Fury 2-Over Hardtop

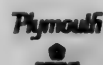

Valiant Duster

Spot Indulges 2-Over Hardtop

FURY: Two brand new high performance Furies make the scene this year. Sport Fury GT and S73. With dual head runners, "ribble driven" and power plants that go as high as a 440 sit barrel on the GT. Extra width between the rear wheels gives Fury a new wide stance, more stability, better traction. Other new features include Shogless: buffed, bare, an anti-theft ignition switch on the steering column, bubble-ray headlights. All in all, Fury is a car to remember. A car that says you've made it. And Plymouth makes it.

BELVEDERE: Here's a line of cars sold beautifully in between compact and full-sized! There's B12, and Road Runner for those who like the 'em hot. Sport Satellite and Satellite for sports car buffs with families and Belvedere for people who want the comforts of a big car with the economy of a smaller car.

Park Ladies Curling Notes

SHERWOOD PARK — The Sherwood Girls Curling Club find themselves short only seven members to make up their Wednesday night league of 16 teams. So the motto of the day is hurry hurry if you are considering registering before the deadline of October 5.

"The Sherwood Park Business Girls' Club is not confined just to business girls," says President Carol Coulson, "and in fact consideration is going to be given to changing the league name at the annual general meeting on October 5.

Mrs. Coulson said rovers are welcome to attend the meeting at the Sherwood Club at 8 p.m. We would be happy to have the names of rovers she had, but all applications are considered on a first come basis and after that we will include them on our waiting list.

"We plan on sticking with our conventional method of selecting teams, she added," and do not plan on accepting full rosters.

The clubs are to be represented by the executive who will in turn select their club by drawing numbers for each position.

Mrs. Coulson urged interested persons to contact her at 889-5555 or Lillian Kinnels, 889-5555 before the deadline.

GRAIN STORAGE: SUGGESTIONS — With the harvest usually complete a critical shortage of grain-storage facilities has developed.

Here are some practical suggestions from our Assistant Agricultural Engineer: W. C. Gies.

The first is a conventional round plywood bin with a six mil cone-shaped polythene cap which has a breathing space at the peak. This cap is 34 feet in diameter at the base, costs about $30 and should be available from farm supply stores. To fit the cap, the bin will take 18 panels of 4/18" waterproof plywood.

The complete cost of the bin and the cap is in the neighborhood of $180. Since the bin will hold close to 1,000 bushels, the cost per bushel is only 18¢ or so. It should take less than half a day to construct the bin.

When constructing a plywood bin some provision must be made for emptying it. Two practical ways of doing this are to make a removable hatch door about three feet from the bottom of the bin, or to insert a five zation post, with the bottom cut out, at an angle that will match the angle of the auger.

When filling a plywood bin, dump the grain in the center so that it flows evenly against the walls. Uneven filling could cause the bin to tip. This type of storage should keep the grain dry and in good condition for as long as the polythene cap remains intact.

An earth floor is perfectly all right for storing grain as long as it is dry. If there is any danger of seepage when the snow melts next spring, cover the floor with a sheet of polythene which comes high enough up the walls to keep moisture out of the grain. Polythene can also be used to make the walls moisture proof.

Plans and other detailed information may be had by writing or calling this office.

Seventeen Years Experience In Construction Enterprises

Schaaf Brothers Construction Ltd. commenced business 17 years ago as a partnership. In recent years it was incorporated with Louis Schaaf as president and administrative manager. Brother Tom is secretary-treasurer and project manager, assisted by John Schaaf.

Both Tom and Johnny are journeyman tradesmen. With journeyman supervision of the rather the end result is durable construction with considerable emphasis on professional finishing. This has permitted Schaaf Bros. Construction Ltd. to place even the most discriminating purchaser.

The first homes built in Sheraton Heights in 1930 were constructed by Schaaf Bros. Ltd. Over one hundred homes have been built in the Fort and vicinity by this company - this in addition to their extensive building program in Edmonton. When Mr. Schaaf was asked about the apartments, he said: "A great deal of planning must go into any development. In apartment construction one must not only get the layout and best use of the land but also in a way as to design the whole for guests to use and enjoy."

"One must consider such things as public areas. We have incorporated with hallways that carpeted on each corner, which is not only attractive but has a soundproofing effect. The hallways are painted, thickened, risk of odor, out of sight, out of mind. They are as beautiful from outside and every building has a modern, modern, modern."

Land Assembly And Planning.
Fort City Realty has worked closely with the city project, from plan to construction, and a Westinghouse reference. Kitchen area has a convenient layout with ample cupboards - even a breakfast nook with room with storage, shower head and curtains.

"Each apartment is equipped with an automatic night, range and a Westinghouse refrigerator. Kitchen area has a convenient layout with ample cupboards - even a breakfast nook with room with storage, shower head and curtains."

"Each apartment has its own storage room. Bedrooms and living rooms are fully carpeted with excellent quality broadloom."

"Each suite has a private parking lot with electric plug. The whole parking area is concrete reinforced with steel rails. "Privacy is something we all seek at one time or another. In Parkview and Valleyview Court we have effectively dealt with this by installing electronic doors which are controlled from each suite."

"Laundry is free. We have installed two automatic washers and dryers in each of the two buildings. Heating is baseboard hot water, thermostatically controlled."

Construction
Top grade construction materials have been used throughout, with dividing walls of double laminate drywall and soundproof materials. In an attempt to reduce sound we also built in double concrete and all ceilings are suspended, thereby reducing noise level to a minimum."

Exterior is stucco, finished with brick and permanently installed aluminum overlooking panels. Balconies are large with overhang deck and modern iron railings."

During construction we carried over 20 households in one small area - we believe this to be a source of real luck for Parkview and Valleyview Court."

Site Has Historical Background

Where Parkview Court and Valleyview Court now stand once stood a small house owned by the Hutton family, and George Kimball, general store. They traded goods taken from the North Saskatchewan River for store merchandise. The municipal office of Oliver Bar had an office managed by Dave Roberts. The site of the Fort Record forms part of this history.

The Mauston House Hotel once occupied the property at the corner where Fort City Realty is now located. The hotel was purchased by the late A. (Andy) Underdown about 1906. It is of interest that his son, Ed Under-down now has his office located on the same corner. Mauston House Hotel was a lively, busy place - brass band, dance hall, billiards, and the lot. First War veterans purchased the hotel in the 1920's and used it as a meeting place. When the hotel was dismantled in the 1930's some of the material was used in the present downtown community hall. Pictures are on view at Pioneer House.

In the same area as the apartment complex once stood a church, tennis court, church name and curling rink. The site was a great by Queen Victoria.

PARK HILL RIDERS

were declined earlier by the Mayor by acclamation, and the Council expressed on behalf of the Council thanks to Mr. Abbott for the work done during his term of office.

The Mayor was also able to report that further discussions had been held with Vernon Corcoran following the Town's suggestion that the company might be prepared to move out of their present site into the industrial area.

The Mayor further had received a letter from Mayor Ivar Dorn concerning the proposed new city dump. In this, he outlined the scheme, pointing out that it would be two miles from the borders of Fort Saskatchewan that there would be no burning and that a large percentage of waste would be ground up, along the lines of the system used by Montreal for the past four or five years.

Councillor Blore stated that in fact the city of Montreal was abandoning this scheme in favour of another, and Council agreed to submit written objections to the proposed city scheme at the meeting of the County of Strathcona on 14th October.

Council considered the proposed agreement between the Town and the licensed Real Estate Agents whose place of business was located in the Fort. Policy towards new Real Estate Agents coming to the town was discussed, and it was suggested the agreement should be reviewed annually, when additions or deletions of names could be made.

Minutes of a recent meeting of the Recreation Board were received, and comments concerning possible closer cooperation between the Board and the schools were made. Councillor Ferguson said that as far as the Public School Board was concerned, they were in favour of school facilities being made available to the Recreation Board, as long as it was realized that the costs involved would have to be charged to recreation activities. She felt that more use would be made of school facilities in the future, but it was unfair to expect the cost to come out of the school budget.

Commenting on the recent report received from the Police Department about the number of citations of infractions against the Highway Traffic Act, Councillor Fraser said in his opinion there was far too much speeding in the town, and he wished to draw this to the attention of the department concerned.

Mr. Clark drew Council's attention to the fact that the new contract to cope with the Ross Creek drainage problems would shortly be installed, and pointed out that the cost of 100 Avenue would be closed to traffic for approximately three weeks. It was felt that if the diversions were made known and publicized at the industrial plants, a great deal of inconvenience would be avoided, and the Administration agreed to do all possible to avoid this.

Councillor Blore asked whether the Catholic Parish Council could be approached, and asked to encourage parishioners to use off-street parking on Sunday mornings, as congestion outside the church, with the crossing pedestrian traffic, created a real hazard. All similar organizations in the town had been able to provide some off-street parking, and the report of the Parish Council was sought in this matter.

Mr. Peden, who wanted to open an A & W Drive-In Restaurant in the town near the Fort Machine Works on 10th Street, appeared against the Development Officer's refusal of permission, after hearing Mr. Peden and also residents opposing the scheme, Council allowed the appeal.

Councillor Blore noted that the opening date of the new shopping centre, and was told that because of the recent delay in the delivery of steel, early December was now the expected date. Suggestions regarding the establishing of a United Appeal in the town, to take the place of the many individual organizations canvassing had been discussed, and it was possible a scheme would be proposed in time for next year.

New Seed Cleaning Plant At Josephburg

Approval in principle has been given to the establishment of a seed cleaning plant at Josephburg. At a recent meeting, a group was incorporated under the name of Josephburg Co-op Seed Processors Ltd.

They are now engaged in the process of selling shares to raise their amount of the capital banked. Their share must be raised before the county and provincial grants will be forwarded.

Mr. Peden, who wanted to open an A & W Drive-In Restaurant in the town near the Fort Machine Works on 10th Street, appeared against the Development Officer's refusal of permission, after hearing Mr. Peden and also residents opposing the scheme, Council allowed the appeal.

LEGION LADIES PRESENT CHAIRS

The Ladies Auxiliary of the local Legion gave two lounge chairs to the Fort Hospital early in the summer. They have now given a hand roller to the pediatric section of the hospital and an armchair hall-chair so that one of the trainee nurses can have two soft chairs.

This is desirable as it often happens that two elderly people both require the only armchair at present in each room.

Many patients will be appreciative of this thoughtful action.

SHERWOOD PARK — More than 100 hundred people pushed the main lounge area and overflowed into corridors and adjoining rooms to watch the official opening of Sherwood Park Nursing Home here on Sunday, September 26.

Before cutting the ribbon, Health Minister James D. Henderson paid tribute to the Seventh Day Adventist Church for not only applying the initiative that provided funds to finance the building and nursing unit but for their concern for people as individuals. He said the feeling today, is to encourage to let George de la Gorge, 47-year-old businessman with government and white government rates indeed build these structures no amount of money can buy the human interest that is so essential to make the project a success. He predicted the operation of this home by dedicated citizens would bring about a reversal of a dehumanization trend that is due to largeness of

It is significant that all of the donors for the first three years of the Cultural Activities Branch and the University of Alberta Music Department have been individuals or groups of individuals and not corporations. This is due to the fact that the music is the only one of the arts which has the most people who have given freely of their time and talents. Music Advancement does not only represent a community of community operations. The idea is not only to encourage students with outstanding talent, but also those who may have ability in the line of music. The idea is to encourage students in the schools and the local music. By encouraging all available talent to progress, we feel that these students will eventually be an asset to any community. The spirit of the music is to be an incentive for these young people to keep on working and trying. That is why the name of Music Advancement Days was chosen, rather than Music Festival. KNOW MOLD PREVENTION
In thinking back over the number of calls we received this spring from people having some mold on their lawns I decided to write this column.
Fall is the time to treat your lawn with mercuric compound to prevent more mold damage next spring.
You should treat your lawn with a mercuric fungicide just before the snow comes. The recommended rate is 64 oz. of active chemical per 1,000 square feet of lawn. The best application should be made in two 3 oz. applications a week apart.

Grass cuttings, leaves, post moss and any other organic matter on the surface of the lawn increase mold damage. In other words you should rake your lawn thoroughly each fall.
FALL TREE PLANTING—Both evergreen and deciduous trees and shrubs can be transplanted either in the spring or fall.
Fall transplanting of evergreens should be completed about 6 weeks before freezing. Deciduous trees can be moved from the time the leaves drop until frost sets in.
In digging the plant retain as much of the root system as possible by keeping a ball of soil around the roots. This sometimes difficult in the fall when the soil is dry. After digging, cover the exposed roots with moist newspaper or burlap to prevent drying.
The new hole should be wide enough to hold the new roots with out crowding and deep enough to allow for a 4 inch layer of top soil beneath the roots. Add 1/2 by volume of post moss or rotted manure to the soil to be used in filling the hole. If there are not available 5-50 bags of a complete fertilizer (10-20-20 or 11-14-7) can be used. This should be mixed thoroughly into the soil.
Put the hole and pack it firmly, leaving a depression to drain water from the tree. Water several times to settle the soil.

FIA: Believes New Methods Could Lower Administration Costs

The Farmers' Union of Alberta, very interested in any method to reduce the overall cost of auto insurance, believes that new marketing methods could lower administrative costs.

If the insured accepts personal services to be added to the policy to pay the cost, but administration should be given to minimize a two-step system on rates, one rate for those who request the services of an agent, and another rate for those who are prepared to accept the self-service package.

The FUA's suggestion was included in a submission to the Alberta Legislature's Insurance Committee October 8.

The organization recommended that investment income earned by insurance companies from insured premium reserves and claims reserves be taken into account in setting rate structures.

The submission also recommended that:

possibly basic compensation for injuries to persons as the result of automobile accidents, would provide for this need, the FUA stated.

The union commends the government for its proposed driver demerit system. It also suggests consideration be given for a new system with which insurance for people who have driven recklessly might be more welcome to insured.

The brief was presented by the organization's Insurance panel chairman Paul Bailey of Edmonton's Debon Lee of Jarvis, and Lawrence Henderson of Lacrosse. The three men are representatives for operation of the FUA's insurance plan which are underwritten by Co-op Insurance Services. More than 10,000 farm vehicles are insured under the auto pool plan.

The brief reminded the Legislature Insurance Committee that it is of paramount importance that accident victims, or their families, be compensated as quickly and fairly as possible. No-fault insurance, which would

Registration For Cubs, Scouts

Once more an important time of the year rolls around, and we must get prepared to leave our TV set to gather dirt and start thinking about our boys activities in Cubs and Scouts.

Last year many boys co-operated from the parents would have been desirable. Nevertheless the Cubs did get to their weekend camp. The two camps were enjoyed by the boys, leaders and others that participated in their success. This year, more than ever, we need your help to make our leaders or with the group members.

The public knows

The recent football game between Montreal Alouettes and Toronto Argonauts has resulted in a white-hot controversy. In fact, according to the Argonauts, the controversy might be aptly titled, "black-belt".

To refresh your memory: Argonauts defensive halfback Jim Young intercepted Montreal quarterback Tommy Wade's pass with less than one minute remaining in a game won by the Argos 26-13. Hence, the importance of the theft.

Young ran the ball back a great distance before being tackled by none other than Henry Wade. As Young lay face down on the Astrodome turf, Wade clamped his right foot down on Young's back which resulted in sparking a new chapter between the two teams.

After the game it was also revealed that Wade had referred to Ed Harrington, Toronto's coloured defensive end as a "black nigger". After Harrington had tackled the Montreal real pivot.

Wade, according to Montreal coach Ray Dallan, was suffering from a concussion sustained during the game. The quarter could not be held accountable for his actions. Dallan said also that the Wade was taken to hospital for x-rays after the game.

The point is this: If Wade had a concussion, why did Dallan allow him to continue? Montreal had another quarter back named and ready. And also, Wade didn't go to hospital — he was sent home after the game and told to keep his mouth shut.

Following the game, Dallan charged the Argos with dirty and crude play, saying they charged and punched Wade during the game.

This is what the film did show: Wade threw 24 passes and completed 18. He was tackled once in the first quarter by Harry Lumley, below the waist. Eight times in the first quarter Wade threw a pass without being touched.

Local Students To Participate in UNICEF's Halloween Program

Port Saskatchewan's Pupils in the elementary will have the opportunity this year, to help in UNICEF's program. Residents are being alerted to be prepared to greet those young visitors on Halloween with their black and orange faces, to stock up not only with candies, but to keep plenty of lower change handy. This is the children's year project and their way to help the United Nations Children's Fund to send children in need around the world.

During 1958, UNICEF assistance was given to demonstration projects involving the piping of water to 600 villages with a total population of 441,000. Even more important, the effort has made people appreciate the merits of piped water and local adequate water, thus drainage and the related problems of disease and malnutrition will be things of the past.

We are delighted to be associated with such a project," said Mrs. H. R. Schultze, chairwoman of the UNICEF Committee, "since UNICEF's aid is helping in Alberta and other areas in 118 countries to help themselves. Thanks to the generosity of the people of Alberta we have every confidence that our Province will continue similar vital work during the 1959 Halloween campaign."

"Direction 70" meeting Nov. 3-4

Agriculture Minister, Harry A. Beebe, has called an Agricultural Conference to examine new marketing possibilities for the agricultural industry. To be known as "Direction 70" the conference will look at food marketing, its potential and the adjustments that might be realistically made during the next decade. It will be held November 3 and 4 at the Elbow Hotel.

One hundred and fifty members of producer organizations will be invited to attend "Direction 70" as delegates. Prominent executives from business and government will present an analysis of the current world economic trade picture. This is necessary because international factors thousands of miles away often have an effect on Alberta farms.

The delegates will then have an opportunity to offer suggestions on policy direction for production and marketing of Alberta agricultural products. Minister Beebe says he wants definite recommendations from producers so the Alberta Government can take positive action when the conference is over.

In addition to the conference delegates, members of the agricultural business community, the universities and the federal and provincial governments will be in vited to "Direction 70."

Following the completion of "Direction 70" a number of similar conferences will be held by the Department's regional staff throughout the Province. Mr. Beebe says he hopes these conferences will acquaint farmers with the current realities of our marketing situation and give guidelines to future trends.

Vegreville Overture Prepares for Another Season

The Vegreville Overture Concert Association is preparing for the start of a new season. A meeting was held on September 8, and a slate of officers elected for this new season.

Overture has been in Vegreville for eight seasons, bringing some of the best performers of the concert stage to our town. For the benefit of newcomers to Vegreville, and for those who are not familiar with the Association, a word of explanation may be in order.

Overture is brought to town by a group of interested persons bringing subscription. These make up the yearly budget, which determines the number and type of concerts to be offered. Once a tentative budget is established, selection is made from the list of concerts on circuit, giving consideration to the money that we hope will be available, the facilities that we have to offer and the suitability of the material. A list is then sent to the headquarters of Overture in Vancouver, and if all goes well all remains to be done is collect the tickets.

Subscription cost $25.00 per family, $10.00 per individual adult; and $5.00 per student. A family membership covers two adults and however many student memberships are required to the family. How's that for a bargain? Considering the quality of the entertainment offered over the years, and the fact that the tickets are available for any Overture concert in Alberta, plus any performance of the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra, this has to be the best entertainment of the kind in the city.

For the coming season, we have four concert plans, in November Vladimir Luncanescu, violinist in December Concert 79, an all-star choral and instrumental group, in February the guitarists Sullivan; and as a final offering in April the Men of Song choral group. These bookings have still to be confirmed from Vancouver but these are the programmes that we hope to offer.

The membership campaign is about to get under way, and anyone who held membership last season will be contacted by one of the directors. Anyone who is interested in joining the Association or who has not previously been a member may obtain information by writing to the Association.

Jan from the President, the Rev. H. Hesterman, the Secretary, Mrs. K. McKenna or any member of the Executive and Directors, who are as follows:
Vice President, Mr. A. Smith; Treasurer, Mrs. Elsie Lukachuk; Membership Chairman, Mr. G. Kovacs; Miss J. Eckmeier, Miss M. Daint, Mrs. F. Gaska, Mrs. T. Schellen, Mrs. I. Burt, Mrs. P. Smith, Miss K. Feltwick, Mr. J. Burt, Mrs. V. Padwick, Mrs. M. Meyer, Mr. M. C. Yoon, Mrs. S. Imeson, Mrs. M. Stewart, Mrs. A. Bask, Miss M. Hall, Mrs. M. Daint, Mrs. B. Thysen, Mrs. T. Dekker, Mrs. J. Baskin, Mrs. N. Oren.

Anyone from the Fort Saskatchewan area who is interested in joining the Association, or is further information in respect to the coming programme, please contact any one of the persons on the Executive.

Arena Moisture Problems Discussed at Town Council

Residents of Fort Sask., should be warm and dry this coming winter while skating and watching hockey in the Arena! The moisture problem was discussed thoroughly at the recent Town Council meeting, and the last ways to solve the troublesome drippings from the roof were looked into. The most effective method would be to insulate the roof, and question would be submitted as soon as possible so that work could be expedited before the first coming season.

By-Law 1528, regarding the forthcoming municipal taxation of certain properties previously exempt, such as the Legion Hall, and Reverend Luther, was discussed. This would be a new concept in taxation, and much discussion ensued.

By-Law 1529, giving the Council the clearance to set up a Board of Police Commissioners was passed. This was stressed by C. Hoyer to be most important step in the administration of the Police Dept., and it was hoped that an effective liaison would be created between the Police Chief and the general public. Certain persons who might be entered in service on this Board would be considered.

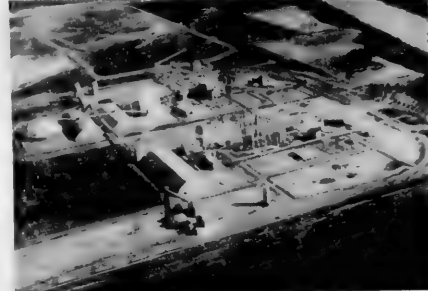

Mr. Clark reported that the objection on 19th Avenue caused by the culvert being placed in position would, with weather permitting, be open to restricted traffic in 18 days time.

A letter addressed to Council had been received from the Chamber of Commerce congratulating the members on the excellent work that had been done on the part of the town. Although the Chamber had not all ways been in approval with the Council in this regard, this letter was highly appreciated by members of Council, and the constructive suggestions stated in the letter regarding parking, would be passed to the Police Department.

Councillor Sherman expressed strong views against the poisoning of the proposed garbage dump by Edmonton, and the ultimate pollution at Pointe-Levee Creek. A meeting had been held which Mayor Knowlton had attended, and the County of Strathcona were opposed to the application.

The Park reserve, East of the medical clinic, had been requested, for developing by Dr. Huk and the Anglican Church. The Department of Highways had to be contacted on page twelve.

Fertilizer Plants Officially Opened in Redwater

REDWATER — Premier Harry Strom of Alberta turned the switch which symbolically started production at the official opening of Imperial Oil's two modern fertilizer plants here last Thursday. The plants, which have a total capacity of 500,000 tons a year, actually went on stream earlier this year.

Prior to the start up by Premier Strom, W. O. Twiss, Toronto, president of Imperial Oil, said in his remarks that the construction cost of the two plants was more than double the $100,000,000 which Imperial spent on expansion prior to its discovery of the Leduc field in 1947 and the Redwater field in 1950. He said that although the dollar is considerably lighter today than it was in 1949, the plants represent a very heavy investment, "one which we feel is important and should earn a fair rate of return."

The two plants, under the management of T. H. Cowan, produce nitrophosphate fertilizer and are located on a 700-acre site seven miles south of Redwater. They will operate on a continuous basis throughout the year with a total capacity of about 500,000 tons of product. The plants have multiple facilities for handling either bagged or bulk products.

70th Anniversary Celebration At Clover Bar United Church Sunday

This Sunday, October 26th, the members of the Clover Bar Congregation will commemorate the 70th Anniversary of the opening of their Church. While services were held intermittently in the schoolhouse for some years before this time, the present structure was not completed until 1909 by Wm. Ball and Son. The building was located on the site of the Clover Bar cemetery until 1933 when it was moved to the village of Clover Bar to serve the families of the many miners in that district. Shortly after, the Brethren congregation was formed, serving the people of the area to the East for 24 years when in 1957 it was disbanded and the congregation reunited in worship.

Rev. Elgin Loring from New-rich, Ontario and Miss S. Hemmingsway from Toronto, Ontario have been visiting the former daughter Mrs. Albert Hamilton and family in Fort Saskatchewan Alberta. They attended the Faithful, Hamilton wedding.

The other six teams

Three teams in the Western Division of the National Hockey League have no coaches, but in this division it will be the same old story.

Although goalie Glenn Hall will be missing from the lineup (there's an outside chance he might return after Christmas), St. Louis Blues will enjoy a post-season Florida vacation as winners of the western grouping for the third consecutive year.

Last year the Blues won the Stanley Cup, and this season St. Louis should find little competition within its own division, but nothing sufficient to halt their fourth pennant in as many years.

About the only obstacle in the Blues' path would be injuries. A healthy St. Louis team is still six or seven games ahead of the pack.

Veteran Jacques Plante will be tabbed as number one in the net with two prevailing youngsters ready to answer coach Scotty Bowman's call. Both Ernie Wabash and Bobbie Bruce have shown promise in early skirmishes.

The acquisition of center Phil Goyette and Andre Desautels will strengthen their attack. Desautels can also go on the wing to give the Blues added scoring punch, something they've lacked when meeting the big shooters from the east.

Pat LaFace moved down the West Coast from Portland to Los Angeles, bringing with him a considerable list of minor league achievements. He has been named to the new Memorial.

LaFace has always minded his chins late defensive units much in the style of Punch Imlach. He averages positional play and 60 minutes of hitting.

Last year the Kings had trouble scoring goals, and in an attempt to rectify this anomaly, Los Angeles has acquired their potential goal scorers — Eddie Shack, Leon MacEachern, Russ Lowmerry and Dennis Henrich. These four, along with Bill Flett and Claude Jodanis, should give the Kings more of a successful attack.

However, this theory of positional play may become somewhat disrupted when Shack is on the ice, unless he allows Paul Keadie to roam at center.

Pittsburgh Penguins are unknown quantity, and yet, with the lead Kelly has shown the team of speedy skaters could well sneak into third place.

Goalie Al Smith might just prove to be the elite this team needs. He's excellent. Glen Sather, Dean Prentice and Ron Fehner are potential 20-goal men and if they live up to this potential, Pittsburgh will finally make the playoffs.

Minnesota North Stars have improved on defense. The Stars have obtained Harry Gibson, John Munn, Darryl Roy and Tom Polaris to battle with Leo Stelvin, Moose Vasko, Tom Reid and Lou Nanne for five months.

Tracy Williams (if he stays healthy) will add scoring to the offense. The line of Danny Grant, Danny O'Rourke and Claude Larose is one of the best outside of Montreal, Boston and New York's frontlines.

Freddie Glover led his Oakland Seals to the unbreakable star last year, but a new defense and the unreliable Charles Hodge in goal will make the difference in the west this year.

Oakland will again score often, but so will the opposition, and this will keep the Seals from making the playoffs. Philadelphia Flyers had the lowest scoring team in the NHL last season and they haven't done anything to remedy this chronic ailment.

The retirement of veteran defenseman Allan Stanley has to hurt St. Louis and Boston in the Stanley Cup final. Now, Minnesota and Bayton, and it'll be wild.

What kind of nitrogen fertilizer gives you the best all-round performance?

If you need a high analysis nitrogen fertilizer, then we hope you know all about Anhydrous Ammonia.

It's used quite extensively in this district. Perhaps because the Elephant Brand Dealer does most of the work! He has the specialized equipment for rent or he'll do the complete custom application with his large, fast applicator.

Anhydrous ammonia is the ideal fast fertilizer. The soil holds the ammonia against leaching or run-off. This is because it's injected under the soil surface where it's held fast in freeze-up. In the spring, it spreads through the root zone and goes to work on your hungry young crop.

Next time you're in town, ask your Elephant Brand Dealer the above question. Be he'll tell you all about Anhydrous Ammonia.

Who needs it?

The Volkswagen Squareback Sedan is a class by itself.

It's sort of half way between a sedan and a station wagon.

It was designed for people who are sort of half way between a sedan and a station wagon.

People who have better things to carry than car payments.

They sometimes need a station wagon. But they don't need one badly enough to spend $4,000 on something so big it comes with its own echo.

Fold down the Volkswagen Squareback's rear seat and you've got 42 cubic feet of space in the back. (Half the size of an average station wagon, but twice the size of an average sedan.)

And because it's a Volkswagen, underneath all that cargo area is what makes the car go on air-cooled engine. So up front, where most car makers put the engine, you can put another couple of suitcases.

Also because it's a Volkswagen, it gets around 27 miles to a gallon of gas. And gets into tight parking space easily.

People who like this idea but hate the way it looks.

(All the room is tucked away inside, not tucked onto the outside.)

So when you think about it, maybe what you need is a small station wagon all right.

People who want room on the inside, not on the outside.

of the time. Instead of a big station wagon some of the time.

Because the big problems with big station wagons are all the biggest that come with them.

Like big gas bills. And big repair bills. And big insurance bills. And who needs that?

The car of the future.

Some day all cars might have air-cooled engines that never need water or oil changes. Some day all cars might average 32 miles to a gallon and get by on 40¢ a gallon of oil. Some day all cars might be put together under the watchful eyes of 1,104 inspectors, inspecting every single part 3 times. Some day all cars might have their own electronic diagnostic system in each dash step to diagnose and problems before they become big problems. Some day all cars might come off each year working better, not just looking different. Some day.

Alberta's First "Beetle Baby" Receives Belated Birthday Gift

Petite, ten-year-old Lesley Stewart of Sherwood Park has received a belated and unexpected birthday present.

It is a 1950 Canada Savings Bond from an automobile manufacturer.

Thought to be Alberta's first "beetle baby", she was born May 11, 1959, in the front seat of her parents' little Volkswagen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil B. Stewart of 388 Conder Street, Sherwood Park, on the outskirts of Edmonton.

It was just recently that Mrs. Stewart was told by a friend that Volkswagen made such awards to babies born in the small car.

She thought the whole thing was a joke until informed officially that Dr. R. H. Horner of Edmonton had vouched for the unusual circumstances of the birth and that Lesley did qualify for the award, despite the ten year time lag.

Added to recall these circumstances, Mrs. Stewart had no difficulty remembering that the child, her fourth, was "a little early" and that she mistook a case of "flu for the usual symptoms."

A one-sided appointment

It finally happened... I was stood up... and not by a female, but by a fellow I've known how long I don't recall when you're looking forward to a special date. We were to meet at the rink half hour before practice starts.

But this is the end of the story, so back to the beginning. A couple of weeks ago I was informed that Jean Claude Kelly would be in Toronto for a couple of days. The company which has signed him to a lucrative contract, Kelly, I met him at the hotel where Kelly was staying and making an appearance to a large audience, which had paid $15 a seat to watch a couple of his films, and he exposed to fans and equipment produced by Head Six Co.

At least Kelly was present for the meeting. Macdonald's hotel in the morning. Kelly played soccer in the morning. He also informed me after I told him that he was about seven hours late for our appointment, that he "knew" there was something he had forgotten.

I guess I should have phoned you and told you that Kelly paid down to anything that he doesn't know about before he arrives. Macdonald, rather meekly.

I didn't bother to answer. Well, that's about the end of the story.

However, here's an added footnote I thought might prove to give more insight into the true Kelly personality.

When I was on the World Cup and Olympic gold medals he used to tell me, a French male. At that time he refused to back Head Six, remarking that it was not his god. His new promoter Head Six this giving the story that he used them to win his championship, but actually, he turned them down as an inferior product.

The coach of Canada's World Cup team, Al Raine, told me on this set back a great deal of popularity in 1978. Raine says that Nancy Macdonald is now given a better reputation in France.

Little wonder!

At 3:15 we left the hotel. After 15 to 20 minutes I was long enough to wait for ANYBODY.

and all the other elements mentioned above, we must thank November. We'll probably be too late just as we are with these lines, but we're glad to give it that late notice.

Let's see. Well, there's Business Week—they're holding their annual awards, six weeks early, but very colorful. There's the annual Wash Post and Newsweek magazine.

I must admit that something bright happened to me this November. I had slept in Saturday morning for a bit, got up, looked at my law, undisturbed, and I treated to the morning paper and coffee with a substitute for cream.

Darling, read "Don't paperboy collect." I mentioned, but I answered. Four fresh-faced students, equipped with rakes, wanted to know if I'd like my lawn raked. They were raising money to take the local retained children to a couple of jousts.

November, that little hint of warmth in a cold world did wonders for me. They raked the lawn after a fashion, ran the doorbell every five minutes to ask for a drink or the time, and it cost me ten bucks.

But it was worth it. Somebody was doing something for somebody. It gave me enough strength to hang on for that most welcome day of the year, November 15th, and live and of the annual night-mare.

New A.G.T. Facilities To Provide Better Communications

Alberta Government Telephones is carrying out a $75 million project to complete its portion of a northern Trans-Canada microwave system.

The new facilities will be completed with Edmonton by a new channel open line, but the 11 system will bypass the major center. This is part of a province-wide plan to eventually connect larger cities with microwave towers at 30-mile radius stations than crowd an excessive number of circuits through a town where tall buildings interfere with transmission.

AGT's key location in the system is Chumpan where an investment of almost $1 million is being made for a tower microwave and multiplex equipment.

The new Chumpan tower, one of the tallest in Canada, is 270 feet tall reaching its full height of 470 feet. It will initially have eight parabolic dish antennas with an ultimate capacity of 16.

A 20 by 40 foot antenna is being made in the Chumpan microwave building.

At Knapton, an expenditure of $27,000 will be made on a 20 ft microwave tower and a new metal microwave building. At Vegreville, an expenditure of $12,000 will be made and will include alarm signals for the entire system.

Other major expenditures will be made at Innisfail, $145,000 and Kananaskis, $117,000.

The new system is the most complex microwave project and is scheduled to be put into service in October 1970.

LIBRARY Notes

... by Betty Cockburn

The purpose of Young Canada Week, (November 13 to 21) is to bring children and books together, and here is what your local library is doing about it.

Pre-school children and their mothers are invited to explore the wonderful worlds of Noddy, Dr. Doolittle, Raggedy Ann, Dr. Seuss plus the magic of fairy tales and many other beautiful picture books just waiting for little eyes and ears. The library will have special openings from 2 to 3 p.m. each afternoon, (November 17 to 21) for this purpose. Mother, circle one of those dates on your calendar.

Elementary school children will have a chance to display book bags (and perhaps win a prize) by entering the "Bus A-M" contest.

Calgary Power proudly introduces ANOTHER ALBERTA JUNIOR CITIZEN AWARD WINNER

BRIAN HUGHTON

Brian, aged 15, is seen receiving his Junior Citizen Award from Lieutenant Governor Grant MacEwan.

Brian received the award for his kindness and consideration in assisting his unfortunate neighbours. When a neighbour was injured in a car accident, Brian took over the man's farm chores, including the care of a dairy herd, refusing payment from the grateful Brian worked every afternoon after school, through the coldest part of winter. His independence and ability were an inspiration to the man's wife and family, and allowed them to keep the farm operating.

We congratulate Brian Hughton and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active participation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

Our special thanks to the Weekend Times and to Brian's mother, Mrs. C. Hughton.

Brian is one of our six winners for 1968.

Oryssie Malnyk, Malcolm Lennie Exchange Vows at Andrew Church

ANDREW — The Ukrainian Orthodox Church here was the setting of an impressive fall wedding ceremony which united in matrimony Miss Oryssie Malnyk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Malnyk of Andrew, and Mr. Malcolm Lennie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Lennie of Edmonton. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. Father Grigori Chuk.

On the table in front of the altar the Holy Altar were the Holy Gospel, the Cross, rings, two crowns and a chalice of wine, all symbols of the traditional Orthodox ceremony. These vestments were adorned by bouquets of colorful autumn flowers.

The bride, dressed in marriage, wore a gown of white tulle. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

The bride's attendants were dressed identically in dresses of crystal color with moss green drapery. Each wore a moss green bandeau in her hair and carried a bouquet of golden-orange daisy chrysanthemums.

Mrs. V. (Gorodinsk) Nakapchuk, the bride's only sister, was maid of honor, and the best woman was Miss Zina Schepko, of Andrew. Miss Andri Brain Removal - Scholastic and others friends and family. Many stated and quoted articles are immediately thrown away each year. Others are tossed by unsuccessful attempts to remove stains. It is possible to remove almost any stain at home by following a few simple rules.

One of the most important rules is to remove the stain promptly. Stains that become old usually require a remover as strong as that which removes the stain. Another important rule is to select a remover that will not harm the cloth. If you can find what caused the stain, this also will make you in choosing the remover best suited for the stain.

Know your material. What is the fabric made of and is it washable?

Work carefully, patiently, quickly. Often the way in which cleaning is done is as important as the kind of cleaning material used, in getting good final results.

Try Simple Methods First - For a new stain, sponge with cold water. For a greasy stain, try carbon tetrachloride. Avoid Hot Water on an unknown stain. Hot water sets many stains.

Test For Colour Change on a sample of the cloth before using any stain remover.

Use Removers Sparingly. Many brief applications are better than one long one.

Use Light, Brandy Motion never rub a remover into the stain.

Neutralize acids with alkaline; alkaline with acids.

Bleach Well, never let a chemical dry on the cloth.

Spread a liquid remover - use.

SHOULD A YEAR NO LONGER MAKES YOU THE BOSS

If you're a boss making $40,000 a year, you probably make less money and put in a longer day than those workers in Toronto: plumbers, chain metal workers, concrete-forming workers, carpenters, electricians and painters. Office Equipment and Methods Magazine reports the average per worker in data processing makes $114 a week, a little more than half the wage of any of the other categories.

Legion Darts

—by "Bulldogs"

We had no fixture in the city league last week, so on Monday night, we got in some training in the Legion bar for Tuesday's league match. We had the club league games on Monday night, with a couple of new players substituting for those who did not show up.

We should have some form of league table ready in a week or so for publication, that is if Don or Doug can sort out the numbers on those "simplified" score sheets. I think Don found them on the back of a Swedish Ore Plate packet. They're more complicated than a Japanese Welfare claim form.

Next Thursday, we're at home to the second team in the city league so we should see who will be the eventual league leaders, so I hope to be reporting it yet another week next week.

If anyone would like a length photograph of the author taken on site, please send your name on the reverse side of a five millimetre note. No prize for next week.

Dear Sir:

How many of you parents know that your boy may not be receiving equal ice time during the Saturday home games game? If your boy is not as adept as some others, he may only get out on the ice once or twice even though you paid $25.00 for registration, and purchased expensive hockey equipment.

From what I understand, the coaches are to be selecting only hockey and good team players. Hockey is meant to be a team game, but it is, in fact, a 1 or 6 "man" play out of each game in which at any cost of a self-indulgent coach. Meanwhile, the remainder of the players on his team spend most of the time watching from the bench.

During the past years, I have watched along with other parents as the coaches of the amateur hockey teams have been selected. I have seen and I have seen how the coaches of the amateur hockey teams have been selected. I have seen and I have seen how the coaches of the amateur hockey teams have been selected.

Dear Sir:

While Fort Saskatchewan may have most of the amenities expected to be found in a large thriving industrial town, I lack a very necessary one, postal delivery. As a citizen I am wondering, as why steps are not being taken to provide this service. At all times we understand that the population figure reaches over 10,000. Home and streets were numbered and roads were paved, we would be entitled to it in my opinion that Fort Saskatchewan, with its present population, has enough the postal service.

Dear Sir:

How many of you parents know that your boy may not be receiving equal ice time during the Saturday home games game? If your boy is not as adept as some others, he may only get out on the ice once or twice even though you paid $25.00 for registration, and purchased expensive hockey equipment.

Dear Sir:

While Fort Saskatchewan may have most of the amenities expected to be found in a large thriving industrial town, I lack a very necessary one, postal delivery. As a citizen I am wondering, as why steps are not being taken to provide this service. At all times we understand that the population figure reaches over 10,000. Home and streets were numbered and roads were paved, we would be entitled to it in my opinion that Fort Saskatchewan, with its present population, has enough the postal service.

Hankies Live

Two Straight

The Fort Hankies, their rivals defied by injuries, were kept in the game at Drayton Valley last Saturday night, and came away on the wrong end of a 5-5 result

Only 13 players could make the trip and the unlikely number still holds true. The Hankies were quick to open the scoring with the first goal before the two-minute mark, the second halfway through the period. D. Duncanson scored for the Hankies, deflecting a shot by Dave Pinnell.

Three unanswered goals by the Drayton Valley club in the second period had the Hankies down

5-1. The final period was the Rebels no further ahead 6-1. The final period and got a consolation goal, scored by Dave Pinnell, with Bill Pratt.

The Hankies have two crucial games this week, playing Camrose here Tuesday and travelling to Camrose Thursday. The next home game for the Hankies will be a double-header against Settle on December 6 and 7.

We need victory to spur the boys on, as yet not fans and cheer the Hankies on.

Legion

Darts

First of all, I must enter my important point. There is no truth in the rumor that the Government of Cuba has offered the darts team a million dollars

each, to tour the Cuban game at Christmas, as a song and dance act, with Walter Thomas as the travelling choreographer.

They are staying here in the Fort to carry on entertaining the every week to watch them in action. But unfortunately last week, all the action came out of the other team, Jasper Place

Legion.

We lost to them 5-1. That's good bye to our unexciting record this season, but with the worry of losing that second game we may be in for a double-header against Settle on December 6 and 7.

of planning and work. It soon may be moved into our present Church.

A few thoughts about Ardrossan Church history.

Church services began in Ardrossan in 1880, the Methodist district first meeting, the C. W. Father residence, and the first baptisms in Harry Burton's General Store at Humberburg (later Burnham) where the Hanes road still runs.

The first Presbyterian Church was built on C. W. Father's farm, in what was called the Green-bush Settlement, because of the number of settlers from Glasgow. The Church also served as the first school with Rev. Forbes, the first minister coming from Fort Saskatchewan by horse and buggy. The first original Methodist Church was built in 1881 diagonally across from Baker School with Rev. E. F. Flay as first minister. It was named Fairmount and the cemetery still bears that name. With the coming of the railroad, the Ardrossan community was begun, and the two Churches were moved into town. Soon after this a bush fire destroyed the Methodist Church, but the services continued and on November 13, 1888 the little white Church, still in use, was dedicated. But even before this, Rev. Jack Forrester held services at Ardrossan in a tent for the crew making the railroad grade. Rev. Forrester married a local girl, Miss Meta Clapp and was interred in Fairmount cemetery in June 1891. Experts from his diary list of services at Humberburg.

Christmas Carol Festival

It's that time again! X-mas Carol Festival time, of course. It's that one time of the year when you have the chance to see and hear all the choirs of the district. There are school choirs, Church choirs and local district choirs. There are school bands and local bands and also a be applied for as it is an anti-curricular activity.

A request from the Principal of the Ardrossan Jr. High School to have the boys drawing room changed in the new addition was referred to the School Committee for their approval. This request was tabled until the May meeting.

Reading rink grants for the following schools were approved: Ardrossan Primary School, Ardrossan Elementary School, Ardrossan Jr.-Sr. High School, Eldorado Primary School.

Mrs. Ferguson reported to the School Committee on the Ardrossan Night held at the Port Saskatchewan High School. She also reported on a suggestion to have the Christmas tree at the Port Saskatchewan Jr. High School and also at the addition at the Port Saskatchewan High School.

The door prize, a third table made at the school, was won by Bud Williamson, 18 Willow St., Sherwood Park. The beautiful silver, made and donated by Mrs. A. Scheppl was won by E. Hodges, 4, 860-10 Avenue, Edmonton and the Ladies' West Ward was won by Mrs. E. Kach of Fort Saskatchewan. The 11¢ round box of chocolates, table prize in the raffle, was won by C. Owen, 860-120 Avenue, Edmonton.

'Park Community League Hears Budget Review

SHERWOOD PARK — The Sherwood Park Community League heard a review of its budget for the coming year at a meeting held last night.

Movie Director, Dan Beyer, laid out the line here at a recent meeting.

"Our program for 1970 is to take an evening more money on repairs." The total cost of a new machine, with an audience speaker is estimated to be around the $200 mark. If the speaker on the old program can be adapted to the new line, it could be saved.

The budget exceeded the 31-year old model that served the community well. However, during a commission on their 1960, the budget was set at $100. Of this amount $30 was immediately needed to meet the full mortgage payment $37 for hockey new for the Sherwood Hockey rink, another $20 for a hose to flood the rink plus $17 for repairs to the rink house. This is without badly needed repairs to the community hall entrance, which was estimated at $400.

The Community League received a capital budget of $3,358 for the fiscal year allocated $750 for the projector for operating expenses. Beyer had a list back to all capital expenditures, except the $750 allocated to the rink and the projector.

One donation suggested, Mr. Beyer said, was to purchase a new machine for the rink. He suggested that the rink be used for the rink. He suggested that the rink be used for the rink.

Mr. Beyer said that the rink was a good idea. He suggested that the rink be used for the rink. He suggested that the rink be used for the rink.

Meet Tom Wilkinson

Tom Wilkinson, a successful "read" who has been in the Canadian Football League for several years, is the author of a new book, "The Art of the Read".

Wilkinson's leadership and motivational qualities were the key to his success as a quarterback of the Toronto Argonauts. These qualities are the result of his years of experience as a player and coach.

Wilkinson accomplished more in his rookie year than most players in the league. He was named the CFL's Most Valuable Player.

Wilkinson's success is the result of his hard work and dedication. He is a true leader and a great role model for young players.

Wilkinson's book, "The Art of the Read", is a must-read for all football players and coaches. It provides valuable insights into the game and the mindset of a successful player.

Wilkinson's book is available in paperback for $9.95. It is a great addition to any football library.

The Haines may be down at a small bank, but the decade the politicians look on the press.

When Pierre Elliott Trudeau decided to date a girl in London, the British and the American press had a field day, interviewing the girl and having her contacted on the way. Mr. Trudeau's label out of the "magazine" and issued a threat that if they didn't leave him alone, then perhaps it was time their private lives were investigated.

Neither side backed down but since that outbreak, there has been little in the way of interviews with the P.E. friends in the Canadian press. In fact, when he caught out of Ottawa early for a date with "Penny Col" Barker, Steve, the Ottawa press corps was caught flatfooted. The public was left guessing as to Mr. Trudeau's opinion of our Prime Minister.

In the United States, the press and Spivak Agnew are going to it with gloves off. Mr. Agnew has probably been ridiculed more than any vice president.

When Mr. Agnew in the form of a puppet bid by the president appear regularly, quick trip around the world, some of the cartoons in the large U.S. newspapers were brutal. The vice-president was depicted as a retarded person who couldn't even be trusted to lead the dog on time.

But starting with a major press in the "New York Times" has lashed back. Obviously, the new has found it impossible to attack, and the results were the name. The Agnew call to the "silent majority" to speak out, rallied the supporters of the Vietnam war and probably resulted in a crackdown on violence by the organizers of the November election in Washington.

At Don Martin, I've Agnew took on the television network, accusing them of slanting news coverage and abusing their power over public opinion. What happened turned him on was the treatment given President Nixon by the three U.S. networks following his Vietnam speech.

The audience of 70-million Americans — gathered to hear the president — was infuriated.

Point About From Cabin - How you made your Christmas cake yet? The cake of fruit cake seems to be a new fad.

Such words coming strictly from Agnew would be dismissed as just another example of the man from Maryland making his foot in. But according to the New York Times, the speech was part of a Nixon crusade. In fact, the speech was a Nixon crusade. In fact, the speech was a Nixon crusade.

Next on the Agnew-Nixon target practice program were the New York Times and Washington Post. This speech was delivered in Montgomery, Ala., and any attack on the New York Times is certainly a draw chess there. After all, didn't the New York Times attack the citizens of Alabama for their stand on segregation, and didn't the newspaper of the fine state label the brains of the Times "pinheads"?

So Agnew was applauded when he pointed out that other Canadians should pay attention to support from both parties for President Nixon's Vietnam policy. Yet the New York Times, which considers itself America's paper of record, did not carry a word, Why?

It's a theology student in Iowa should get up at a P.E. conference in Sioux City and attack the president's Vietnam policy, my guess is that you would probably find it reported somewhere next morning in the New York Times.

The media are hitting back at Agnew, just as Mr. Agnew hit back at the press on news and to shut off news sources in government.

The CBC National News, we thought, gave Agnew the lead in his attack on the press. But a fire in Maryland had not been reported by the CBC.

The library of a major Agnew was destroyed in a fire. When the news of the fire was reported, it hadn't even started to color one of them.

However, Pierre, what you are ahead!

Don't Market Agricultural 1988 - Best Area Economy

Consolidating Hops For Commercial Production - Commercial growers are well aware that the new hop trading system offers a real incentive to produce hops of high average quality. Unfortunately the hop that grades Best is often the one whose growth is slow and feed efficiency is poor. To maximize profits, hop breeders must come with hops that not only grade well, but are ready for market in a minimum time and with a minimum amount of feed.

Within the last couple of years the traditional hop breeds such as Yankton, Landrace and Landrace have been re-assessed and several American most type breeds are being tried. This includes the Hampshire and Poland China.

They or value combined gifts of low breeding is recommended as a very useful procedure. Striped dogs, expected to be more vigorous, produce larger litters, grow faster and produce more pig per pound of feed consumed than their striped parents. However, crossbreeding is more merely scrambling various breeds together it should be conducted according to a carefully designed plan.

Probably the simplest and most effective crossing system is as follows:

- 1) they or value combined gifts of low breeding is recommended as a very useful procedure.
- 2) select 3 way girls from your own herd and alternate with litters of the same three breeds you originally started with. This is commonly known as rotational crossbreeding. This is perhaps the simplest as it means that only litters have to be purchased. However, only white breeds should be used as the black breeds will eventually lead to spotted litters in succeeding generations.

What litters should be used? In two opinion York and Landrace would be a good cross for a sow herd, as these two breeds have consistently produced more pigs per sow per year.

The Lacombe herd could from the third breed, as Lacombe reach slaughter weight at an early age, have good carcass quality and good feed efficiency.

Whether breeds are chosen, make sure you know the characteristics of each and the type of market hog you want to produce.

FIRE RANGERS IN TRAILERS

The "Red Team" has made a fine showing in the annual fireman's contest. It suggests a place of rest after a long hard trip, it is a place for understanding and companionship. It symbolizes safety and security.

"Home" these days includes a trailer court home or a mobile home. With increased mobility of the population the image of "home" suffers a transition.

A closer look will reveal a rather drastic shift in values. In fact convenience and mobility results in less safety and security.

For example, a mobile home or trailer home must be compact built-in features include heating and cooking units. Like in the traditional home, there are combustibles near heat sources, but in the case of trailers, a gas stove or oil stove built in liberty in trailers due to design and less mobile construction features. Added to all other hazards is the fact that occupants are immediately exposed to any accidental fire. Perhaps worst of all, there is the ever present danger in a small tightly closed trailer area of suffering from a deficit of oxygen with the accompanying deadly carbon monoxide risk.

There is good reason to select a CSA listed mobile home in which life safety is given prime consideration in equipment installation and design. But, there are many trailers and trailer homes in use lacking some safety features and not likely to have safety inspection services to spot trouble.

If you live in a trailer, give fire safety full attention at all times.

Have you ever considered...

...consider the mind for health in Alberta?

The hundreds of primary producers who raise Alberta's annual two million dollars for crop must be kept up to date on all technical aspects and changes in their own or to keep their crop up to their own level. The Farm Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture keeps them informed by regular news bulletins as well as field days.

Immediate information about potential substance is available to your family doctor, hospital, nurse, and, in emergency, directly to persons through the Poison Control Services unit.

It's not a widely known statistic but metal workers in this province are entitled to a pension centre with a quick reference system which tells whether or not a substance is poisonous - what the test results are and what can be done about it. In addition to these points, the centre, point information sources are located in Calgary and Edmonton where information on special treatment of various poisons is immediately available to doctors or hospitals.

...also 'tells off' about Alberta's government?

ARDROSSAN DISTRICT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Reynolds were in the group which attended the Toronto Royal Winter Fair on the Maple Leaf Tour. Their names were inadvertently left out of the account which was in last week's issue.

In March 1969, a new type of school was opened in Edmonton. It is the School for Red Carpet Receptionists operated by Mrs. Anne Stimpson. First impressions can be lasting and the first impression the public gets of a business is often through that business's receptionist. Therefore, the business would benefit Mrs. Stimpson saw the need for a person better trained to meet the public and she founded the School for Red Carpet Receptionists, which endeavors to meet this need. Anyone interested in this type of training is invited to call the school and discuss the program which is offered. After having lived in Ardrossan, except for short periods of time, since 1961, Mrs. Stimpson is moving to Edmonton to be closer to her work. We wish her success and happiness in her new home and to her new business.

Andrews' Mary Hickey team spent the weekend of December 6-7 in Jasper, Alberta. They were defeated for the first time this season. They lost both of the two games that they played. Nevertheless all the boys enjoyed the outing very much. Tables were a large group of boys on a tour such as this was a new experience for Coach Grelia and he says he could not have managed had it not been for the help given him by those who provided cars and assisted with the supervision. They were Don's father, Mr. Carl Lukaszewich, Don's father, Mr. Ed Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. Vic McLean and daughter, Crystal.

The coach, the players and the parents all appreciate very much the help given by these people and extend our thanks to them. The boys say they enjoyed having Crystal McLean in the party. They also enjoyed the good food and all accommodations provided by the Mr. Robson Motor Hotel in Jasper.

The December meeting of the Ardrossan PTA and FWBA was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Horton on December 4. Mr. Karl Schmalke was named delegate to attend the convention of the PTA and FWBA in the Macdonald Hotel. An election of officers was held. Mrs. Douglas Horton took over the presidency of the FWBA from Mrs. Wm Jackson. Mr. Cyril Jacques continues as president for the PTA. Mr. and Mrs. Byron Latham continued as treasurer for the men's and ladies groups respectively. Mr. Howard Hartzel is secretary for the men's group and Mrs. Cyril Jacques is the ladies secretary. Both held these offices last year. Mrs. Raymond Schewers was elected to act as careers and also candidate secretary.

After the business meeting all enjoyed a Christmas party with food, chicken and other special treats.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stewart attended the wedding reception of Mr. Stewart's cousin Mr. Wallace Stewart. Mr. Wallace Stewart of Vermilion, married Miss Colleen White also of Vermilion in Edmonton on Saturday, December 6. The reception was held at the Burns Doss Community Centre.

GARDEN DISTRICT NEWS

Barbara and Jack Dixon are the proud parents of a baby boy, Dean Darrin, born at the University of Saskatchewan. Carl Thorsen has undergone surgery to hospital. We hope he is now completely recovered. The hall has a new book with fresh paint and new paneling on the walls. There will also be a new furnace installed in the kitchen.

Garden Hall was filled to capacity on November 20 when friends and neighbors gathered to celebrate the 35th wedding anniversary of Ada and Bill Grayson. Many out-of-town relatives were present. Their nephew, Doug Jay, presented his aunt and uncle with a coffee table, end table and lamp on behalf of friends, relatives and neighbors. Very sad.

Frank Hatching who stood up for the couple 20 years ago, was present. Bruce was supplied by David Dano, Ray Thibodeau and Brian McKee. Refreshments and music were provided.

On December 4, the Ardmore Midget hockey team played to Jasper for a game. They played one game on Saturday evening and lost 12-1. Another game was played Sunday morning and Ardmore won again, defeating 12-1. Even though they were the horns, the boys enjoyed themselves, and a big thank you goes to Ray Geleza, Ed Marsh, Mr. Lutschewich and Vic McLean, who provided transportation.

On December 4, the ladies of the Fellowship group of Uman Gospel Mission held a tea and sale in the Garden Hall. Many articles were auctioned off, such as $20.00 worth of groceries. There was also a bake table and novelty table. Throughout the afternoon the ladies served hot chili.

Have you ever considered...

...what it takes
or real estate?

In an effective measure to safeguard your interests, all companies and any person you deal with directly in the insurance or real estate business in the province must be licensed under statutes administered by the Insurance and Real Estate Branch of the Alberta Provincial Secretary's Department. All new applications and renewal requests of licenses are handled and controlled through the office of the Superintendent of Insurance and Real Estate Examinations for men and women wanting to enter these fields are held on a scheduled weekly basis. An average of one out of seven applicants fails to pass or write his test. In addition to licensing of agents, salesmen and adjusters, a major program of surveillance of insurance company financial operations is maintained and staff inspectors investigate reported incidents of business practices. Information dealing with insurance or real estate is available through this Branch.

get in on the act?

You can take part in any number of active programs directed by the Branch Division of the Cultural Development Branch of the Alberta Department of the Provincial Secretary. All are designed to stimulate activity and give people actively involved in the contemporary theatre work of this province. There's news to the making of a play that just opens in thousands of cultural groups and adults find out by participating in the various schools, festivals and playwriting competitions held by 42 theatres throughout the year. Working directly with various community groups and schools, the Division's series of 22- to 24-hour assistance in drama, music, directing, stagecraft and design, musical theatre, 1960-61 and 1961-62. Numerous international programs named to Alberta as well as the annual Provincial one-act High School festival and adult's production Summer Dramaticale. Catalogues of a complete repertoire and script library and various guidelines booklets are available on request through the Division.

school books?

With the feasibility of curricula the standardized pricing of school books throughout the province by the School Book Branch of the Alberta Department of Education results in direct benefits, particularly to large families. All text books used in Alberta Schools are distributed to independent dealers, teachers and school boards by this Branch which publishes an annual price list. School boards may sell the books to students at cost.

...the shape of our safety stickers?

There are four basic shapes of symbols of safety, proof that the cars and trucks which carry them have successfully passed the requirements of the vehicle testing centres operated by authority of the Safety Division of the Motor Vehicle Branch, Alberta Department of Highways and Transport. Square, triangular, round and oval stickers are used, each for a six-month interval and after full rotation vary in four of the six letter areas of inspection established throughout the province. There is a fee of $2.50 for each initial inspection and $1.00 for each re-inspection. Extraordinary plans for this Safety Division services to be broadened by establishing a substantial number of permanent and mobile testing units in the near future. Information regarding this province-wide program can be obtained by contacting your local inspection centre or the Branch offices in Edmonton.

They may rent tents or make them available free of charge. A discount of 40 per cent off list price is allowed where books are provided free or are rented to students under rental plan regulations. About $4 million worth of texts are distributed annually.

out that the liability rested with the Government of Alberta, who were in charge of the routing of the new highway. Councilman Perry pointed out the moral obligations in these cases.

Councilman Ferguson reported that the railway crossing had been blocked by a train for 15 minutes one morning just at the time when children were making their way to school and it was agreed to write to CN concerning this, as they had usually been able to keep these blockades to a less hazardous time.

A letter from the Chamber of Commerce for immediate temporary lighting on the new highway approach to the Town was supported by the Council, and the Chief Administrator was asked to contact Calgary Power regarding this matter. A further letter suggesting that meetings be made on the curb and parking during the winter months was accepted, and would be favorably considered in the spring.

Councilman Perry made a motion to review the commemoration of the Mayor and Councilors at the first meeting in the new year, and this was carried.

The meeting ended at the unusually early hour of 10:10 p.m.

Fort Huskies Blow One, Win One In Weekend Clash With Stettler

A two-sided Fort team appeared to sport two points in their big double header against Stettler Imperials last weekend. The Saturday night game saw the Huskies enjoy a two-goal lead throughout the first period, scores being Dave Fennell and Colin Greir.

Stettler opened the scoring to start the second period, although they had a player in the penalty box. The Imperials tied the game four minutes later while both teams were playing short hand. Rich Stillingman scored 1-3 for the Huskies, and right back were the visitors in the game.

... and came away winners in an exciting 7-4 game, scores on goal, Fort Saskatchewan 14, Stettler 27.

Stettler's advantage was a superior first period, but lots of action and the fast skaters were the visitors. The visitors' attempt to upset the locals with their bluffs, but the Huskies refused to be off-balance. Bob Stillingman, the Huskies' lead in the second period, and the local heads, held on to the one-goal lead until one minute before the end of the period when the visitors equalized.

A tie-up in the game the night before started when the Imperials jumped about 2-1. The Huskies strove desperately for the equalizer and were finally rewarded on a goal by Dave Fennell. This goal sent both teams into another sudden-death overtime. Bruce Thompson scored the hero's mantle, scoring the winning goal for the Huskies, and the game ended 3-1 in favor of the locals.

Next Saturday and Sunday another big double-header when the Huskies host Drayton Valley. Standings including games played Tuesday, December 3:

Legion Darts

by "Dart"

Some of the readers of this column have asked me to write a little darts, because they can't read, well, you can see I'm obliging them. At the same time, on behalf of the Legion Darts team I would like to wish everyone, Jostel Valente (that's Jostel for Merry Christmas) a very happy Christmas.

I asked one, a friend of mine to come to a party, and to bring "something" with him, so I brought my brother.

To get back on the subject, which I'm supposed to write about, we did it again last Thursday night, when I defeated the very Legion 5-3. Although we had a tougher struggle than normal, not because of the strength of the opposition, but due to the rounds of about 2300 pairs of army boots in the darts hall above. Although on further investigation it wasn't 2300 pairs of army boots at all, but about 25 pairs of "Two-Pot" dancing shoes, some brown, some black and not all the brown ones or the black ones were on matching feet...

But we didn't really mind, as this was very jolly done up by the resident Fort Saskatchewan Philharmonic Orchestra, led by the only "white" limousine player in Canada.

Well, back to reality, this Monday we are having an inter-club match for a few small prizes for Christmas, there will be teams picked on Monday night, or if anyone would like to enter you will be too late, because by the time this is printed, I'll have won all the prizes.

More next week.

Josephberg Lions Club Notes

The last meeting of the Josephberg Lions Club for the year 1959 took place Tuesday, December 23, at the Christmas Party. This special meeting combined a Ladies' Night, Christmas party, District Governor's visit and youth leaders of the district in attendance.

The Lions and their honored guests at the hall at 7:30 p.m. Special guests were the Lions District Governor, Rod & Vera Nickel from Red Deer, Deputy District Governor Fred and Lil Fawcett, Leland, and Linn Ed and Ruby Day, Red Deer, Dale and Darlene Korman, Leland, Dunc and Nancy Larkins, Jasper Place, and Marcel and Irene Demars of the St. Albert Breakfast Club.

Other special guests present were the Youth Leaders in the District. Presiders - Mrs. Harold Mohr (Thank You), Mrs. Harold Grönlund, Leader, Mrs. Helmut Ritter, Co-Leader, Mr. Ray Olson (Chairman), Mr. Allan Barnett (Assistant).

Co-Chairman, Mrs. Fred Olson, Chairman, Mrs. Fred Olson, Secretary, Mrs. Gene Brown (Guest Treasurer), Chancellor Linn Demars, and Council Mayor.

Ladies' Auxiliary - Mrs. Walter Pollock, president. Josephberg 4-1 Club - Mr. Arne Gimber who has been 4-1 leader for 30 years.

The leaders were accompanied by their wives or husbands and a sincere thank you is extended once again for the very fine job they are each performing. The assistance given by Mrs. Gene Brown to the district was also very much appreciated. After a most delicious dinner prepared by Mrs. Albert Thomas a lively sing song followed, and by Mrs. Berne Krueh, and Mr. Fred Miller at the piano. The Christmas parcel exchange provided fun for all.

Two new members were formally welcomed to the club by Gail and Mrs. Harold Grönlund, and Mrs. Helmut Ritter. The meeting was a fitting end to the year's Lions Club activities.

holders of these cards were found. Some of the cards were missing in the boys' houses, and one English design, Sir Henry Cole had an artist design a card for him to send his friends. A few Christmas cards were sent about 1850, but sending a Christmas card containing a message of affection and cheer did not become common practice until 1870.

Candles symbolized the light of Christ, stars, the star of Bethlehem. Christmas colors are red for the passion and death of Christ and green for eternal life. The Holly Holly remains green.

Why Do Children Hang Up A Stocking? In the days of yore there is a place in the Christmas custom of placing everybody's wooden shoe in a row outside the door or on the hearth on Christmas Eve. It signifies everyone's resolve that during the coming year they will do their best to live together in peace and harmony. People in other lands substituted stockings for shoes. Presents in the shoe or sticking are a reminder of the legend that kindly St. Nicholas gave a purse down the chimney, or the tradition to save the virtue of two young girls whose father was planning to sell them for money. St. Nicholas was always the children's champion.

How Did People Start Sending Christmas Cards? The first Christmas cards were sent by English schoolboys. This year the Department of Agriculture is offering two or thirty new farm record keeping systems. The first is "Cofarm", the mail in accounting system which received a lot of publicity in the farm papers recently. Salesmen of income and expense are mailed in monthly by the farmer, and a computer at Guelph, Ontario tabulates each account and sends a monthly and cumulative statement back to the farmer.

The second is the Alberta Farm Management Program, which of farm a completely new and simplified farm account book, along with a year and analysis of farm records. Individually and through group workshops we will assist anyone interested in keeping better records.

Also Prairie Provinces Account Books will be available for sale at this office, for those who wish to continue using them. For further details on each of the above mentioned programs.

Properly kept and used, a good set of records can give you this important information at a glance. How else can one expect to make a sound decision when considering whether to buy or rent land, purchase new machinery, or change a livestock enterprise.

County of Strathcona Fire Department Notes

Every year Christmas tree fires take their toll of property and life, and a normally jolly occasion turns tragically. Christmas tree fires can be made nearly impossible by following one simple rule, stand the tree in water. Laboratory tests have proven that the moisture content of the foliage is the main factor determining a Christmas tree's flammability. Trees standing in water or maintain a moisture content of 100 to 140 per cent and become very difficult to ignite. However, ignition of the needles on a naturally drying tree ignites quite readily at about 10 per cent or less.

or spraying the tree to flame-proof it, is of dubious value. A great deal of research must be introduced into the needles before flammability is significantly reduced. If the tree is then allowed to dry, it may still be more flammable than one kept standing in plain water. Furthermore, a common undesirable side effect is discoloration of the foliage, whereas plain water preserves the fresh natural green.

When the tree is standing in water, it is also protected from chance ignition of small pockets of dry dead needles which might occur around Christmas tree light bulbs. Even dead branches up to several inches in length can be burned without setting fire to the bulk of the tree.

The water treatment has two important advantages which should be stressed along with its simplicity and effectiveness. If a tree is partially dry it will recover when set in water and maintain a safe moisture content in its foliage. This recovery power is limited, however, once the needles are dry and brittle, but immersion is useless. The second limitation is in the size of the tree-brand. Although a tree standing in water will resist a very hot point source of heat, it will burn if enough heat is supplied around its base. Accumulation of combustible material under the tree should therefore be avoided.

The sensible approach to Christmas tree installation is to follow, stand the tree in water until ready for use, make a diagonal cut removing one or two inches of the bottom end and set the tree in water immediately it is brought indoors. The tree will then absorb water and evaporate it through its needles much as it did while growing. The water supply must therefore be replenished regularly, sometimes more than a pint per day.

In addition, the lighting system is carefully checked and the base of the tree kept free of con-bustibles. The chances of the tree being set afire are infinitesimal. These simple safety precautions cost nothing and are easy to observe by all home owners.

Don't let fire spoil your Christmas.

R CAN YOUR FEET TALK BLIND HILLS?

The average Canadian will walk that many miles in a lifetime. In addition to this his feet are subject to rubbing, scuffing, scraping and blisters, as well as being exposed to the elements - rain, heat and cold. Add to this the daily friction building up heat inside the shoes and normal feeling that takes place.

It is easy to see that, to stand the strain over the years, you must take extra special care of your feet. We have a complete Foot-Care Department in our pharmacy to help you with everyday foot needs. For special problems with your feet we always recommend you consult with your doctor or podiatrist.

CHRISTMAS & CANDLE LIGHT

Candles have always been associated with the festivities at Christmas, but certain care must be taken to be sure that candles do not start fires. Last year 6 candle fires on Christmas Day and 8 candles during the Christmas week caused a total $10,100 property loss. There are new displays and decorations on sale weekly but certainly place them in metal or glass candle holders.

Our experience proves that there are special dangers in watch for.

They are as follows:

1. People should not allow small children to have matches or lighters to light candles.

2. People should place candles only in metal or glass or other flame noncombustible candle holders.

3. People should avoid leaving candles burning, Christmas tree lights on and electrical appliances operating when they leave the house.

Warburg Lodge Presents Gavel

Nine members from Warburg Lodge No. 227 motored to Fort Saskatchewan Monday evening with the travelling gavel. The gavel was presented by A.E.L. Smith from Warburg and accepted by H.B.L. Beth Crautson on behalf of the Fort Saskatchewan Lodge members.

After the presentation a Christmas party was held with members of the two lodges parading in an exchange of gifts and enjoying a lovely lunch.

Next regular meeting is January 5, 8:30 p.m., Lodge Hall.

A special Christmas gift

Don't know what things are around your way, but there's a little doubt that we're going to have a white Christmas around here. Winter came in like a polar bear with a toothache and I went out to work on December 1st as though it was mid-January. Really!

That is, wide through all sorts of fresh snow, very fervently as I try to start the car, breathe over the hood of the car, and then see the car down the driveway, muttering another supplication that I'll make the road, and then see another few words of gratitude because I'd get my mittens on the day before.

One creature who despises the white business as much as I is our cat. It was bad enough for her before the snow came. Rage, terror, black, white and black, licked the yard, and she'd sit on the street table, spinning and snarling at us through the glass.

There's something about people in the snow. They're of the same species as the snow, but they're not. They're of the same species as the snow, but they're not. They're of the same species as the snow, but they're not.

Sliders are delighted, of course, and that other creature, the snowmobile, is also delighted. They're of the same species as the snow, but they're not. They're of the same species as the snow, but they're not.

Now we have their winter counterparts. I can tolerate the snowmobile as a handy tool for work, or for getting from one place to another in winter. I can tolerate the snowmobile as a handy tool for work, or for getting from one place to another in winter.

Huskies Split Double Header With Drayton Valley Last Weekend

A lethargic Fort team took the week beating in this series going down 10-4 against the Drayton Valley Rebels at home last Saturday night.

The game as far as the Huskies were concerned was over before the opening whistle. The Rebels opened the contest with some fine play, but the Huskies' second half scoring, from a 1-0-0 to a 1-0-0, was the Rebels' week ahead. The Rebels were ahead, the Fort team short handed. Bill Hays, scoring two goals, was the only one to score.

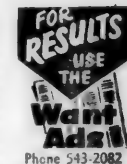

The Drayton Valley team was instrumental in keeping the Huskies forward from scoring. An injury to the goalie, who stopped a hard shot from Bill Hays, seemed to have a sobering effect on the Huskies play, an opportunity to really take command of the game ended there for some unknown reason. As the Huskies started to fall apart, the Rebels' confidence built and a shot by way and survived until the close of the period.

The replacement goalie, Reber, in the final period, made some nice saves in keeping out a half-hearted attack on them, and a shot from a rebounder, Tim Robertson, a rebounder, seemed to be the only goal by the Huskies. The Rebels' attack was not as strong as the Huskies' attack, but the Huskies' attack was not as strong as the Rebels' attack.

The Rebels' attack was not as strong as the Huskies' attack, but the Huskies' attack was not as strong as the Rebels' attack.

Protein Level Important For Maximum Feedlot Gain — The current grain surplus has turned many grain farmers into instant cattlemen, and the inexperienced feeder should be aware of the many pitfalls of this highly specialized enterprise. One of the first things the new feeder learns is that all feeds, both grains and roughages, are highly variable in nutrient content. To find out exactly how suitable a feed is, the surest way is to protein may inhibit the animal's ability to utilize other ration ingredients. Therefore, it is extremely important to have the correct protein level for the particular type and size of cattle on hand.

For example a 200 lb. steer requires 1.15 lbs. of crude protein in order to gain 1 lb. per day. The same steer requires 1.85 lbs. protein to gain 1 lb. per day. To reach the higher level you must either increase the animal's daily feed consumption, or if the steer is already on full feed the protein level of the ration must be increased.

To put this into a general recommendation, feedlot managers fed cattle over the last should contain a level of 11 to 12% crude protein. Vitamin A important in winter feeding — From now on until spring all cattle rations should be supplemented with Vitamin A. Feedlot cattle require about 10-20,000 International Units per day depending on weight and age. Pregnant beef cows need

Churches Celebrate Holy Day

With special services, churches of this community celebrate Christmas — a holiday that is, first of all, holy day. Festivals of light, music and prayer are dedicated to the birth of a holy Child in Bethlehem, nearly two thousand years ago.

For Christian believers, each of the night, music, prayer — has a special meaning associated with Christmas.

"And lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy." Matthew 2:10

The Star that guided the Wise Men shines as symbol of Christ, the Light of the world, and it is seen in symbolism by all the bright lights that twinkle in Christmas night.

Candlelight services reflect the radiance of the holiday, in Christian observances everywhere.

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of his heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the high, and on earth peace good will toward men." Luke 2:13-14.

Since the angel chorus brought glad tidings of great joy, to shepherds watching in the fields, flowers and carols of rejoicing have told of the wonder and glory of Christmas.

"Will the words of the angels composed the first of all Christmas carols, a thought repeated again and again in favorite songs of the season.

"Hark! the Herald Angels Sing" makes this thought its theme, and another familiar chorus, "It Came upon the Midnight Clear," is devoted to "that glorious song of old," on the night when "the world in solemn stillness lay to hear the angels sing."

Christmas music in the churches celebrates the joy of the Nativity.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him." Matthew 2:11

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them." Luke 2:18

"Thus wrote one of Christ's disciples, Matthew and Luke telling of the awe and wonder, the joy and reverence experienced alike by shepherds and shepherds.

Especially at Christmas, in church services and private devotion, Christians give prayerful thanks to God, for the miracle of the manger.

Christmas Message—Hon. J. Grant MacEwan, Lt. Governor

Although we are at a time of spectacular change, there are true customs and institutions we would not discard, one of them being Christmas. And so, I haven't extended my last wishes in the old-fashioned way, hoping that wherever possible, families will be re-united and homecomings will be happy ones that appetites will be big and tables will be loaded with the good fruits of Canadian soil.

And while most of our people are enjoying the festivities in family circles, we should not forget those who may be denied such pleasures, the many who lie or far removed from homes and friends, and those whose duties in public service will keep them at work.

Of course, Christmas should be more than a time for celebration. It should be a time for serious thought about sharing and about the Christmas theme, Peace on Earth. When that theme is understood I hope it will be in the best sense, with thoughts of men living at peace with the whole of Nature's community. It should mean something more than silencing the big drum of human warfare. I find it hard to understand how there could be the desired peace among men while mankind is still at war against Nature and all her glorious possessions. I am a part of the great complex of humans and other living creatures, soils, forests, flowers, and so on, and if I seek genuine Peace on Earth, I must strive to be as kind to all I come in contact with as I can. I must be able to see the possible offence against any of these marvelous works of Creation, in other words, a state of harmony with my surroundings. And finally, my wish that Christmas 1969, will be filled with joy and peace that Passeth Understanding.

The New Low On Drinking And Driving

What is the New Low? The new law on drinking and driving states that: If you are in charge of a motor vehicle while you have more than 80 grams of alcohol per 100 milliliters of blood, you are committing a criminal offence.

How is the Alcohol Measured? By a breathalyzer — a simple reliable instrument. You breathe into a tube — the device indicates whether or not your bloodstream has alcohol content of more than Point Zero Eight.

Who makes The Test? Any peace officer, anywhere in Canada, has the right on reasonable grounds, to require you to take the breathalyzer test if you are in control of a motor vehicle.

What happens, if you Fail the Test? If the breathalyzer indicates more than Alcohol Point Zero Eight, you are guilty of a criminal offence and liable on conviction to a fine or imprisonment or both.

Why Pick Chimney? St. Nick Has Reasons

Why does Santa come down the chimney?

Of all the traditions connected with Santa, his unconventional mode of entry might seem the most puzzling. Surely the magical gift giver, who has the power to drive reindeer through the skies and who can cover the earth in a single night, could find an easier way to enter a house.

Like most of the lore of Christmas, Santa's choice of the chimney has several explanations.

For instance, legend has it that the original Santa, St. Nicholas, prevented three maidens with gifts of gold for a dowry. Meddling concerning his generosity, he tossed the gold down a chimney, in secret.

Another theory claims that Santa caught a goblin, who was the first to deliver gifts via a chimney. According to this legend, when the Vikings of Norway colonized the Yuletide or winter in their great halls, a mischievous feature of the creature was the appearance of the god-don Hertha in the fireplace. As her name indicates, Hertha was goddess of wealth and home, and most appropriately arrived by way of the chimney, to deliver her Yuletide gifts of good luck and good cheer.

Still another explanation takes a practical point of view. Homes of Northern Europe, claiming to be the New Year, used to coax children to help with the chores by saying, "Let's clean the hearth. St. Nicholas will soon be coming down the chimney."

The children willingly got to work, and then, says legend, a tradition was born. Even when he takes to helicopter or jet plane, Santa brings his gifts by way of the chimney.

HE PROTECTED ROBBERIES
Legend claims St. Nicholas was many, but they all relate in some way to his reputation for generosity. Paraphrasing, I doubt him for their patron, and robbers looked to him as their protector. In the Middle Ages, robbers were sometimes called knights or clerks of St. Nicholas says the New Book of Knowledge.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the Editor must be signed. Opinions expressed are those of the writer and are not necessarily endorsed by this newspaper. The Editor reserves the right to refrain from publishing material which might be considered offensive or in poor taste. Letters should be as brief as possible.

Dear Sir:

We would like to extend a warning to the people of the community concerning the form of an old sales trick that is now being worked in the area. It is one that could lose you a lot of money.

The first step is a long-distance phone call from a company selling a form of powdered skim milk. If you use more than two quarts of milk a day, they will introduce you to their product which you can get for about five cents per quart. We were told that this was made from cow's milk by a different process and that it was far superior to the normal powdered milk marketed in the stores.

The second step is a demonstration in your home. The demonstrator brings his own blender, mixer, and food grinder. He puts on a remarkable demonstration, making milk to drink a whipped topping for desserts, milkshakes, soup, juice, and so on. (Incidentally, our judgment was that this new product was far superior to the normal powdered milk.) The third step is the sales pitch which turns out to be for the milk at all but for the combination blender, mixer, and food grinder. The salesmen indicates that the average household across Canada gets two quarts of milk per day, which comes to roughly $18 per month for whole milk. If that $18 was given to the company each month for three years, he said they would supply us with 60 quarts a month and give us the machine free.

New, the first fallacy is that two quarts of whole milk per day, or 60 quarts per month, at 28 cents per quart works out to $16.80 and not to $18.

The second fallacy is that the comparison is false. If you sign up, you will be getting skim milk and not whole milk.

It is to the best that you can with limited means in an era of high money. If you want to save money by getting skim milk, but it even so. If you are prepared to spend more money in your local store. If you are prepared to spend $448.00 on such a machine as this and to the end down to skim milk for three years, then God bless you, but do it with your own eyes.

As a parent and critic of a four-year-old I spend many hours donating my time to activities which involve our local young people. There are many others who do the same. The youth of this town are indeed very fortunate to have so many people behind them, each one trying to do in making their young years prosperous and happy ones. There is not a single reason for anyone to have to seek thrills through vandalism and theft, a lesson that has so much to offer. Yet it seems to have become a common day occurrence.

Do the parents really know where their children are and what they are doing? It really makes me wonder!

I would like to offer my congratulations to the individual or individuals who so kindly destroyed our Christmas candles on the evening of December 13. This is surely the time of year to show "Goodwill towards Men". A young boy just extra time and spent his weekly allowance on a project which took months to prepare, yet he was able to enjoy his masterpiece for a few days because of some silly individual who had nothing better to do than go about town and put as and to Christmas ideas such as this.

It all began with the first cards in the 15th century, says the Encyclopedia Americana.

The earliest English cards were composed anonymously, perhaps by clergymen or court musicians. Simple tunes and strong rhythms were characteristics, and the musical form featured a refrain, to repeat before and after each stanza.

Words were written, generally, in the English vernacular or in "macaronic" form — a combination of English and Latin.

The first printed collection of cards appeared in 1511. It included the "Boar's Head Carol," still sung during Christmas dinner at Queen's College, Oxford, England.

Even then, however, the practice of passing on carols orally, from generation to generation, continued. Among these were carols in ballad form, such as "I Saw Three Ships" and "The Cherry Tree Carol."

Caroling fell into disrepute in the 17th century, and card singing was forbidden by the English Puritans. Those who continued America carried this disapproval with them.

After the Restoration in 1660, caroling was once again permitted and the custom slowly revived.

Some of the most popular carols date from the 18th and 19th centuries. These include "Jingle Bells," possibly by Francis Wade; "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," with words by Charles Wesley and music by Felix Mendelssohn; "Joy to the World," with words by Isaac Watts, music by George Frederick Handel.

Probably the most popular of all carols is the 16th century "Silent Night," with words by Joseph Mohr, the village priest of Heiligen, Austria.

Many stories are told about the way this carol came to be written. One legend says that on a snowy Christmas Eve in 1818, Father Mohr went to bless the newborn baby of a poor parishioner.

On that night he was so inspired by the beauty of the mother and child that he wrote the poem "Silent Night."

Carols Express Yule Joy, Echoing Across the Ages

Yuletide is a time of joy and peace. As the joyous season arrives, the vibrant sound of carols is heard in churches, at family gatherings, in groups going from house to house to celebrate with song.

Christmas Message— Hon. H. Strom, Premier of Alberta

I appreciate this opportunity to extend on behalf of your Provincial Government sincere and hearty Christmas greetings to each and every citizen of this Province.

Once again the day has come when we pause amid the rush and turmoil of life, to commemorate the birth of the Prince of Peace. Christ came to bring peace in our hearts. How can deny that this holy event has influenced the course of humanity more than any other in the long history of mankind.

No words of men can improve on the message voiced by the heavenly choirs when they heralded the birth of the Prince of Peace on the world's first Christmas Eve. They sang, "Peace on earth, good will towards men" and their song has echoed and re-echoed in the hearts of men throughout the world ever since. Even though the fulfillment of that ancient promise of Christ-mas may seem beyond our present reach, its ultimate realization is assured to all who recognize in a world that we ourselves will make.

In our keeping of Christmas, let us not forget those less fortunate than ourselves, the stranger in our midst, the homeless and friendless, the sick and afflicted, and all who are in need of understanding and a helping hand, whether they be here, or in other countries.

May all of you, in your homes, enjoy a blessed and joyful Christmas with your loved ones and your friends, and may I, personally, and on behalf of your Government, wish for each of you the best and happiest festive season you have ever known

Community Greet Joyful Christmas

Throughout this community,
the Christmas spirit finds expression, as once again, people are greeting this happy festival of holidays is a time of tradition.
A modern Christmas, just like a good old-fashioned Christmas, calls for gatherings of family and friends, with much merritment, fun and feasting. Gifts and Santa Claus express the spirit of the season, especially for the youngsters. Trees and other decorations, music and songs, lights and laughter set the scene. At a Christmas holy day, celebrated in church services and private devotions, Chris-mas gives with the spirit of good will, and "peace and good will to the world and prayer, for all mankind."

All of these traditions of Chris-mas are wrapped up in one.
The true spirit of Christmas is most happily expressed in the exchange of greetings. "Have a Merry Christmas." That says it all — the heartfelt hope for good things for others, the good feeling that prevails, the happiness of the season rising above problems and crises, the wish to give and to share all the holiday joys and blessings.

As a special custom that symbolizes the spirit of Christmas, the exchange of greetings takes many forms. "Merry Christmas" is said, person-to-person, with smiles of gladness, whenever friends and family meet. "Merry Christmas" is the message of millions of greeting cards which travel across the miles. And

"Merry Christmas" is the theme of today's edition of this newspaper, in which businessmen of the community offer their special greetings and good wishes, their words of appreciation to partners and friends.

Sharing Greetings

The custom of exchanging greetings at holiday time is older than Christmas. The custom of the Christmas greeting card, however, is a relatively new one.
Christmas cards originated about 250 years ago, in England. Despite this recent start, printed greetings quickly caught the public fancy and are today one of the most popular forms of Christmas holiday tradition.

Decorating Trees

The gaily decorated tree is much a part of Christmas as its counterpart in the trees adorned with colorful tinsel during the ancient feasts of the winter equal now.

This pagan custom of decorating evergreens became associated with Christmas observances, and legends link it to the birth of Jesus. One such story says that on the night of the Nativity, all the woodland trees burst into bloom and bore fruit.

Singing Carols

With voices lifted in harmony for "Silent Night," "The First Noel" and other beloved songs, today's carolers carry on a Christmas custom that originated centuries ago.

In the fourth century A.D., St.
Paul was praised with a musical poem in honor of the light for Christianity over the Rysian emperor Julian. Later in Greenland, legends of St. Rolf were set to music and sung at Chris-mas and the New Year.

St. Francis of Assisi led the villagers of Greccio in singing hymns of praise to the Christ Child when in the 12th century

he created a manger scene in his Italian town.

Tracing Santa

Santa's source, legend says, goes back to the fourth century when St. Nicholas, a bishop of Asia Minor, was noted for his generosity and gift-giving.

In some countries, St. Nicholas still retains his role as gift-bearer. His day is, traditionally, December 6th, and European children await him on St.
Nicholas Eve, December 5th.
A grey horse and a white donkey have each been credited with the honor of transporting him on his gift-giving journey.

Establishing Crib

Though legend says that St.
Francis of Assisi first introduced the Christmas crib in the 13th century, history records that the first manger scene was created by Pope Liberius in 304 A.D.

Everyone's sleeping and in merriment and joy, announcing to the world that it's Christmas! And it's our time to thank you, customers, for your patronage.

January Sales

Items on sale early in the new year are usually "true sales". The price of regular stock is greatly reduced and shoppers can often find a real bargain.

One of the annual good buys is on linens, especially sheets and pillow cases. 100% cotton sheets will be available at reasonable savings this year because the influx of permanent press sheets has reduced the demand for the plain ones. Some people find the permanent press sheets hot and sticky on a warm summer night. If so, stock up on all cotton ones while they are still available.

January is a good time to stock up on birthday and wedding gifts. You'll find reduced prices on china, crystal, glassware and pottery. Household accessories such as balmais, bathroom scales, cushions, kitchen utensils and electrical appliances will also be on sale.

Fall and winter clothing usually go on sale in January too. The best buys here are on basic items such as sweaters, linens, basic dresses and suits. The high style garments or accessories of this year may be passed next fall.

Children's parkas, boots, sweaters and trousers are good sale buys provided you can predict next year's size. Styles of children's clothes usually remain the same one year to the next, but you should look for good quality even on sale merchandise.

With all the "Sale," "50 Off" and "Save Now" signs it is tempting to do some impulse buying. Consider quality, usefulness and wearlife of any item before you buy it even if the price is reduced.

A bargain is no bargain at all if your purchase ends up on a hanger or tucked away on a shelf.

See you in the New Year!

Bringing the Tree

Christmas trees were first introduced to France in 1837, when Princess Helen of Mecklenburg married the Duke of Orleans and brought with her to Paris the Yule customs of her native country.

In spite of this and many later efforts to advance the cause of the Christmas tree, Parisians still prefer the earlier tradition, which says that gift exchange time for French adults is New Year's day.

Cities Put Up Evergreens

In 1900, citizens of Pasadena, Calif., decorated an evergreen on Mount Wilson as the tree of the city.

The year 1912 saw community Christmas trees erected in Madison Square, New York, N.Y., and on the Common in Boston.

Most, Independence Square in Philadelphia, Pa., showed off its first community tree in 1914. President Calvin Coolidge inaugurated the custom of a national community Christmas tree in Washington, D.C., when he was presented with a large evergreen by the University of Vermont, in 1923.
